

Garbed in Old Clothes, Lowell Tech Men March Through the Streets Bound for "Upstream Day" Festivities

BAND HEADS THE PROCESSION

Students and Alumni, Together With Faculty March to Depot

Special Train Carries Them to Scene of Big Sporting Events

One of the most novel parades seen in Lowell in many days took place this morning, when a line of several hundred Lowell Textile school alumni, instructors, and undergraduates marched from the grounds of the institution to the Middlesex street station, arrayed in old clothes of every description, and bound for the Martin Luther club grounds, where "Upstream Day" festivities were held. Promptly at 10.50 p. m., the time scheduled for the start of the procession, the United States Cartridge company band struck up a lively march air, and the column swung into Moody street. Following the music came the members of the alumni body and faculty, wearing felt skull caps striped with the school colors of crimson and black. Then a color guard bearing the American flag marched, and the undergraduates brought up the rear. Agate khaki trousers, strange hats scratched with mysterious legends, and odd and antique wearing apparel of various sorts, gave evidence of the fact that the affair was not of the "hill dress" variety. In fact, it was specified in the preliminary announcement of the event, that the most venerable attire of each student should be worn, as the

NEW YORK, May 21.—The battleship Tennessee arrived here today after a series of tests off the Maine coast. She was saluted by the guns of Fort Hamilton on her way to the navy yard.

BOSTON, May 21.—Rhode Island state college and Boston university were admitted to membership in the New England Intercollegiate Athletic association at the annual meeting today. Decision as to the place for holding the next track and field championship meeting, was put over until November.

SLIGHT INCREASE IN DEATH RATE

There was a slight increase in the local death rate this week. Thirty deaths were reported as against 25 last week and 22 the week before. The rates were 13.55, 11.53 and 13.31, respectively. There were nine deaths of children under five and six of these were of children under one. Infectious diseases caused two deaths, pneumonia one, measles one, and tuberculosis one.

Infectious diseases reported included: Diphtheria, three; measles, two, and tuberculosis, four.

CLEAN SWEEP FOR U. S. GOLFERS

HOVLAKE, England, May 21 (by the Associated Press).—American golfers here to compete in the British amateur championship tournament opening Monday, today defeated England in team competition. The Americans won all four foursomes and five of the eight singles matches.

The great gallery that followed the matches at the Royal Liverpool links found consolation for Britain's chances next week, however, in the defeat of Chick Evans, United States amateur champion, by Cyril Tolley, English champion, by 4 and 3. Tolley failed to qualify in the tournament in Roslyn,
I. L., last year, in which Evans regained his title.

Francis Outmet, Jesse P. Gullford and Frederick J. Wright, Massachusetts representatives on the American team, all won their matches.

Gang of Yeggs Hold Up Freight Train for Half Hour and Carry Off Silks, Shoes, Etc., Worth $70,000

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 21.—Twenty masked and armed men held up a freight train on the Sanborn branch of the New York Central railroad, near North Tonawanda early today and carried away silks, shoes, clothing, automobile tires and other freight estimated to be worth $70,000. The train was held for half an hour, half the bandits covering the crew and railroad detectives who were on the train as guards, while the others loaded the goods into six motor trucks. The bandits headed for Buffalo with their plunder.

No shots were fired by the bandits while the train was being robbed.
The first of the outlaws appeared while the train was moving at reduced speed up a grade north of Sanborn. Two of them jumped on the running board of the engine and pointing revolvers at the fireman and engineer, ordered them to stop the train.

As the locomotive slowed up, the other bandits swarmed over the train, covering the remainder of the crew and the detectives.

The thieves worked leisurely but methodically, in stripping the train of its most valuable freight. Seventeen cars were opened, but only a small amount of goods was taken from each. The leader of the bandits directed operations from the top of a car in the centre of the train.
The train crew reported the robbery at Tonawanda and a general police message was sent out to all towns and cities along the line.

CONDITION IS STILL SERIOUS

Commissioner Salmon Not Yet Off Dangerous List at St. John's Hospital

The condition of Commissioner John F. Salmon, who was seriously injured on Thursday evening's auto crash in Wamesit, was reported slightly improved at St. John's hospital at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon. The commissioner spent a comfortable day but his condition is still considered serious.

Wilfred J. Achin, the driver of the touring car which was smashed in the accident, was arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this morning on a charge of manslaughter. His case was continued to June 2 in order that an inquest report may be made in the interim.

Achin pleaded not guilty to the charge and was bailed in the sum of $2000 which was furnished by Representative Henry Achin. Anthony G.
Kelley, the Tewksbury officer who arrested the defendant and who is the complainant in the charge, was recognized in the usual sum.

Commissioner Salmon was today passing through the critical period of his injuries. If he succeeds in passing through this evening, it is believed his chances for recovery will be very favorable.

The condition of the other victims of the accident was considerably improved today and it was expected that Miss Corinne Ferrault, who had a few contusions of the head, will be discharged before evening. Mrs. Wil-

Four Injured In Boston Explosion

BOSTON, May 21.—Four persons were injured, two of them possibly fatally, as the result of an explosion and fire on Cooper street, in the North End today. The explosion blew out the front of the store in a five story building owned by Joseph Lansella. Hurry Stearns and R. A. Bromberg, who were in the store, were cut and burned and are in a critical condition at a hospital. Joseph McCray of Malden, a passerby was slightly injured and Charles Carr, a fireman, was cut by glass.

Six Held For Murder of Sailor

PORTLAND, Me., May 21.—Six men were held on the charge of murder today at the request of the county attorney, it being alleged by the state that they were members of a party of 11 who boarded the schooner Mary W. # PRESIDENT AND MRS. HARDING HAD BRILLIANT GARDEN PARTY

Over 1000 Guests on Lawn Representing Washington Society—Mrs. Bergdoll in Style Like Russian

(Special to The Sun)
WASHINGTON, May 21.—The official summer season opened here this week with a big lawn party at the White House, much after the fashion in which President and Mrs. Wilson entertained before ill health of the president compelled them to abandon all formal affairs. But it doesn't hit the nail exactly on the head to call a White House garden party formal. To be sure there is a degree of official formality on such an occasion, but in cordial hospitality, friendly greetings and a general air of good fellowship, regardless of political affiliations, a garden party throws indoor entertaining completely in the shade. Take this week, for instance. The day was perfect as far as weather was concerned.
The hours were from 5 to 7 just when the sun was throwing the great elms and oaks of the White House grounds into shadows on the lawn. Gay little marquee tents of scarlet and white were scattered about under trees and beyond the spot where President and Mrs. Harding received the 1000 guests.

The Marine band played almost continuously. Its brilliant full dress uniform of scarlet and much gold lace, standing out sharply against the background of green trees. The big fountain splashed in the sunlight and the gay dresses of the women added to the beauty of the scene. And the men?
Well, there was no dearth of men, but they came dressed all the way from silk toppers to straw hats; from cutaway and frock coats to just everyday business suits. Now and then a white flannel suit and canvas shoes came down the line, but the naval men have not yet donned their summer white uniforms. And 56 year old Chauncy Depew was there looking as fresh as when in the senate many years ago. Members of the cabinet and diplomatic corps wore their top hats and the women accompanying them were in their best bib and tucker, but a number of senators and members of congress came down from the REV. FR. O'CONNOR AGAIN

Will Lecture in St. Patrick's School Hall on Africa and Ireland

Rev. Thaddeus O'Connor, who lectured recently in the Opera House on Ireland, will deliver a lecture in the school hall in Suffolk street next Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's parish. Rev. Fr. O'Connor has been a missionary priest in Africa for seven years and has prepared a number of slides showing conditions in that continent and in his lecture on Tuesday evening he will present these views and tell his experience among the savage tribes in Africa. Known as "the white man's grave," this lecture is said to be very interesting and will doubtless attract a large audience from every part of the city.

On Sunday night, May 22, Rev. Fr.
O'Connor will deliver his lecture on Ireland in the same hall, also under the auspices of the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's parish. As everybody who attended the Opera House lecture on May 15 was delighted with his lecture, there will undoubtedly be a rush for tickets on this occasion. This lecture will also be for the benefit of the Irish Relief fund. Fr.
O'Connor has consented to give the lecture in gratitude to Rev. Fr. Keenan for many acts of courtesy.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES

Lowell Post, American Legion, General Order No. 1 Went to Printers Today

"General Order No. 1" of American Legion, Lowell post 57, which conveys instructions for the ceremonies of Memorial day, went to the printers this morning, and 1700 copies of the document will be sent out to world war veterans on Monday. The order, dated May 17, is marked as given out from local headquarters.

In the first paragraph it is stated that "the graves of all comrades in the various cemeteries will be decorated in the morning of Sunday, May 22, by the Memorial day committee." Paragraph 2 reads: "In the afternoon the comrades will assemble at Memorial hall at 2.15 p. m. to participate with the G. A. R. in the Memorial services at the First Congregational church." Third, "As the American Legion post of world war veterans is to act as escort to S. P. V. and also take part in the ceremonies at the cemeteries, all comrades will assemble at high school annex hall at 12.15
p. m. Formation will be taken at 12.15, and the column will immediately take up the march."

The command will be reviewed by His Honor the mayor and the municipal council at city hall. Proceeding to St. Patrick's cemetery, services will be held at the soldiers' lot. On the completion of the ceremonies at that place, the Edison cemetery will be visited and services held at soldiers' lot.
In instructions relative to the Grand Army parade, the order says:
"Ceremonies completed at the cemeteries, the American Legion post will proceed direct to the South common to participate in the parade of the posts of the Grand Army of the Republic. After passing in review and the main body disbanded, the command will at once be dismissed." Under the head "In General," the document reads, "All provisions of the order of whatever nature, will be strictly adhered to, subject, however, to unforeseen circumstances causing change. The carriers with disabled comrades and clergy will report to Eugene Loupret at 12.30 p. m.
The band will report to the officer of the day at Memorial hall promptly at 12.40 p. m. All comrades not able to walk are requested to report to Joseph M. Dinnane, 206 Bradley building, telephone 1043.

The St. Patrick's choir quartet will report at 1.30 p. m. to render appropriate selections at the lot." The uniform of the day will be the regular service, adds the order, but civilians will be worn in lieu of uniform, the committee states, urging that all war veterans participate, whether in uniform or otherwise. The order bears the names of the officers of the post, and of the committee. At the bottom of the last page, a notice reads, "Don't forget our poppy days, Saturday, May 28, and Monday, May 30." William Rogan heads the committee.

Hats have ways of their own this season. A model from Paris turns its brown Milan brim up at a startling angle in front and parades at nearly the front top of the crown a huge ribbon bow, the ends of which hug the crown from side to side.

Washing Vests
Vests can be washed in the same way that faces are—use warm soapsuds.
They should be pinned out on something flat to dry, however.

FOR TASTE
If you object to the strong taste of cabbage, hold the head in hot water and rinse in cold before the actual cooking process begins.

FOR FISH
Fish can be sealed very easily if put into boiling water for a minute before the sealing process begins.

Park Department Comfort Station On the South Common to Be Opened Early in June

NEW COMFORT STATION ON SOUTH COMMON SOON TO BE OPENED

One of the prettiest buildings erected for municipal use in this city for some time is the new comfort station near the wading pool on the South common which has just recently been completed and which will be opened early next month by the park department.

The building is a one-story affair with a hip roof. The exterior finish is of stucco and the interior is of hellerope construction. The building is divided into two sections, one for men and one for women and there is an entrance to each section. There is also an entrance in the rear. The men's section contains five urinals and three water closets and a lavatory, while on the women's side there are five closets and a lavatory. Between the two sections is a plumbing space where repairs may be made easily and there is room for the matrons and another for the male attendants. A storage room is also provided.

The floor of the building is of granitic construction and is pitched toward the center. A pretty touch is given the upper part of the building by several dormer windows and a small tower on the roof. The roof is finished in red. A small electric light is placed over each entrance and the interior is electrically lighted.

The building measures 25 feet and six inches by 31 feet and 10 inches. It was designed by Henry L. Bourke and built by Frederick P. Meloy. The cost was approximately $10,000.

The land about the building has been graded and walks leading to each entrance have been laid out. Posts arranged in a circular fashion about the building add another pretty touch to its surroundings.

ANNUAL MAY PARTY
The annual May party under the auspices of the Silver Tips was held at Grange hall, Draught Centre Thursday night and the affair was largely attended. The decoration consisting of Japanese lanterns and red, white and yellow streamers were very pretty.
The committee in charge of the party consisted of the following: William Shen, president; Mary McShea, treasurer; Jennie Brady, assistant treasurer; Catherine McCann, general manager; Marcelle Shea, assistant; and Helen Shea, door director.

LEPTOVERS
Even baked beans can be part of a very good salad. Peel ripe lems-tees, take out the inside, chop it finely and mix it with baked beans.
Salt and pepper to taste. Pour over it a little French dressing.

SETH TANNER

What's become of the little brown shawl that used to hang on a nail on every back kitchen door? Many stat, but few faith.

LUCKY STRIKE cigarette

Page, and a large staff of waiters and cooks were on hand. The "fats" were brought from Lowell in motor trucks during the morning. The dinner menu was as follows: Roast sirloin of beef, mashed potatoes, string beans, banana fritters, several varieties of cold meats, macaroni and cheese, rolls and butter, ice cream and coffee. Cigars were passed out at the termination of the meal. "Lots of seconds" was the slogan of the committee in charge of the meals, and the hungry picknickers had plenty to satisfy the healthy appetites induced by the long march through Lowell's business section, the train ride, and the sports in the open air.

Mayor Guest of Honor

Mayor Perry D. Thompson, guest of honor, and sole speaker of the day, was introduced after the cigars had been lighted, and delivered a brief speech in his usual happy vein. His Honor was unable to be present when the activities opened in the morning, due to a city council meeting scheduled for 10 a. m. He reached the scene, however, in time for the dinner and the main sporting program, which occupied the afternoon hours. After music by the band, there was one of the big features of the day, the cigar rush, directed by R. R. Sleeper.
Promptly at 2 o'clock, the hour set for this gladiatorial event, a bunch of many hundred cigarettes were thrown into the air, while the student body madly scrambled for these prizes.
More cigarettes were ruined than smoked, which would no doubt bring delight to the souls of the Anti-Nicotine leaguers. A baseball game—Seniors vs. Instructors—then held the attention of the crowd. This was also

Jack and Georges Mentally Primed for Title Bout

BY JOHNNY KILBANE
Featherweight Champion
Both Dempsey and Carpenter will be in the best possible shape mentally for the Jersey battle July 2.

But when the show is over, if my judgment is correct, 25 per cent or more of the mental preparation of one of these fighters or the other will be gone. This will be due to a knockout.

My own experience in the ring has been that a knockout gives a fighter the same kind of "unconscious fear" that a person once rescued from falling off a high building has when he ventures close to the edge a second time.

It's always on his mind—the sensation of that stinging wallop to the chin that laid him low, and in his efforts to guard against a repetition of that unpleasant sensation, he loses the take-a-chance spirit that has brought many a ring victory.

I say both principals will be in the best of mental shape for the Jersey go because they won't be bothered by that K. O. sensation. Dempsey hasn't hit the floor since Jim Flynn knocked him out in the first round in 1917 and his confidence has been boosted accordingly in the time since by scores of knockouts, including a return fight with Flynn that ended with the big Irishman dropping in the first.

Carpenter is even better in this respect than is Dempsey for it's been almost a dozen years since the Frenchman has been felled for the count. (Gloria, back in 1909, was the last man to drop the champion.)

It's true that Georges Carpenter has lost several fights since that time, but he was always standing up fighting at the end of the last round and this kind of defeat is not disheartening to a man. It makes a better fighter out of him, if anything, for he determines he'll regain his position—and he usually does in the second try.

Poor mental condition loses many a fight for a man before he enters the ring. But it won't slow up the Dempsey-Carpenter battle, because both men are mentally primed.

THE TWILIGHT LEAGUE

South Ends Defeat Broadway A. C., Four to One on South Common

In a long-drawn-out game, marred by more or less arguing, the South Ends defeated the Broadway A.C., 4 to 1, on the South common last evening in the Twilight League series. The game went almost seven innings, but with one man out in the second half of the seventh the game was called because of darkness. The score at that time stood 7 to 1 in favor of the South Ends, but inasmuch as the inning could not be completed, the score reverted to the last of the sixth, 4 to 1.

The game was a little late getting underway and it was after 8:15 when it ended. In order to get in seven innings of baseball, the Twilight games must be started promptly at 8.

Frank Garrity was on the mound for the South Ends and pitched all ball in every inning but the seventh when the Broadway got to him for four hits. He was accorded great support by the field. Scully also pitched good ball for the Broadway but his support at times was of the rugged variety.

The South Ends got three men in the first inning when three men were passed and one of them, White, came home on Breen's grounder. Another came to the South End boys in the second when Crowe hit safely, was advanced on outs by Dillon and Garrity and came home on Harrington's grounder.

There was no scoring in the third, but in the fourth each team got a tally. The fifth was also sterile but the sixth brought a fourth run to the South Ends. Then came the seventh with three runs on each side, but in the final score these did not count. The score:

Georges Carpenter At His Training Camp

BY ALICE ROHE
MANHASSET, L. I., May 21.—Is it that a man may not "rester tranquille" in his own home?

"Mals non"—that is, it is not—when the man happens to be Georges Carpenter and his home is also his quarters for training for his fight with Jack Dempsey.

It was interesting to visit the Beau Brummel of the prize ring "chez lui" to meet him in the very heart of his new American home. For Georges is delighted with Manhasset and his tranquil farmhouse.

I met Carpenter surrounded by a bodyguard composed of Francois Descamps, his manager; Capt. Thierry Mallet, his American representative; Gus Wilson, his trainer; and Paul Journe, his sparring partner.

"It is good to be here—but I chose this place because I thought it was so far away—and you see—" Carpenter pointed to the endless parade of autos, many of which stopped curiously.

"You see, there are always ladies in the cars—they are interested," I commented. "What do you think of the growing interest of women in the prize fight—of this particular one?"

"But why not—it is a classic sport—boxing—ladies appreciate classic art—and Georges said it in American—good American, too."

Spoken American.

Even Francois Descamps, who with Carpenter had been able in the past to retire behind a barrier of "Je ne comprends pas," is speaking American this season.

"A delightful place this for a home," repeated Georges. "Such splendid air—a great place for a training camp. And what a place for a petite Jacqueline and Madame."

"Jamaica! Jamaica! Here it is all for—the business and women—no nothing—Madame Carpenter—she stay at home in Paris with the so beautiful baby—where she belong—here it is work, work, work!"

Georges Reads

"But what about that load of books—you read a lot?" I asked.

"Mais oui—Yes certainly," said Carpenter. "I must read—"

"What kind of books?"

Descamps again came to the rescue. "Classics—all classics—no exciting romances—what you say novels—Jamaica!"

Even in his literature Carpenter must "rester tranquille."

Carpenter, tall, handsome, looked more like a young college boy home for the summer vacation than like the heavyweight champion of Europe.

Three Ring Experts May Name Heavy Champ

Tex Rickard, promoter of the Dempsey-Carpenter title match, at Jersey City, July 2, plans to name a winner in the battle, in spite of the fact that the New Jersey law prohibits a referee's decision.

His plan is simple: He will pick three judges who, in case both fighters are on their feet at the end of the 12 rounds, will decide who had the best of the argument. Rickard expects Dempsey and Carpenter to agree to this idea and says wagers on the fight can be paid according to the decision handed down.

The Big Three

He has already practically decided on his trio of judges:

Jim Corbett, former heavyweight champion of the world.

Jim Jeffries, also a former heavyweight champ.

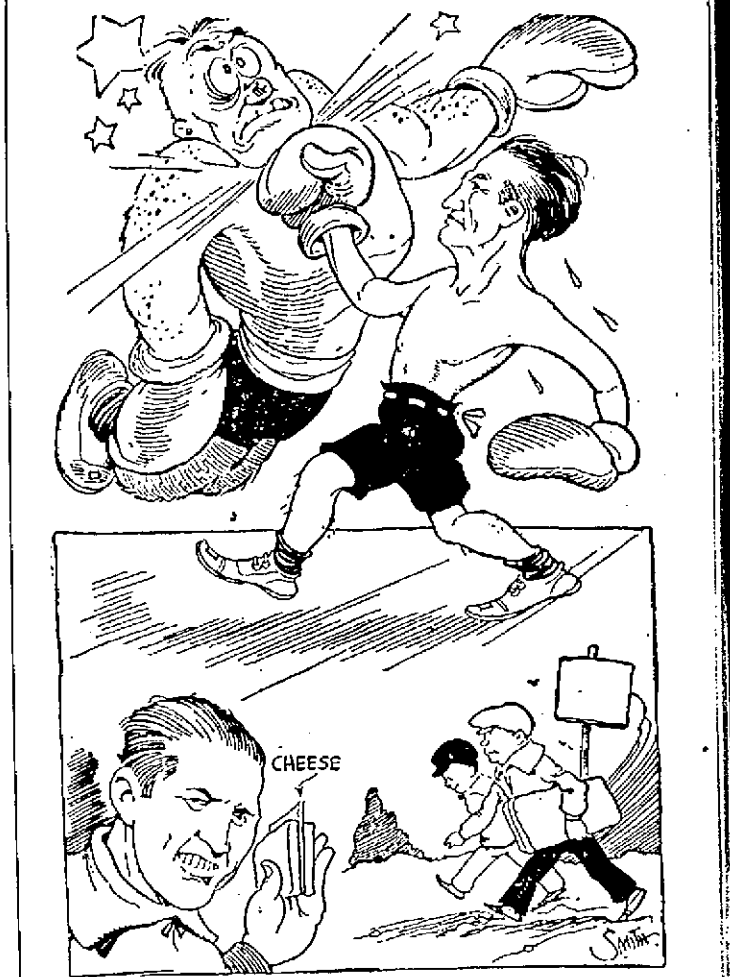

Leroi Lonchete, foremost follower of boxing in England.

Rickard feels that Jersey officials cannot object to this plan. He feels certain that some decision will be necessary in order to settle wagers. The contest is, first of all, a sporting proposition and as such is likely to be the biggest betting occasion in the history of the ring arena.

Interesting Sidelight

Carpentier Fights Longest Fight at Age of 14

IN THE EARLY DAYS CARPENTIER KNOCKED OFF MANY MUCH HEAVIER FIGHTERS, BOUGHT CRACKERS AND CHEESE WITH THE PROCEEDS OF ONE BOUT, AND DID A LOT OF HIKING

By HAL COCHRAN
Chapter 2
Georges Carpenter has come to the United States from France to fight Jack Dempsey for the heavy-weight title less known than any fighter who ever came into a world championship fight. Hal Cochran, in this story of Carpentier's life, written for The Sun, tells of the struggles of the one-time mine pit boy in rising to the light-heavy-weight championship of the world.

Times and had all the best of the argument.

This bout, incidentally, was the second with Salmon. Carpentier had won the first on a foul, but was not satisfied with that sort of a win. He himself insisted on the second scrap.

Got Cheese Money

In spite of defeat, in the 15-round go, there was a bright side for Carpentier and Descamps. Georges drew down about $5 for his share of the proceeds and this came in handy for crackers and cheese. Little money rattled in their jeans in those days. They were going from camp to camp on foot, picking up grub change as they went along.

In the closing days of that year Carpentier won a six-round battle with Leprie, a much-touted boxer, fought 6 and 20-round draws with LeGrand, another fighter who stood high in battle circles.

He had now passed the 15-year mark and remarkable development had taken place. His weight held him in the flyweight class, however.

Early in 1909 Georges turned the tables on his previous two-time opponent, getting a decision over Salmon in 10 rounds. Shortly after this he was matched with Gloria, the demon of the day in France. For five rounds Carpentier looked a winner. Then a sudden blow was slipped over and Georges went down and out. It was the first time he had taken the count.

String of Knockouts

In the following days Carpentier knocked out Lamoine, in 5 rounds; Watnick, in 1 round; Dorgeville, in 11; and Lamoine, in 15. And he won from LeGrand in 15; Lamoine, in 10; Chevalier, in 6; Roger, in 5; Dorgeville, in 10; LeGrand, in 15, and Gallard, in 6.

He then grew into the bantam-weight class, towards the close of 1909 and fought a 20-round draw with Paul Tili. Tili had beaten Gloria, who knocked Georges out and, anxious to down Tili, Carpentier was matched with him again.

(The next story carries Carpentier through many victories in the feather-weight and light-weight divisions.)

BY HAL COCHRAN
Chapter 2
In the first year of fighting, Georges Carpentier had occasion for very little test of endurance. He had developed a flashy, dancing style of battling, and seldom found it necessary to stay in the ring longer than four rounds. His mazy right mitt usually found an opening early in the bout.

Early in 1908, after scoring his first real knockout, against Molereau, a countryman, in three rounds, he was matched to meet a jockey by the name of Salmon. It was a case of a stepladder sort of track; a high jump, broad jump, water jump.

High board fences screen the obstacle run from the road; also the outdoor ring.

"I do not want to be watched," said Georges. "It is not that I am mystified, but I like to be alone."

"But it makes him nervous to have people looking at him when he is in training," said Descamps. "We are not running side shows—we are here for serious business—and that business we stick to."

His Longest Fight

At any rate the bout was staged—scheduled as a 20-round affair. It took Carpentier through his longest fight, thus far, and cleared up all suspicion that he would run out of wind, in a long contest, because of his peppiness from the first bell.

Georges stuck it out for 15 rounds and quit then, only after his backers had tossed a towel in the ring. Salmon had knocked him down many times again.

CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

New England Intercollegiate Games Held Today—New Records Expected

CAMBRIDGE, May 21.—Preliminaries passed, the New England Intercollegiate track and field championships came up for their annual decision today. To the 100 athletes who proved their right to advanced competition in the trials of yesterday were added two untried fields in the 100 and 200 yard runs as the aggregation out of which would come in 14 events the individual titleholders of the year and the points to determine the winning college.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology, on the grounds of which the games were held, was well on the way to repeating recent successes at these meetings with 21 qualifiers, as many as both its nearest opponents, Brown and Williams, together. Boston College, according to old New England laurels to those gained at the eastern intercollegiate a week ago, was favored with the ability of more prospective winners, including in the 100 and 200 yard races the latter two colleges. Bowdoin came through strong but without chance to win.

Ideal weather favored the games today. New records were considered likely in several events.

Interesting figures in the meeting were the Duke twins, Ray and Richard, of Bates college. Ray, winner of the international two-mile race at the Penn relay carnival, was the outstanding runner in that event, and Richard, captain of his team, was an entrant in the mile.

George Dandrow of Tech loomed as a likely high individual scorer of the meet and a double winner, his throw of the hammer and discus which out-distanced all other competitors yesterday, standing as the minimum of his championship effort today. Jake Driscoll and J. J. Sullivan, wearing the eagle of Boston college, were considered other possible double winners, but each subject to racing competition that might force him to bow first place.

There is something wrong with the day during which several honors aren't registered in the big leagues.

Large Lithographs, One

Showing Georges Standing

Over Beckett, Adorn Walls

MANHASSET, N. Y., May 21.—Large colored lithographs adorning the walls of the indoor gymnasium in Georges Carpentier's training camp are among the most interesting of contrivances employed by Manager Desamps and Trainer Wilson to aid in bringing the challenger into condition and keeping him there.

On one wall is a large poster showing the Frenchman standing in triumph over Joe Beckett at the knockout. At the other side of the ring, Carpentier is shown after the victory being hoisted to the shoulders of admirers. Around the walls are other pictures of the European champion. Adorned, he is not to be allowed to forget the slogan of the camp which is that he is the greatest boxer in the world and sure to be the champion after July.

The "psychology" employed by the shrewd Desamps since Carpentier entered the ring as a boy under his direction has been one of the stock legends of boxing. It will be played to the limit in the preparation for the coming battle at Jersey City.

Carpentier left France at fighting weight and in excellent condition. Desamps declared, and the main function of the next five weeks will be to prevent him from going stale physically and to maintain that state of mind which will send him in against Dempsey confident of victory.

TO ERECT OBSERVATION POST ON COMMON

The park commission at a special meeting late yesterday afternoon voted to establish an observation post on the South common where special police officers may summon police aid by telephone to surround any individual or gang acting in a disorderly or annoying manner on any part of the common. For some years past the common has been the hangout at intervals of undesirable who have been a source of annoyance to children using the common as a playground as well as to other individuals.

The men assigned to the new observation station on the common which is about to be opened will be given the powers of special police officers and one of their duties will be to keep the place clear of undesirable. They will receive the full co-operation of regular members of the police department and with the aid of the proposed observation post and telephone system, the details of which will be worked out later, they should have little difficulty in keeping the common free of disturbers.

Ell B. Hart and George M. Welch were chosen as caretakers of the new observation station and these men will also be appointed special police officers. Mary A. Walsh and Ellen M. Cavanaugh were chosen attendants on the women's side of the station. There will be attendants on duty daily from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

The commission also assigned supervisors for the various playgrounds this summer as follows:

South common, Helen Castles, Olga Shay, Mildred Cleveite, Blanche Boyie.

North common, Natalie McGuade, Charlotte Brown, Rose Brown, Ruby C. Blain, Mae Sullivan, Arthur Sullivan, Chambers street, Mildred Collety, Lucy Desmond, Gertrude Lyons, Patrick Mullane.

Greenhalge school, Muriel Leach, Helen Munn, Alice D. Gallagher, Edwin Markham.

Franklin school, Lillian Moran, Anna Portman.

Beldere park, Gladys Hill, Louise E. Thompson.

Elliot school baths, Charles McCabe. Unassigned, May Kelly, Mary Dowd.

The playground teachers will receive a slight increase over their wages of last year. The men supervisors will receive $150 for the season's work, the chief women supervisors $135, and other women supervisors $120. The man supervisor for the South common will be chosen later.

The park commission hopes to open a playground in the Moody street district, efforts now being under way to secure suitable grounds. The playground at Beldere park will be for small children only and baseball playing will not be allowed.

Supt. Kernan was authorized to arrange for a demonstration on the South common some evening next week of a graphophone amplifier similar to that used at the inaugural of President Harding. It was also announced that users of the municipal bath house this summer will be provided with neck holders for their lockers and also containers for their valuables.

PULLS TRIPLE PLAY UNASSISTED

George Smiley, centerfielder of the Knoxville, Tenn., baseball team of the

Appalachian league, recently pulled the same sensation that made Bill Wambach, Cleveland second sacker, a hero of the 1920 world series.

A triple play, unassisted! Smiley was playing close in, near the Keystone sack. There were runners on first and second. The man at bat did one to him where he stood (indicated by arrow) for out number 1. Smiley then stepped on second base before the runner, who had started for third, could return for out number 2. Out number 3, the completion of the play, came when he tagged the runner coming from first.

"RABBIT" IS RUNNER-UP

Jumps From Tenth to Second in Batting—Cobb Gains in American

CHICAGO, May 21.—"Rabbit" Maranville of Pittsburgh was on a batting rampage during the past week and went from tenth place to second to become the runner-up to Roger Hornsby, the St. Louis star, who is topping the National league regulars in batting despite the fact that he fell into a slump. Maranville's average is .368, compared with .356 last week, while the national champion of last year dropped from .471 to .427.

George Kelly of the Giants, who is competing with Babe Ruth of the Yankees in the major league race for home run honors, is only one fourth place below the fact that he fell into a slump. Maranville's average is .368, compared with .356 last week, while the national champion of last year dropped from .471 to .427.

Other leading batters are: Schulte, St. Louis, .354; Harber, Chicago, .354; Hargrave, Cincinnati, .354; Johnston, Brooklyn, .351; McHenry, St. Louis, .341; Miller, Philadelphia, .340; Casey, Pittsburgh, .343; Deal, Chicago, .341; Kelly, New York, .340.

The averages are of those players who have taken part in more than 15 games, and include games of last Wednesday.

A number of surprises are in store for the American league battery in the next few days. Ty Cobb, pilot of the Tigers, is back at his old tricks with the willow, and promises to make things interesting for one of his out-riders, Harry Heilmann, who is leading the league with an average of .454. Cobb's mark is .392. George Sisler, the St. Louis star, is coming fast and has moved from 37th to fourth place in the past two weeks. His average is now .350, one point behind Stephenson, the Alabama university star, who is playing second base for the world's champion Cleveland Indians. Bit Falk, White Sox outfielder, who is declared to be the best of the league, is showing considerable attention by his slugging. Falk went from 253 a week ago to 347 and is tied with Williams of St. Louis for 10th place. Babe Ruth had a fairly good week, bagging three circuit drives. Harris added a brace of bases to his stolen base record, and is showing the way with a .375.

CASES HEARD IN THE POLICE COURT

William J. Ryan, who was arraigned in police court today, charged with drunkenness, drew a five months suspended sentence to the house of correction, and a slitting from Judge Enright, who warned him that another dereliction will mean a jail term at East Cambridge. The arraigning officer testified that the defendant was driving a car while intoxicated, but clemency was urged on the court in view of the fact that Ryan has six children.

William Smith, a Camp Haven soldier, was held for the military authorities. He was charged with drunkenness, after having, according to testimony, had an altercation with a storekeeper in which Smith wielded a knife, and the business man a baseball bat. TO ERECT OBSERVATION POST ON COMMON

The park commission at a special meeting late yesterday afternoon voted to establish an observation post on the South common where special police officers may summon police aid by telephone to surround any individual or gang acting in a disorderly or annoying manner on any part of the common. For some years past the common has been the hangout at intervals of undesirable who have been a source of annoyance to children using the common as a playground as well as to other individuals.

The men assigned to the new observation station on the common which is about to be opened will be given the powers of special police officers and one of their duties will be to keep the place clear of undesirable. They will receive the full co-operation of regular members of the police department and with the aid of the proposed observation post and telephone system, the details of which will be worked out later, they should have little difficulty in keeping the common free of disturbers.

Ell B. Hart and George M. Welch were chosen as caretakers of the new observation station and these men will also be appointed special police officers. Mary A. Walsh and Ellen M. Cavanaugh were chosen attendants on the women's side of the station. There will be attendants on duty daily from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

The commission also assigned supervisors for the various playgrounds this summer as follows:

South common, Helen Castles, Olga Shay, Mildred Cleveite, Blanche Boyie.

North common, Natalie McGuade, Charlotte Brown, Rose Brown, Ruby C. Blain, Mae Sullivan, Arthur Sullivan, Chambers street, Mildred Collety, Lucy Desmond, Gertrude Lyons, Patrick Mullane.

Greenhalge school, Muriel Leach, Helen Munn, Alice D. Gallagher, Edwin Markham.

Beldere park, Gladys Hill, Louise E. Thompson.

Elliot school baths, Charles McCabe. Unassigned, May Kelly, Mary Dowd.

The playground teachers will receive a slight increase over their wages of last year. The men supervisors will receive $150 for the season's work, the chief women supervisors $135, and other women supervisors $120. The man supervisor for the South common will be chosen later.

The park commission hopes to open a playground in the Moody street district, efforts now being under way to secure suitable grounds. The playground at Beldere park will be for small children only and baseball playing will not be allowed.

Supt. Kernan was authorized to arrange for a demonstration on the South common some evening next week of a graphophone amplifier similar to that used at the inaugural of President Harding. It was also announced that users of the municipal bath house this summer will be provided with neck holders for their lockers and also containers for their valuables.

PULLS TRIPLE PLAY UNASSISTED

Appalachian league, recently pulled the same sensation that made Bill Wambach, Cleveland second sacker, a hero of the 1920 world series.

A triple play, unassisted! Smiley was playing close in, near the Keystone sack. There were runners on first and second. The man at bat did one to him where he stood (indicated by arrow) for out number 1. Smiley then stepped on second base before the runner, who had started for third, could return for out number 2. Out number 3, the completion of the play, came when he tagged the runner coming from first.

"RABBIT" IS RUNNER-UP

Jumps From Tenth to Second in Batting—Cobb Gains in American

CHICAGO, May 21.—"Rabbit" Maranville of Pittsburgh was on a batting rampage during the past week and went from tenth place to second to become the runner-up to Roger Hornsby, the St. Louis star, who is topping the National league regulars in batting despite the fact that he fell into a slump. Maranville's average is .368, compared with .356 last week, while the national champion of last year dropped from .471 to .427.

George Kelly of the Giants, who is competing with Babe Ruth of the Yankees in the major league race for home run honors, is only one fourth place below the fact that he fell into a slump. Maranville's average is .368, compared with .356 last week, while the national champion of last year dropped from .471 to .427.

Other leading batters are: Schulte, St. Louis, .354; Harber, Chicago, .354; Hargrave, Cincinnati, .354; Johnston, Brooklyn, .351; McHenry, St. Louis, .341; Miller, Philadelphia, .340; Casey, Pittsburgh, .343; Deal, Chicago, .341; Kelly, New York, .340.

The averages are of those players who have taken part in more than 15 games, and include games of last Wednesday.

A number of surprises are in store for the American league battery in the next few days. Ty Cobb, pilot of the Tigers, is back at his old tricks with the willow, and promises to make things interesting for one of his out-riders, Harry Heilmann, who is leading the league with an average of .454. Cobb's mark is .392. George Sisler, the St. Louis star, is coming fast and has moved from 37th to fourth place in the past two weeks. His average is now .350, one point behind Stephenson, the Alabama university star, who is playing second base for the world's champion Cleveland Indians. Bit Falk, White Sox outfielder, who is declared to be the best of the league, is showing considerable attention by his slugging. Falk went from 253 a week ago to 347 and is tied with Williams of St. Louis for 10th place. Babe Ruth had a fairly good week, bagging three circuit drives. Harris added a brace of bases to his stolen base record, and is showing the way with a .375.

World's Model Highway—May Be Built in Indiana

DETROIT, May 21.—The ideal section of highway—a model of beauty and efficiency in highway construction—may be located in northwestern Indiana, about 35 miles south of Chicago.

A. F. Bement, vice president and secretary of the Lincoln Highway association, is here with the advice that negotiations are on for the construction of this ideal road on the Lincoln highway between Dyer and Schererville, in Lake county, Indiana.

Site Requirements

That this spot will finally be selected in all ways seems assured by the fact that it conforms to the specifications demanded by the engineers in charge of the project. These requirements were:

(1) The section of Lincoln highway must be on an established state highway, where there will be assurance of no change of route in the future.

(2) It must be as central as possible to the country, easily accessible, where the greatest amount of normal travel will traverse it.

(3) Its natural conditions must be such as not to make the construction of the ideal section too difficult.

(4) It must be located where a wide right of way already exists and where the local authorities and organizations will co-operate toward its development.

The Indiana state highway commission, reports Bement, has already entered into a contract with the Lincoln Highway association which will provide, if the ideal section is built in Indiana, for a contribution by the state to enable the lengthening of that section to approximately two miles. Costs of the entire project will run far above this figure.

The "Ideal Section"

An idea of the vastness of the undertaking may be had from the following points the technical committee has decided upon including in the construction of the ideal section:

(1) The ideal section shall be at least 100 feet wide.
(2) It shall be well lighted.
(3) Curves shall be eliminated as far as possible; those necessary to have a radius of not less than 1000 feet.
(4) All grade crossings shall be eliminated.

(5) Comfort stations, park sites and camp sites are also planned for intervals along the road.
(6) All wires shall be underground.
(7) No advertising signs will be allowed, and signs of direction and distance will be uniform.

AUTO TALK

AIDS TO RECOVER CAR

Know your car, so you may give the police a thorough description if it is stolen. The engine, chassis and body numbers are part of this description.

HUNDRED FREE CAMPS

There are more than 100 free municipal automobile camps along the National park-to-park highway, which connects the 12 national parks of the west. Many of these furnish water and cooking facilities without charge.

BETTER RIDING SOON

Fifty hundred miles of highways in Mexico will be improved this year, according to the plans of Salvador Medina, chief of the Mexican department of roads and public works.

HELPS AUTO DEALERS

Automobile manufacturers who have dealings with government departments now go to the automobile engineering office in Washington, D. C. The office has just been established to accommodate auto dealers.

A Chicago judge recently sentenced two alleged pickpockets to attend church regularly for six consecutive months.

GOOD ROAD TESTS

Experiment in California to Help U. S. Motorists

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 21.—Experiments will be made on some of the highways of California to improve roads for motorists throughout the country.

This announcement was made here by A. B. Fletcher, chief engineer of the California highway commission, following his return from a conference in Washington with Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the bureau of public roads. Efforts will be made especially to correct bad road conditions in the sub-soil. Expansion and contraction of the sub-grade cause cracks in the surface and make riding difficult for motorists. This tendency will be overcome, Fletcher says, by neutralizing the colloidal properties of the soil and rendering the sub-grade a suitable base upon which to build the concrete slab.

CHALIFOUX MOTOR COMPANY

The Chalifoux Motor company, the agents of the Willys Knight and the Overland cars, have a corps of capable salesmen ready at all times to demonstrate the worth of these two splendid cars. One of the primary considerations in buying a motor car is that of price plus quality and without considering those two things together no one is doing justice to himself or to the car, for you can get automobiles at all prices, but some have only the surface appearances of value and oftentimes deceive the buyer. But the Overland at its price is a car that will always give its full measure of economical service and pleasure.

"Moonshiners" of France are making a substitute for absinthe from parsley. The product is more deadly and powerful than the outlawed liquor.

PAIGE

A Car With Personality

There is an air of distinction about the New Series "Glenbrook" that you will find in no other moderate priced, five passenger car. That is why it has been adopted by really smart people who will not tolerate the commonplace.

Then, remember, it not only looks but acts the thoroughbred. Under the hood there is a marvelously efficient motor that accelerates from five to twenty five miles per hour in nine seconds flat. This means giant energy for hills and every test of the highway.

Last, but not least, the "Glenbrook" is a rigid Economist. It extracts every atom of power from a gallon of gasoline and turns up surprising mileage on a set of tires. It is a thrift car with a keen sporting personality—a very hard combination to find.

But we ask you to establish these facts for yourself. Take just one ride in the "Glenbrook" and discover what actually lies hidden under the hood. It will prove a revelation, we believe, and a liberal education in strictly modern engineering.

THREE-DAY TOURS

How to Be Sure of a Pleasant Week-End

Week-ends this summer will be especially popular for touring, since three such holidays will be extended over Monday. They are Memorial day, July 4 and Labor day.

The man whose pleasures will most likely not be marred by mishaps on the road will be he who is fully prepared for every emergency.

Every bolt on the machine should be tightened. The gasoline and vacuum tanks should be drained of all foreign matter, and the gas line blown out. If the oil hasn't been drained from the crank case, and a fresh supply put in, this should be done, for gasoline is bound to seep through and weaken it. Test the fan belt for tightness. Clean out the radiator. See that the wheels are tight and properly aligned. Look over your tires and tubes, and see that they are properly inflated.

The ignition system is another important part of the car to overhaul. The battery solution might be brought up to proper level by the addition of pure, distilled water. The battery terminals should be scraped clean and tightened.

The tool kit should not lack anything that might be of use in emergencies. The extra equipment should include tubes, tire shoes, tube patches, cement, a crank, a fan belt, a timer distributor, tire valve, one or two headlights and tall-light bulbs, a strip of fuse wire, some adhesive tape, an extra brush for the timing device, a tow rope and your tire chains—also an emergency quart or two of gasoline in a tight can.

HAS WONDERFUL ENGINE.
Many people, especially younger ones who buy automobiles, are firm believers in the Paige because of its wonderful engine which is capable of power on clubs and speed on the road. As everyone knows that the Paige car has broken all records on the race track when it covered a mile at the rate of 102.5 miles an hour, no one

Police Clean Out Lawrence Saloon

LAWRENCE, May 21.—In raids yesterday afternoon the police arrested Michael O'Sullivan and Thomas Rooney, both at 104 Lawrence street, and John Marcella at 7 Short street, all charged with illegally keeping liquor with intent to sell. O'Sullivan is said to be proprietor of the place in which he was arrested.

The police visited the O'Sullivan place twice, finding no contraband the first time, but on the second visit, three hours later, they seized a bottle of alleged moonshine in Rooney's possession. Rooney said O'Sullivan gave it to him when he saw the officers coming. The police cleaned out the saloon of all its furnishings, including a 30-foot mahogany bar.

disputes the fact that the Paige is the unquestioned stock car speed champion of the world, and in addition is considered the most important engineering development of the age. Let the Paige Motor Car company of Lowell through Billy Cavley and Ernest Perry, take you for a demonstration and judge for yourself and you will find that the Paige is the car that lives up to its reputation and not on it.

CHELMSFORD GIRL

SCOUTS' WORK

A very interesting exhibition of the work of the Chelmsford Girl Scouts was given last night in I.O.O.F. hall, Centre village, and the affair was largely attended. Thirty-five members of the organization, commanded by Capt. Esther Dane, went through various evolutions of their work and this part of the program was highly appreciated. Mrs. Harry Prescott Graves of the Girl Scout council, presented pins to Mildred Wells and Phyllis Scoboria, who passed their tenderfoot tests and were admitted as members of the troop.

Entertainment numbers were given by Scouts Julia Warren, Thelma Shattuck, Esther Penham, Madeline Lupton. "The Taming of Horrors," a four-act farce, was given, those taking part being Florence Ellis, Madeline Scoboria, Margaret Robbins, Wilma Perkins, Alice Wilson, Esther Thayer, Elsie Petrie, Helen Reid, Eleanor Parkhurst, Evelyn Boyd, Barbara Parkhurst, Phyllis Scoboria, Mildred Wells, Ruth Jeffs, Mary Corbin and Gertrude Jewett.

If a fellow went over to your bank every day, signed your name to a check and regularly drew out a part of your balance, you would simply raise the roof. You would have him arrested for forgery, you'd throw him in jail in a minute. Of course you would.

Yet the dollars are getting away from you every day you put off becoming a member of the GENERAL SERVICE MOTOR CLUB.

We have a unique, practical and successful plan, and by becoming a member of the G. S. M. C. TODAY you can receive the following benefits and savings, without any cost in the long run.

Your batteries tested free and recharged for 50c. Gasoline in small quantities at wholesale prices. Free legal advice.

Repair work at honest prices and 10% off.

Standard tires and tubes at 10% to 15% off retail prices.

10% and 15% off on all automobile accessories.

Automobile painting at 10% off.

Transient storage at 15% off.

Free route and other automobile information.

Should your car become disabled within a radius of 20 miles of Boston, it will be towed in, without charge, any hour of the day or night.

THE G. S. M. C. IS A PASSPORT TO LOWER COST OF AUTOMOBILE UP-KEEP, PROGRESSIVE METHODS, NEWER IDEAS, COURTESY AND ECONOMY. It is an inexpensive insurance policy against the high cost of automobile up-keep.

You cannot afford to pass up the opportunity of becoming a member. Every day you delay you are losing money. THINK IT OVER.

HELD INFORMAL DANCE

Enjoyable Party Under Auspices of Lowell Post of American Legion

Several hundred couples attended the informal dancing party held last evening in Associate hall under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion, and the affair resulted in both a financial and social success. It was stated by the members of the committee in charge. Dancing continued until midnight. The general welfare fund of the local organization will benefit from the sale of tickets. Not only practically the entire membership of Lowell legionnaires were in attendance, but also large numbers of the younger set of the city.

The plans for the occasion were under the general direction of Commander James J. Powers, who acted as general manager. The assistant general manager was Stephen U. Garrity, senior vice commander of the Lowell body. Adjutant Robert Rutledge was floor director, while the assistant floor director was James J. Hogan. James Cullen was chief aide, and was assisted by a staff of aides selected from the membership of the post. The reception committee was headed by John F. McArdle, chairman, and also comprised the following members: James H. Jones, Thomas M. Gordon, Daniel F. Brennan, and John F. Roane, Jr. The junior vice commander of the post, Arthur W. McDermott, officiated as treasurer. Others active on the entertainment committee were Joseph M. Dineen, treasurer of the Lowell branch, and Thomas M. Gargan. These officers were elected at a meeting held by the Legion body early in the week at the Y.M.C.A. building, where final preparations for the dance were completed.

LEGION'S "POPPY DAY" COMMITTEE

The local American Legion post's "Poppy day" committee will meet with a committee of the ladies' auxiliary on Monday night in Memorial hall, where final arrangements for the sale of poppies on Saturday, May 29, and Monday, May 30, will be completed. Today boxes for the receiving of contributions were received by Curtis Garrity, senior vice commander, while 20,000 artificial poppies, manufactured in France, reached the office of Joseph M. Dineen, a committee member, earlier in the week.

HARVARD AND PRINCETON CLASH
CAMBRIDGE, May 21.—Harvard and Princeton met today on track and diamond. A close contest was indicated in each encounter. The Crimson nine, with its pitching ace, Goode, in the box, was regarded with slightly more favor in its chances of victory than the track combination. Ned Gourdin, Harvard's negro star, was expected to be high scorer of the track meet. Capt. O'Connell of Harvard was to run the mile against McCutich, the Princeton leader.

LOST CAR IN BOSTON
A Ford sedan, the property of Raymond J. Haviland, of 23 Lapine road, Lowell, has been stolen in Boston. It was turned in local police headquarters today. The machine bore the engine number 4752718 and the Massachusetts registration number 18940.

CONCERT BY GIRLS' CLUB AND ORCHESTRA

Pan's Rule, of immortal fame, provided the theme for a charming cantata given last evening as the feature number in the annual concert of the Girls' Glee club and orchestra of the normal school. The program, directed by Inez Field Damon, head of the school music department, was enjoyed by a large audience in the auditorium. Carl Busch composed the music for "Pan's Rule," which adds sound-color to the rippling notes of Elizabeth Barrett Browning. The assisting artists who took solo parts were Herbert Wellington Smith, baritone, of Boston, and George Laurent, alto, of the Boston Symphony orchestra. As all know, Pan's first entrance in instrumental harmony followed his pursuit of the nymph Syrinx, who was miraculously transformed into vegetation when she prayed to the river deities to be saved from her too-insistent although immortal wooer. "What was he doing, the great god Pan?" inquired the poetess, and what he actually was doing furnishes the theme for the piece.

Preceding the cantata there were selections by the glee club, the orchestra, and Messrs. Smith and Laurent. Manney's "Song of Sunrise" by the glee club opened the program, followed by Tour's "The Three Singers." The orchestra played the "Melodie" of Sarasate, "Resignation," Op. 111, No. 5, by Fauré, "Allegretto" by Boccherini, and Engelmann's "Eternal Spring." The artists were: Madeline Sharkey, first violin; Anne O'Connell, second violin; Eleanor Ward, cello; Estelle Coffey, harp, and Marion Brightman, piano.

The following group was sung by Mr. Smith, whose wife acted as his accompanist: "The Sea" by MacDowell; McGil's "Duna," and Denmore's "I Must Go Down to the Sea Again." He encased this nautical group with the "Harp Song." Mr. Laurent's solos were: "Widow's Tombeau," Doppler's "Pastorale Hungarica," and the "Valse of Chopin." His accompanist was Mrs. Ella Kelly.

DIED IN HOLYOKE
The Lowell police have been requested to notify Patrick Callahan, a stone-cutter believed to be in this city, that the funeral of his son, Mary Callahan, will take place in Holyoke, Monday, May 23. Word was sent by James T. Hoban, undertaker, who is in charge of the obsequies.

IN NORTH CHELMSFORD
The bachelor four of North Chelmsford conducted a successful dance in the North village town hall last evening. There was a large attendance and the program was very enjoyable. Those responsible for the success of the event were Gregory Larkin, Lee Larkin, Steve Holland and John Connors.

MILL CLUB'S FIRST MINSTREL AND DANCE

Exceptionally good singers, clever comedians and dancers of great ability have been discovered within the walls of the Massachusetts Cotton mills, and these entertainers performed in a creditable manner last evening, when the Massachusetts Industrial club, conducted its first minstrel and dance. The affair, which was attended by over 500 people, mostly mill employees, was held in the spacious quarters of the club in one of the mill buildings. It was an evening of enjoyment for both entertainers and spectators, for the former were well satisfied with the manner in which the performance was conducted, while the latter were enthused with the elaborate program given. Everything went along without the slightest hitch and for two hours the actors kept their audience in a happy mood. Present as special guests of the organization were Agent William A. Mitchell and numerous overseas and second hands of the mill.

A special stage had been erected in a corner of the hall by mill employees, and it was upon this elevation that the company was located when the curtains went up. Thomas Grouke, one of the directors of the minstrel, acted as interlocutor and his work was very commendable. The endmen and women were Aleck Drouin, Miss Smith, M. Harrington, Charles Mathewson, Frank Jelly and Miss Powell, and all acquitted themselves in a very appreciable manner.

The opening numbers were "Bright Eyes," "Rose of My Heart," "Whispering," and "Ohio" by the entire company. Then there was a solo by James Deignan, and he was forced to respond to an ecote. "The Land of Old Black Joe," an end song, was cleverly sung by Aleck Drouin, while Miss Powell was very pleasing in her rendition of "Lonesome, That's All." Burns and Reagan were very pleasing in their duets, while Laura Garrison brought down the house with "Call Me Back, Dear Old Pal." An end song, "Cause I'm Missing Mammy's Kiss," was delightfully sung by Miss Smith and Miss Powell. The solo by E. Cunningham was enjoyable as was the end song, "Dixie Rose" by M. Harrington. "Nobody's Rose" was the selection rendered by Leona McIntire, and as well did she sing that she was encored. "I'm a Good Man so Hard to Find" was well rendered by Charles Mathewson.

One of the feature numbers on the program was the dancing by McGrail and Walter, two young men who gave a very different and well rendered dog dance. Frank Jelly sang an end song entitled "Rebecca," and the program was brought to a close with the chorus, "Margie."

At the close of the entertainment the chairs were removed from the hall floor and general dancing was started and continued till a seasonable hour. The directors of the minstrel were: William McGrail and Thomas Grouke, while the committee in charge was composed of Mrs. Sadie Reardon, chairman; Anthony Booth, James Brooks, Alfred Benoit, John Twochey, Thomas Grouke, Lilla Booth, Helen Quinn, Mary Powell and Laura Garrison.

Lift Limit on Whiskey Prescriptions

WASHINGTON, May 21.—New regulations have been prepared which will enable physicians prescribing whiskey for medical purposes to write as many prescriptions as they consider necessary; prohibition officials said last night.

Under existing regulations, physicians are limited to 100 whiskey prescriptions over a period of 90 days.

The new regulations, officials said, were ready for consideration by the new commissioner of internal revenue. The nomination of David S. Blair of Winston-Salem, N. C., as commissioner is awaiting confirmation by the senate.

Seeks to Retain "Dry" Agents

BOSTON, May 21.—Final effort to retain many federal prohibition enforcement agents in New England who were ordered suspended at midnight last night until July 1, due to a deficit in the national appropriation for the enforcement of the Volstead act, was made by William J. McCarthy, supervising prohibition enforcement agent for New England with Commissioner Kramer at Washington last night.

Regardless of the number of agents suspended, New England will see no "open season" for liquor running, according to Agent McCarthy, who cites the co-operation he has been receiving throughout his district.

Girl Trained From Infancy For Career in Photoplays

MARY ASTOR, AT 16 SHE'S PLAYING IN THE MOVIES. HER MOTHER TRAINED HER FROM INFANCY FOR A SCREEN CAREER. THEATRE PG-GIRL TRAINED

By JAMES W. DEAN

Most movie actresses graduated from the stage, beauty contests or artists' studios.

Not so with Mary Astor. Mary is only 16 now, but her mother has been training her from infancy for a career in photoplays.

Mary's mother had some experience as an actress and as a professional reader. Her father is professor in a Chicago high school.

As a result of the mother's training the girl has signed a contract with Paramount. She is being given only small parts, as she and her mother plan for her to get a thorough experience before she attempts a featured part.

She has dark red hair and brown eyes. Despite the praise and attention her beauty has received, she remains as demure as the schoolgirl she is.

If Mary Astor rises to stardom she will probably be the first movie star who owes her fame entirely to a mother's training and a mother's ambition for a daughter to be starred in pictures.

German Film Banned

Artists and critics who saw "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari" praised it as one of the finest things ever projected on the screen. It is a futuristic picture.

It was made in Germany. For that reason it was picketed in Los Angeles and, after playing to a house that was almost empty, was discontinued by the exhibitor at the end of one day's run.

Men who picketed the theatre were members of the American Legion, directors' associations and unions of stage and studio employees.

"White and Unmarried"

The title of Tom Melghan's next release doesn't mean much. "White and Unmarried" is the inscription on his passport. Hence the title.

Tom gets the passport for Europe after he tires of a crook's life. He tires after making a good haul.

On the boat he meets Dorothea, daughter of his last victim. He acts as her big brother and guide in Paris. She falls in love with him. Tom fails to love with a dance hall entertainer. He marries her, but not until he whips a gang of Apaches and rescues her from kidnappers.

Just so things will be happy for all, he kills Dorothea's husband in Paris. She falls in love with him. Tom fails to love with a dance hall entertainer. He marries her, but not until he whips a gang of Apaches and rescues her from kidnappers.

THE FAIRYMAN'S PLAN

"HE'S THE SNOOPIEST THING!" DECLARED THE MONGOOSE SUD- DENLY

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Now we're talking!" said Woolly Wart-Hog solemnly to Nancy and Nick and Filpety-Flap. "You wish to take Tag Tiger away, and we certainly wish to be rid of him. That's why we are having this meeting."

"Oh!" beamed the fairyman. "Then perhaps you have thought of a plan?" "No, we haven't!" said the warthog shaking his head. "That's the trouble."

"He's the snoopest thing!" declared the mongoose suddenly, peeping out of the doorway again to make sure that their enemy had not discovered their hiding place. "He's worse 'n a snake!"

"And the hughest!" declared the little gazelle.

"And the fiercest!" added the antelope.

"And the lightest!" growled the leopard.

"And the sulkhest!" went on the mongoose.

"And the greedhest!" said someone else.

"I see that Mr. Tiger is about as popular hereabouts as a spider at a little girl's tea party," remarked Filpety-Flap smiling.

"I'm not certain what a little girl is," answered the warthog, never dreaming that Nancy was one, "and I don't know what a tea party is, either, but if you mean that that old vagabond, Tag Tiger, isn't liked round here, you have made a pretty good guess. Why, there isn't a family that hasn't lost some of its members some time or other through him, or in him, I should say."

"You don't know how to handle him," said Filpety-Flap. "You ought to keep him in a cage like we do. But there! how are we ever going to get him? Let me think. Oh, I have it! Are there any pepper trees growing around here?"

"Yes," nodded the warthog. "There's a whole bunch of them up on the hill."

"Fine!" declared Filpety-Flap, winking at Nick. Then he took a telephone out of one of his shoes, and a coffee mill out of the other.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By theatre's own press agent.)

OPERA HOUSE:

This Week Will Close the Season For the Lowell Players at the Opera House.

The "good-bye" performance of the Lowell players at the Opera House tonight, will have many pleasant features. The last in the series of week's presentations of Sydney Grundy's comedy drama, "The Circus Girl," will be marked by many informalities, including speeches by the entire membership of the company, as well as impromptu talks by Mayor Thompson, Owner Schaeke and others. Miss Marguerite Fields, the popular and extremely clever leading woman of the cast, will say "good-bye and good luck" to her large circle of friends here, and Milton Byron and the other members of what is easily one of the cleverest and best-balanced stock companies in New England, will be heard in short speeches. It promises to be a happy "leave-taking" for the company and a delightful night for the patrons who attend.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE:

Noted Detroit, Margaret Young, Next Week's Headliner at B. F. Keith's Theatre—Sunday Concerts.

Underlined for appearance at the B. F. Keith theatre tomorrow, afternoon and evening, is Yvette Tugend, the miniature prima donna who has scored so emphatically during the present week. She is without question one of the best liked vocalists heard at this theatre in years. Basil Lynn and William Howland will also be heard on Sunday, while others secured for the two performances are Anderson & Burt, Bo-Peep and Jack Horner, Synco, Clinton & Gilbert, McNaughton and Williams.

Next week Margaret Young, who comes all the way from Detroit, will be the particular headlining attraction. She is new to Lowell; in fact the present in her first on the eastern circuit. For years Miss Young was specially prominent in the Michigan city, and that popularity was due not alone to the fact that she was well placed socially but also because of her ability to entertain, and, if anything, the latter attribute was the foremost. The ability gradually outgrew the stage of the amateur and she de-manded the dress of the professional. Her presence on the stage, therefore, is a matter of evolution. She is a handsome woman and as a descriptive singer of character songs, she ranks very high.

The Sultans rank with the Rooneys, the Mortons and the Cohans as celebrated stage families. Today not one of these families is appearing before the public, although its members, some of them, are still before the footlights. William Sully is one of those who are left, and he appears with Genevieve Houghton in "Calf Love," a spy musical concoction which was prepared for the pair by Andy Rice. It is credited with being a "three base hit" in vaudeville.

A Marshall Montgomery, who will also "show" on this bill is said to be the world's best known ventriloquist. This seems like extravagant praise, but those who have seen him say it is true. He will be supported by Edna Courtney during his present engagement.

FLEEING FROM MINE WAR

Plumbers Accept Cut, Strike Ends

WORCESTER, May 21.—The building trades strike, started in Worcester April 1 in protest against a 20 per cent. cut in pay, was practically ended yesterday when at a conference between plumbers and employers the former agreed to return to work at 90c an hour, a reduction of 10c. Some of the plumbers went back to work this morning and others will return Monday.

The plumbers are the last of the big trade unions to accept a reduction. The others have accepted cuts of 12 1/2c and 15c an hour.

Threat To Blow Up College

WORCESTER, May 21.—A threat to blow up the Assumption college in Greendale, contained in a letter to the president of the college under date of May 14, is being investigated by the Worcester police. The letter, post-marked in Worcester, says: "Having still a bit of humanity left in us we want to advise you that on May 17 your college will be 'blown up.' Our bombs are set to explode between the hours of 8 a. m. and 10 p. m.

"Enemies of the Roman Catholics.

The petition of the Scannell Boiler Works, Frank Cheney and others for a street light at Tanner and Hyacinth streets was referred to Commissioner Murphy.

Commissioner Murphy favored the petition for a sewer in Westchester street. The accompanying order was adopted. The estimated cost is $1570.

The petition of John Curran and others for a sidewalk in West Fourth street and a petition signed by 20 residents of Hoyt avenue for a street light in that street were ordered to remain in the city clerk's office for seven days.

The quarterly report of the license commission was read by its title and placed on file.

Requisitions for one carload of white clipped oats, one carload of Portland cement and one carload of sand-struck brick for the use of the street department were approved.

Screens for Hospital

Mayor Thompson was granted authority to enter into a contract with the J. B. Goodwin Co. for the furnishing of copper screening for the shafts of the isolation hospital at a sum not to exceed $650 per shaft. The emergency clause was attached to the vote. The mayor explained that the patients at the hospital would be subjected to considerable annoyance if the buildings were not screened. He said that there is some swampy land in the vicinity of the hospital where mosquitoes breed.

$25,000 for Sewers

Commissioner Murphy's order to borrow $25,000 for sewer construction, which had been properly advertised, was brought up for action. The commissioner explained that this order was customary at this time of the year and was to carry on part of the sewerage program. The order was unanimously adopted.

ORDERS FLAG AT HALF STAFF

Pres. Harding Also Calls for Funeral Salute in Honor of Chief Justice

Whole Nation Joins in Paying Last Honors to Noted Jurist, Buried Today

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The whole nation, as represented by its government, joined today in paying last honors to its late chief justice, Edward Douglass White. By order of the president, all activities in the executive departments were suspended for the funeral, set for 10 o'clock, and will remain suspended all day. The senate stood adjourned until Monday and all courts of the city were in recess. The funeral, private by request of the family, was arranged in no sense as an official occasion, but the position of the chief justice held in the affairs of the country made it impossible to eliminate what amounted to official mourning.

Among those to attend, beside President Harding, were Justice White's associates on the supreme bench as honorary pall bearers; Vice President Coolidge; committees from the senate and house and the full delegation in congress from the jurist's native state, Louisiana, as well as the cabinet members, with the exception of Attorney General Daugherty. Mr. Daugherty was called to Ohio last night by illness in his family, and designated as his representative, Col. Guy D. Goff, assistant to the attorney general, and Solicitor General William L. E. Friedman, ranking legal officer in the absence of the attorney general.

Funeral arrangements provided for a solemn high requiem mass at St. Matthews' church following ceremonies at the family home and interment in Oak Hill cemetery, Georgetown. Simultaneously with the hour of the funeral, President Harding ordered that the American flag, wherever flown, be half-masted and that a funeral salute of 17 guns be fired at American military and naval stations throughout the world.

be given boxes to go out on the street and gather funds for the Sallies. They had been gathered together by Miss Lillian Smith, girls' work secretary of the Young Women's Christian association.

Some of the girls were little tots; others were older, but from the tiniest to the tallest they were quickly supplied with the brand new crimson-sided boxes. To the great joy of each one was attached one of the neat white satin badges that are an insignia for the drive workers.

No sooner had the young misses been equipped for their campaign for cash than they started in on the work of coaxing dimes, quarters and dollars out of the pockets of passersby. They did not even wait to leave the chamber's rooms before starting their collecting.

The young women were not by any means the only applicants for boxes and supplies of tags. Many others turned up during the morning and asked to be permitted to have a part in the drive. Among others were representatives of the Girls' club, the Paint and Powder club and other organizations.

The Salvation Army ladies were early on their job of collecting coin. From Boston came three young women to help on the drive. They were Captain Nellie Rowe, Captain Schofield and Captain Stella Young. "The doughnut girl" who helped to make life easier for the boys in the battle areas of France. These three made an early start for the Textile school grounds, and as the crowds gathered to witness the starting of the "Up-Stream day" parade, they were given an enthusiastic reception and funds flowed in a liberal stream into the boxes.

The collectors on the streets were given a cordial reception as they but-tooled passersby. Ten thousand tags had been provided for the day. The supply of these in the chamber's rooms had been exhausted before 11 o'clock this morning and a rush order was sent to the printers for more. Nearly 100 boxes were out on the street.

At noon a gathering of drive workers was held in the chamber rooms at which enthusiastic reports were made on the progress of the campaign.

TERRIBLE CASE OF ECZEMA

Prominent Veterinary of Dover Suffered Tortures for Twelve Years

Dover, N. H.

"In 1906, I began to be troubled with Eczema. It started on my face and gradually spread. The second summer, I was so badly afflicted I had to lay off work. I would keep my hands tied up at night to prevent digging into my flesh while asleep. I spent hundreds of dollars in seeking relief. I would go for several months without trouble and then the Eczema would break out again and I would be in for a siege of suffering. My hands, especially across the knuckles, would be so puffed and swollen I could not do any obstetrical work or operations.

It was about three months ago I chanced to read an ad. of 'Fruit-a-tives' about a person being cured of Weeping Eczema by using this remedy and 'Sootha Salva' I bought both and in about a week, noticed an improvement. I have now used two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and one of 'Sootha Salva' and am entirely free of Eczema. My flesh is clear and smooth and I am that gratified with the result that I cannot proclaim too loudly the merits of these remedies."

Wild Scenes of Thursday

Night Re-enacted in Albany

Last Night

Ten Persons Injured, Two

Seriously.—Many Trampled Upon.—Cars Wrecked

ALBANY, N. Y., May 21.—Trolley service was resumed at the usual hour today after a night of disorders attendant upon the trolley strike called nearly four months ago. Little piles of broken glass from the windows of cars trampled with missiles by the crowds that filled the streets downtown were the only visible reminders of the scenes of last night.

At least 10 persons were injured, two of them seriously, in the disorders. The wild scenes Thursday night in the heart of the business district were re-enacted soon after midnight. Crowds congregated in the business section and attacked the cars, which since early in February have been operated by imported crews.

In the disorders last night, trolleys were again partly wrecked, some were destroyed by persons in the crowds shattered the windows of the cars, and singers were hit by missiles, some persons were trampled upon and struck when the police charged the crowds, and police officers themselves were targets for flying stones.

Revolvers were brought into play by some of the attacking parties, the police say. They reported that in Broadway, shots were fired from the roofs of buildings. The police were forced to draw their revolvers to disperse the crowds. Near the state capitol, where last night's rioting began, later spreading to the business district, one policeman who was trying to disperse a crowd of about 600 men and boys who stoned a car, fired a shot and Garry Bohl was wounded in the leg.

Howard W. Slade, a passenger on a car stoned as it was approaching the state capitol, suffered a fractured skull.

The authorities attribute the disorders to their campaign to drive the motor busses, which have been competing with the street cars, from the thoroughfares.

MAYOR'S EFFORTS ARE APPRECIATED

Mayor Perry D. Thompson has received a very complimentary letter from Rev. William Devlin, S. J., president of Boston college, expressing the gratitude of that institution for the excellent record made by this city in the recent B. C. building fund drive here. The letter is as follows:

My Dear Mayor Thompson: I can only thank you in words for all that you have done for us in Lowell, but I assure you that all of us at Boston college fully appreciate your efforts.

I take this opportunity to thank you in my own name and in the name of every member of our faculty for your very generous co-operation.

Very respectfully yours,

friend died just before the wrath of the people manifested itself in a startling manner of revolt. The fall of this extraordinary character is quite as engrossing as her rise and her fall and her prayer for only one more moment of life when she was doomed comes as a most striking climax. The picture gives an inner glimpse into the court of Louis XV., king of France, and follows the history of that period with amazing detail.

Supporting the picture, "Passion" for the first three days of the week is a Charlie Chaplin feature "Easy Street," also a continuation of "The Son of Tarzan" and the Fox news. For Thursday, Friday and Saturday the Rialto is having a double feature bill including Mary Miles Minter in "All Souls' Eve," also the wonderful new story, "A Day Semina com," by Henrik Ibsen and introducing Victor Sorenstrom in the leading role. There will also be an episode of "Flight into Egypt," a Gay Semma comedy, "The Hick," and the Fox news. It is a program equally good as the offering of the first three days and should attract a widely.

For the Sunday program the Rialto has Mary Miles Minter in a convincing story, "The Pointing Finger," also an attractive story "Evangeline," together with four acts of high class vaudeville.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Sir James M. Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy" Big Feature For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Lois Wilson in "That Something" and Eugene O'Brien in "His Money" will be the featured attractions at the Sunday concert at the Merrimack Square theatre Sunday.

Both productions represent the best efforts of their respective producers, an excellent surrounding program has also been arranged.

The big features for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be "Sentimental Tommy," a lavishly produced adaptation of the famous story by Sir James Barrie, and "Sacred and Profane Love," starring Elsa Ferguson.

Sir James M. Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy" has been produced by John S. Robertson for Paramount with a cast that embraces several of the best players of the stage and screen. This picture is said to possess much heart interest and Barrie charm.

Garth Hughes, who is seen in the title role, is a young Welshman, who came to America in 1914, and has since played such marked talent that he is recognized as a leading juvenile of the country. He was chosen for the role of "Caliban," which was given at the City college stadium, New York, for the Shakespeare festival, a literary celebration. He is now a Negro and was loaned to Paramount.

McClure, who plays Grizel, is a leading younger actor of the screen having scored in "The Devil's Garden" and "The Truth About Husband's Affairs." Mabel Tallafiero as "Painted Lady" is a stage and screen star of wide reputation. George Fawcett as Dr. McQueen; Kate Davenport, who is a new relative of the Barrymores and Drews; Malcolm Bradley, for four years with E. H. Sothern, and Alfred Kappeler, one of the sterling lights of the stage.

"Sacred and Profane Love," the big feature of the week, which will express a decided appeal to all players, even to those who have strong dramatic tastes, is a story of modern love, excellently acted by Elsa Ferguson and Profane Love is a William L. Taylor production adapted from the play and novel by Arnold Bennett and is one of the greatest stories of modern literature. Miss Ferguson has the star role and she is supported by Conrad Nagel, Thomas Holding and other prominent players. Elsa Ferguson wears some of her most lavish gowns in this production.

A comedy and the International News will round out the bill.

Next Monday evening, about 100 of the A.E.F. aero squadron will fly over Lowell and will drop 100 passes admitting the bearer to the Merrimack square theatre. Watch for him!

A recent ruling of the Kansas court of industrial relations provides that women who perform men's work are entitled to the same wages as men.

CITY OF LOWELL

Lincoln Brothers' circus which will play here May 25 is conceded by veteran showmen to be one of the finest and best equipped circuses on the road today. Further, according to these reports, the show has as some of its outstanding features, some of the most perfectly trained ponies and horses ever exhibited with any circus. There are handsome grayhorses, black and white spotted ponies, beautiful pure white Albino ponies, perfectly matched and equally handsome cream colored ones. Trained bears, bucking mules that no one can ride and many other acts too numerous to mention. But animal acts do not constitute the entire program, by any means. Among the many daring feats performed by skilled athletes are those of the flying trapeze, horizontal bars, flying perch and the high diving. The circus also has a team of jugglers of all kinds help to swell the circus program to one twice the length of the average circus performance.

A big grand free street parade will be given at noon moving over the principal streets to be followed by a big free air exhibition on the show grounds two performances will be given at 2 p. m. and at 8 p. m. The doors will be thrown open an hour earlier in order to give all an opportunity of visiting the menagerie tent before the big show starts. A half hour concert will be rendered before each performance starts by the famous Lincoln show band and these two features, the concert and visit to the menagerie tent will be well worth while coming a half hour earlier to enjoy before the big show starts. Doors will be thrown open at 1 p. m. and again at 7 p. m.

burns about his body, while William R. Burke of Hose 11, was struck on the head by some bricks and has but slight chance for recovery. Ezekiel Moses, driver for Chief A. D. Butler, and Bert McGowan were also sent to the hospital with injuries to the head.

The blaze, which is believed to have been of incendiary origin, caused a short circuit when it started in the basement and this set the school bell to ringing. A man awakened by the noise telephoned to the fire department and the first bell alarm was followed by a general, calling out all the apparatus in the city. A new wing to the building, erected in 1913, was damaged comparatively little, and this principally by water, but nothing was saved from the contents of the old structure, which included a library of more than 3000 volumes. This is the second school building burned in Portland within a few weeks.

Eighty-two per cent of the people who died or were injured by fire in this country last year were mothers and children under school age.

ENFORCING PROHIBITION

Here are some sober facts that the decency-loving, law-abiding, law-respecting citizens of Lowell are invited to thoughtfully consider:

The number of arrests for drunkenness in this city during the month of April was 141. The number of arrests for the same offense during the first three weeks of May was close to the low mark.

These figures speak for themselves. They tell the story in a way that cannot be mistaken that the city is not a law-abiding place. Men and women do not come to the police station or in the police court charged with intemperance until they have reached the last stages of stupor when they are either a public nuisance or until the safety of the individuals themselves requires that they should be taken into custody. It is not to be supposed that the police will help to backen the record against themselves as law-enforcers by making any more arrests than are absolutely necessary to preserve some semblance of activity in the eyes of citizens. It is a matter of common observation that drunkenness in public places is alarmingly prevalent. That the police often turn their heads in the other direction and fail to see as many of such cases as they might, is a conclusion wholly warranted by circumstances.

Where does the liquor come from that is the cause of this deplorable state of affairs? Doubtless from a number of sources. The augmented liquor squad seems to be interested, judging from court records, in but one or two of these that are far from being the most important. From day to day persons are arrested charged with manufacturing or selling "moonshine" in homes or small places of business. It is sufficiently notable to be the subject of remark that nearly all of the persons who have been taken into custody have been of the so-called class of "foreigners." In nearly all of the cases thus far brought into court the activities of the offenders have not been an important factor. To the few who have been brought to justice for "moonshining" may be added a few others who have been caught selling, or attempting to sell, a bottle or two of "jakey."

These cases doubtless help to make a showing of activity against the illicit liquor traffic on the police records. That they do not seriously interfere with the unhampered flow of the main stream of booze is apparent. Scattered over the city are many of the former licensed saloons masquerading as places where near-beer is sold. Within recent months several additions have been made to the number. It is a matter of common knowledge that the so-called saloons are responsible for far the greater part of the drunkenness found in our city. The activities of a number of these places are but thinly veiled. We refuse to believe that the police cannot catch such offenders. The latter do not seem to have any dread of the police, undoubtedly for the reason that the police do not bother them. This state of affairs is not creditable to our city, nor is it creditable to the police department or its responsible head, Superintendent Welch, who some time ago said he was absolutely free to enforce the law. If the police department fails in its duty, then the responsibility passes up to his honor, the mayor, and the citizens of Lowell realize full well that if the mayor insists that the liquor law shall be enforced, none of his subordinates will dare say nay. The police should be impressed with the idea that the powers higher up want the law enforced; but unfortunately this is not the case.

THE MOUNTAIN LABORED

We remember the old saying that "the mountain labored and brought forth a mouse." Something of the kind seems to have happened in the case of the public trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway and their wrestle with the lower-fare problem.

For many months an insistent demand went up from Lowell for a five-cent fare from Merrimack square to the city limits. This demand had the approval of Mayor Thompson and leading business men. It was voiced unanimously by members of the home rule committee in a hearing before the trustees. It had the united support of a large portion of the people of the city.

It was, and doubtless still is, the opinion of a large number of citizens that a five-cent fare would have attracted a sufficient number of riders to the cars to have made it possible for the trustees to operate the road without a reduction of wages and in such a way as to give much improved service to the community. Instead of granting a five-cent fare, at least as an experiment, the trustees have announced a schedule of rates that will save to a little more than one-half the patrons of the road about two-thirds of a cent on each ride. This concession is given to the aid of the company's riders that it is most expensive to carry—namely the long-haul passengers. The short-haul travellers, who might be attracted to the cars by a five-cent fare, are still to be frightened away by a ten-cent charge.

It is difficult to understand by what process of reasoning the trustees have reached their present stand as regards fares. That they are to save very large sums, over the expenditures of recent years, as a result of a drop in commodity prices, is certain. Coal alone, by present buying, should be had for at least 25 per cent. less than was paid last year. On top of the other savings comes a reduction of 12 1/2 per cent in the expenditure for wages. The announcement that the pay of the employees was to be cut was not relished by many people who patronize the cars and are not connected with the road. But the men promptly declared in favor of abridgment and gratefully accepted the result.

When the trustees announced their agreement with their employees, they asserted their intention not to submit to outside interference in settling differences with their workers.

They were ready, they announced, to fight to the last ditch to protect their right to run the road as they saw fit. Then, swearing they would never arbitrate, they retreated. The reduction in wages was 12 1/2 per cent, with other sources of expense cut out. The time before the change was 7 1/2 cents; after the cut 6 1/2 cents, a reduction of 13 1/2 per cent on ticket fares.

A distinguished son of Lowell wrote a book on "The Gentle Art of Making Enemies." It would seem as though the public trustees might lately have had access to it.

STREET PROBLEMS AND OTHERS

It seems the initiative provision of the present charter is to be tested in more ways than one before the instrument is adopted. The striking gas employees are now out with a petition favoring the establishment of a municipal gas plant or the purchase of the present gas works. Either task would probably be beyond the city's resources.

The chamber of commerce is also to move the initiative to force the municipal council to have part of the street paving done by contract. We do not imagine that the chamber of commerce wants the city to adopt contract street work as a fixed policy. The fact is, that as a result of mismanagement and extravagance, the cost of block paving as done by the street department reached a figure that seemed very excessive.

The business men of the chamber want particularly to show that equal good work can be done by contract for a much less price. If the chamber can demonstrate this to the satisfaction of the citizens, it should have the privilege of so doing. The city does not want to discriminate against any class of employees, but it does want to see reasonable results for the money expended.

There should be no special election on any such question; because there should be no need of one. The street department employees properly directed should be able to lay block paving as cheaply as any company or any contractor and if they cannot, they should be willing to be shown.

But block paving is but one of our street problems. The general repair work all over the city seems to have passed beyond the resources of the street department. Something must be done and done quickly to close up the holes that have been dug in scores of our streets by constant traffic and that through neglect for several years, have become actually dangerous. The Sun has suggested putting repair gangs to work on streets thus cut up, but as yet no sign of any attempt in this direction. If repair outfits were provided, they could speedily fill up and level over the worst cavities in the busiest streets. They might attend to the others later. But for some reason nothing of this kind is being done and there is no certainty that it will be done. Will it be necessary to invoke the initiative on this also or to call for citizens to assist in repairing the streets on which they reside, provided the street department furnishes the material?

WHAT BUSINESS OUTLOOK

What seriously concerns most people is whether business will soon start up so as to offer employment to the thousands now idle. There is no doubt that the textile business is much more promising at the present time than it has been for several months past. At the beginning of the depression, it was the most backward of all; now it seems to be more favored than most of the other essential industries, although the various mills are still merely struggling along. It is plain, however, that the retail business is improving and this will be reflected in increased orders at the factories.

It was hoped that building operations would take on much greater activity during this month, but it appears that proprietors are awaiting lower costs of labor and material before going ahead with the building of dwellings to relieve the housing shortage, or even with necessary repairs. Several of the building trades have reduced their prices and if the others would do likewise, the proprietors might be induced to loosen up. It is rumored that the bricklayers may accept a cut, and if the plumbers were more encouragement for building enterprises. Lumber has been reduced in price, as has paint and other building materials. If the building trades relax their terms to some extent, this season may yet see a fair amount of building activity apart from the two big jobs, the high school and the auditorium.

TAFT FOR SUPREME COURT

Secretary of State Hughes can serve his country better in his present position than in the supreme court of the United States, but how could former President Taft render such valuable service as in that august body. If appointed, his experience as president, his familiarity with constitutional, national and international affairs, in addition to his eminent legal training, would make him a most valuable member of the highest court in the land. We do not believe that President Harding can fill the vacancy caused by the death of Chief Justice White more acceptably to all the people than by the selection of Mr. Taft. Nor do we believe that he can find a man of such high standing and ability who would be less likely to be swayed by prejudice in passing upon legal questions touching religious, political or economic issues.

HAYWOOD'S DEPARTURE

Mr. Bill Haywood is charged with causing a shortage in the funds of the I.W.O. said to be something like $25,000. This, in addition to his $10,000 bonds, will be charged to the organization responsible for his deeds. Here in Lowell we know Bill Haywood since the days when he conducted the Lawrence strike and failed to give a proper account of the fund. While he is in this country Haywood lived like a prince at the expense of his dupes; but at last they have found him out. It is said to be soon whether he can find the Russian soviet to the same extent.

It is remarkable how opinions differ. One set of people seems to think that the city has been so successful in its activities that it should stop the manufacture of gas, while another set thinks it has failed miserably in running its business that it should stop paving streets.

A little while longer and we shall have a flood of sage advice on most problems terrestrial and celestial from the school-boy and school-girl orators, and then the old world will wobble along much as ever for another twelve months.

Congratulations are extended to William J. White, Jr., on his appointment as assistant United States district attorney and the hope may be expressed that when he gets on to his job of enforcing the Volstead act, he will not forget his home town.

Miss Sarah Stephenson, borough secretary of Brooklyn, N. Y., says that "a mistake has been made from the beginning about so-called woman's work." Eve must have started it then when she tackled her first job of handing out the apple.

Who dropped the bomb in Wall street? seems likely to be included in the list with the two other famous bomb-droppers—Who struck Billy Patterson? and "What became of Charlie Ross?"

Special commiseration will go out to our dear friends in that they will be unable to hear the Cleopatra eloquence of Mayor Perry D. Thompson if he decides to accept an invitation to address their meeting in this city.

As initiative petitions increase in number, business should look up for dealers in fountain pens and lead pencils.

Charity covers a multitude of sins, but uncharity seems to take especial delight in pulling the covering off.

SEEN AND HEARD

Half the world doesn't know how the other half lives—and cares a heap less.

The cracker barrel debating club at the crossroads had nothing on a bunch of modern drummers in a Pullman smoker.

Magazines want true-to-life stories. "The Far Side of the Moon," "Alice in Wonderland," "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" and most of the other best-sellers never could happen in real life. Man loves the impossible because he aspires to it.

Installation Plan

A negro church in South Carolina recently appointed a committee to try to get a doctor of divinity title for its pastor, thinking such a title would increase the prestige of the church. The committee is now trying to confer the degree for $150. Money was tight in the parish. The sum total of the collection raised was only $75. One of the contributors wrote to the college president: "Dear Sir: Enclosed is $75 for which send us one D. for our pastor. When times gets better we will send $75 more for another D."

Hard On Papa

Doing guard duty in the army was a lead pipe clench, compared with nursing a baby, says Frank Smirrell, manager of an oil company in South Carolina, former overseas soldier and one-time catcher for the University of South Carolina baseball team. Smirrell recently became the father of a bouncing boy and has been doing his share of the floor-walking since the arrival of the youngster. At a meeting of the American Legion club the other night he was called upon to relate his experiences. "Well," said he, "the army was used to two hours on and four hours off; but this boy of mine doesn't give me any time off at all."

By Francis Boardman

Confessions of a certain kind betray, my child, a feeble mind and when I venture to admit some tastes, I do not make a hit. But—when it comes to growing things, my love of nature puts me and my hustles somewhere out of sight, in particular, shameless flight! This thing of telling weeds from plants, at one sophisticated glance, may be all right for those who aim to wax proficient at the game. But, personally, one opines that vegetables, shrubs, and vines that can't survive the weeds alone, are scarcely worthy to be grown. A self-reliance should be taught, however small the garden plot! However, it's the modern way to feed the family each day by means of merciless routine, by which each solitary bean is chaperoned from first to last, so that you fully know its past up to the time some eager face provides its final resting place. And still, I'd rather write the weeds for just a few reluctant dimes with which to pay a middleman for vegetables in a can than go and wrest them from the soil—which does not measure up with Hoyle!

Concerning Money

The congregation, says Dr. William E. Horton, sang out of a recent hymn-book:

"Lord, I care not for riches, neither silver nor gold; I would make sure of heaven, I would enter the fold."

They all had. Every one of them earned for riches. The cash-girl on $3 a week wanting $6, and the man who owned one railroad and wanted another, all cared for money. The minister in the pulpit had to have money next day to pay the grocer and the leader of the choir was not uncontented with the problem, whether it could get enough money out of his singing or must devote part of his time to other work. The man who says he does not care for money is untruthful. Every man ought to care for money. But there are some things which money will not buy. Any boy has the best things in life. Sunshine and fresh air come free.

Lowell wrote:

"For a cap and bells our lives we pay, Building up, buy with a whole soul's taking. 'Tis heaven alone that is given away. 'Tis surely God may be had for the asking."

No price is set on the lavish summer; June may be had by the poorest commoner.

People who quote these lines commonly omit the last couplet, thus restricting the lesson by inference, to things of the soul, but the summer as well as the soul is of the things which money cannot buy. Let us have no cant about it. We need money. If we are to live and pay our honest debts, (Samuel Johnson, who had little money himself, was a wise enough philosopher to say that a man who is not industriously employed, as when he is making money, but love and sunlight and the joy of June come free. You cannot buy health with money, and your health is more valuable than

LIVED ON BRAN BREAD FOR NEARLY A YEAR

"My stomach was so weak that I lived for nearly a year on bran bread," said Mrs. Mildred F. Hilton, of No. 30 Bradley street, Saco, Me., whose complete recovery should encourage every sufferer from stomach trouble.

"I was without a particle of color and my strength had left my body," she continued. "After eating I had gas attacks which seemed to take my breath away. There was a continuous pain through my back. I had severe headaches. My stomach was so weak that if I ate breakfast it would nearly kill me, the torture was so great. My heart sometimes jumped or palpitated and I was afraid of heart trouble. I could not sleep well. During two years of illness, three months of it I used to bed, I lost over 30 pounds. I was told that I did not have blood enough to digest my food."

"When it seemed as though everything possible had been done for me I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had read about them in the newspapers. I was so feeble that I was forced to stay in bed at this time. Two weeks after I began to take the remedy I was able to sit up for a short time. In two more weeks I could walk about the house and from then on I continued to gain strength and weight. When I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I weighed 28 pounds. Now I weigh 135 pounds and feel fine. My color is good now. I eat heartily and no longer have terrible gas spells or pains in my back. I feel better than I have for years. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a wonderful tonic and would not be without them in my home."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 50 cents per box. Write for the free booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat."—Adv.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Residents of Fayette street are much annoyed by accidents to children on the site of the former Fayette street school. The building has been removed and the basement has been left without being leveled over so that blocks of concrete, stone and other materials are projecting from the sides of the foundation. Some children have fallen into the pit and been injured, so that parents are afraid to let the little ones play there, while the larger boys sometimes damage adjoining property by throwing the stones left on the lot. This land is owned by the city and should be graded for a playground. Little time or labor would be necessary to make this a serviceable playground for small children. It is not large enough for a ball field, but if it were graded over and surfaced with sand it would serve as a place of safety for the younger children, and thus relieve the parents from a source of worry. The park department might go so far as to provide some apparatus for the amusement of the children and thus draw them from the public streets, where they are in danger of being run over. It is understood that there are several vacant lots throughout the city that might easily be converted into playgrounds for the children of the vicinity. This lot on Fayette street should be attended to without delay. That street is usually neglected and left in a rather unsightly condition by the street department. It has a great number of young children, it seems that it is entitled to some attention. If the street department fails in its duty, perhaps the park board may see fit to put this school site in shape for a playground. All the work that would be needed might be done by a few men with a team of horses in one day.

THE RECOVERY OF STOLEN AUTOMOBILES

Over one hundred of the largest and most reputable garages and accessory houses and with-in a radius of 20 miles of Boston have united under written contract with the General Service Motor association, Inc. in guaranteeing service and courtesy to the members and further, giving 15 per cent to 15 per cent off on tire tubes and air automobile accessories, automobile painting—vulcanizing and all other needs of automobile owners—honest labor prices less 10 per cent, off, transient storage at 15 per cent, off, gasoline at 1 cent a gallon off retail price and oils and greases at 5 cents off per quart. Batteries recharged at 50 cents. The local advice for members, their families and operators in reference to automobile matters.

ARREST LOWELL BOY IN NASHUA

A fifteen-year-old boy giving the name of Joseph Zepenas, Wall street, Lowell, has been arrested by the Nashua, N. H., police on charges of breaking and entering a store in that city. It was learned today by the local authorities who want Zepenas on similar charges in connection with a break at Clark's store, Davidson street, when a quantity of cigars were among the booty taken by three boys. The two other lads believed implicated in the Nashua break are fourteen-year-old youngsters, and have been questioned by the police. They will appear in the juvenile session of the police court on Friday morning.

How Many are Still Alive?

Daniel J. Varnum was marshal of the Memorial day parade 25 years ago and his list of aides was published in The Sun as follows:

"Chief Marshall D. J. Varnum has issued a general order for Memorial day. Past Commander W. W. Tuttle is chief of staff, and his aides are: Major Edward J. Noyes, Dr. Robert T. Bell, Honorable John Welch, Alt. Chas. E. Horton, Col. Royal S. Ripley, Dr. Geo. E. Plinkham, Capt. Joseph E. Thompson, Col. Albert Pinder, Major Frank C. Wasley, Chas. Cowley, Chas. W. Philbrick, Wm. L. Dickey, Chas. A. Dain, Geo. T. Woodward, Jas. P. Emerson, Olin Bartlett, Seth Shawwood, Nathan Parker, Geo. W. Ballou, Abner L. Kitteridge, Peter Littlehale, Wm. A. Arnold, Paul Chaffee, Thos. W. Smith, Leon Thayer, Thos. O'Donnell, Carl MacGregor, Chas. W. Brown, Edw. B. Laporte, J. M. Book, A. D. Mitchell, J. G. Hutton, Alfred Davis, R. W. Plafsted, Fred W. Parker, and Chas. T. Cahill."

Major Noyes can tell better than I how many of those men are still alive; but I count from the list twenty-five that I am quite sure have passed away. The grim reaper cuts an awfully wide swath in 25 years.

Quarter Century Ago

The following from The Sun of 1896, shows the beginning of the Textile school, now one of the best schools of its kind in the world:

"The city has turned over $25,000 to Treasurer A. G. Pollard, of the Textile school trustees, and is now waiting for the $25,000 from the state. Application has been made for the state money, and it is expected that it will be forthcoming by next week. Then the government will appoint two trustees to act for one year. The mayor and superintendent of schools became trustees ex-officio as soon as the city paid the money."

The trustees are: President, A. G. Cannon; clerk, James T. Smith; treasurer, A. J. Pollard; others, W. S. Southworth, Haven C. Parham, Fred S. Clark, North Billerica; A. S. Lyon, E. W. Thomas, C. L. Hildreth, Jacob Rogers, Frederick Lawton, E. S. Hyman, Thomas Welch, the mayor and superintendent of schools, all of Lowell, Augustus Lowell, and Edw. W. Atkinson of Boston, and the governor's appointees to be named.

Conductor Electrocuted

The following from the old Sun recalls a fatal accident to a popular street railway conductor here. That was in the early days of the trolley cars in Lowell and as there was no inspector of wires the people were in great danger of such accidents:

"Jeremiah Cohlaine, one of the oldest conductors on the Lowell and Suburban road, was instantly killed on Pawtucket street, near Gage's feed-house, this morning. The high wind blew down a live feed wire, which stretched across the track."

"When 'Jerry,' as he was familiarly called, came along on his car, he got off and started to cross the wire from the street. He did not know it was a live wire, and so stooped to pick it up. No sooner had he taken hold of it, than he fell to the ground, and died almost instantly."

As a result of that accident The Sun demanded the appointment of an inspector of wires and soon such a position was created and an incumbent chosen.

Fatal Accident in Appleton Mill

From the old Sun:

"A terrible, fatal accident occurred in the Appleton mills this morning. One young lady lost her life, and two others were injured, though not seriously. In No. 2 weave room, which is in the five-story mill on Jackson street, there are about one hundred hands employed. This morning they reported for work as usual, and the looms had been running about forty minutes, when a crashing, tearing noise was heard, and the main steam pipe, which runs diagonally across the room for a distance of 150 feet fell into the looms below."

Ellen LaPlante, a young French girl of 22 years of age, was at her loom engaged in threading a shuttle when the pipe fell. Her body was slightly inclined forward, and the pipe struck her near the back of the head, causing a frightful scalp wound and pinning her to the loom. When removed she was dead. Two other operatives, Effie McDonald and Mayle D'Amour were seriously injured."

That was one of the most serious accidents recorded in any of the local mills.

Our First Flying Machine

Just 25 years ago Prof. Langley of the Smithsonian institute at Washington was building a flying machine. He had a crude affair which got up in the air, and landed in the old Sun thus:

"When such an authority as Prof. Alexander Graham Bell bears testimony to the fact that a flying machine has actually soared through the air like some gigantic bird over a course of fully half a mile, most people will agree that, to all intents and purposes, the problem of aerial navigation has been solved."

"The aerodrome or flying machine," says Prof. Bell, of telephone fame, "was of steel driven by a steam engine. It resembled an enormous bird soaring in the air with extreme regularity in large curves, sweeping steadily upwards in a spiral path, until it reached a height of about 100 feet in the air, at the end of a course of half a mile. Then the steam gave out. The propellers stopped, and the whole gotted down as slowly and gracefully as it is possible for any bird to do, landing without damage."

"Of course this machine is simply in an experimental form, compared with the airplanes that are to come. It will doubtless be like the original Stephenson locomotive engine by the side of the famous world's fair engine of 1893." Prof. Langley tried to improve on this machine, but when he started upward it became unmanageable and landed in the Potomac. Other inventors using the progress he had made beat him out and he died a disappointed man.

The rich people ever go touring in huge and splendidous cars That move with a smoothness alluring. Protected from jolts and from jars: Our car shakes the spine and the liver, And yet it's our joy and our pride— The little old family flyer— That cheerfully takes us to ride.

It's true when we go for a spin, It's crowded wherever it wends: For all of the family in it, Along with a number of friends. Though packed till we scarcely can quiver, We still can enjoy all the while The little old family flyer— Which carries us merrily after merrily.

It's funny and dandy and battered, It rattles and jounces a lot. But somehow that never has mattered Compared to the fun that we get In riding by hill, lake and river, Wherever we happened to steer, The little old family flyer— That's served us for many a year.

What care we for mud-guards that yammer Or springs that complain as we run? This car has brought magic and glamor: It's made us all pals with the sun. Its body may shimmy and shiver, Its cylinders miss, yet we praise The little old family flyer— That adds to the fun of our days! (Copyright 1921 by The Lowell Sun)

Tribute To President of Holyoke

Woman Missionaries Taboo Short Skirts

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, May 21.—Methodist women missionaries who go forth to teach the heathen in foreign lands will not wear short skirts or peek-a-boo waists, according to a decision of the secretarial conference of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, announced today, as follows: "We, in conference assembled, request the branch corresponding secretaries to instruct their outgoing missionaries to include in their outfit only such garments as will not subject them to the charge of immorality and as will represent the highest ideals of American womanhood."

That Tired Feeling

Is Just As Much A Warning As "Stop, Look and Listen." It indicates run-down conditions and means that you must purify your blood, renew your strength, and your "power of resistance" or be in great danger of serious sickness, the grip, flu, fevers, contagious and infectious diseases. Do not make light of it. It is serious. Give it attention at once. Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. He knows this good old family medicine is Just The Thing To Take in Spring for that tired feeling, loss of appetite, debility. It is an all-the-year-round medicine, wonderfully effective in the treatment of scrofula, catarrh, rheumatism and run-down after-disease conditions. Every husband has taken Hood's Sarsaparilla every spring for years, and it always puts him in shape. He is 35 years old. Mrs. N. Campbell, Decatur, Ill. A mild laxative, Hood's Pills.

SECY. WEEKS TALKS OF FORTS AND RESERVATIONS TO SUN WRITER

Some That Are Useless to Be Transferred to Other Departments or to Outside Organizations—Over Thirty in Massachusetts

(Special to The Sun)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—Widespread reports that have been sent out to the effect that Secretary of War Weeks had recommended the sale or abandonment of many forts and reservations of historic interest, scattered through New England, are without foundation. To be sure, a few such government possessions will be listed as desirable to be transferred or sold, but no wholesale reduction will be made in the number now existing.

A talk with Secretary of War Weeks, and also with the chairman of the sub-committee of the military committee having in charge the investigation of such possessions shows conclusively that the purpose is to reduce the expense of the war department by doing away with such possessions as are of no present or prospective military value. The general plan is to retain all that are likely to be of value to the war department, but turn over to some other government activity, or outside organization, such as are no longer of value for military purposes. This covers the general plan, but exceptions may be made when the cost of retaining such sites is slight and their historic value great.

The question of retaining or abandoning forts and military reservations does not rest alone in the hands of the secretary of war. He may recommend, but it is Congress that authorizes action. Some time ago Congress authorized the military affairs committee of the house to have an inventory taken of all the military possessions in the United States. The list of forts and military reservations is now being completed and the committee will report to Congress in the near future. It is the purpose of that committee to recommend the retention of all such possessions as have present or future military value, and it is their purpose to advise the transfer to other branches of the government such as are desirable for government uses, or to sell such possessions to outside or educational organizations. Already the public health service has taken over three such posts in the west, and many are now being used for vocational training in connection with their original purposes. The war department does not want the expense, or to be charged with the care of useless materials. It is quite probable that some of the towns and cities can obtain historic sites or buildings, when they are to be disposed of. The war department is in full sympathy with the preservation of such sites, but wants to rid itself of the burden of considering them a part of the military defense of the country.

Secretary Weeks Talks to Sun
In an interview today with The Sun correspondent, Secretary of War John W. Weeks of Massachusetts said: "I am in entire sympathy with the idea of preserving valuable historic sites, but I do not believe they should be retained by the war department as part of its system of defense." In a number of instances the D.A.R.'s have secured sites that were to be sold or transferred and down in Maine one old reservation is not being utilized to advantage as a school for farming.

Forts and Reservations
Of the forts and reservations in Massachusetts only a very small number are likely to come under abandonment. Many are now in active use for one purpose or another and their future usefulness will also be carefully considered before any movement is made toward their permanent abandonment.

Massachusetts forts and reservations number approximately 50. Of these Camp Devens is the only divisional cantonment in the 1st Corps Area and will be continued as such for an indefinite period. Fort Warren is the actual headquarters of the Boston harbor defense system and in addition to its primary purpose now has a vocational training system which is attended by 30 men at the present time. That, of course, is in the permanent class. Very few reservations or forts have thus far come under the probable abandonment plan.

The old Gun house at Gloucester will be sold, by approval of the secretary of war, as will be the Natick target practice field. The military reservation at Salisbury beach consisting of two acres, one of which is said to be under water most of the time, will not be retained according to present plans, and by approval of the secretary. As a matter of course the government arsenals at Springfield and Watertown are regarded as permanent, the war department regarding them as among the most important plants of the sort in the country.

Other forts and reservations which are not likely to come under the ban of the war department are as follows: Fort Andrews at Plymouth, where the life saving station is located and which might be valuable for future defense. Fort Banks at Boston, now a vocational training school with more than one hundred men attending, is also a valuable defense. Fort Banks at Winthrop is not only a vocational training school with considerable more than 100 students, but is also a valuable coast artillery post. The Army Supply Base at Boston must be retained as a depot and Cal Island in the harbor is likewise regarded as valuable to retain.

Deer Island, the Greater Brewster, Fort Heath at Winthrop, and Little Island are under the same desirable class while Fort Independence is being used as a public park and is not likely to be disturbed.

Salem Has Historic Fort
Salem has one of the most interesting old forts from a historic viewpoint in Fort Lee. It cost the government nothing to maintain and will not be disturbed, according to present plans. Long Point at Provincetown has a valuable rifle range, is utilized by the coast guard and might be a very valuable hydroplane station in the future. There is a reservation at Nahant that would prove a valuable harbor defense in case of need, while Fort Phoenix down at New Bedford now used as a park, would be of great value in case of needed defense.

Salem, has in addition to the old Fort Lee park, a valuable site known as Fort Pickering, now used by the Light House service and also by the Plummer Farm school, thus serving a double purpose.

Fort Revere, at Hull, is being used for vocational training and is also valuable for defense. The only coast defense New Bedford has in working condition is Fort Rodman, now used as a vocational training school with 120 men at present taking instruction. Over at Winthrop Fort Banks and Heath could not well be spared on account of their wharfage facilities and down at Marblehead, Fort Sewell would be a valuable defense site, though now used only for a public park. Fort Standish at Boston harbor is one of the big systems of harbor fortifications and is being utilized for a small number of men taking vocational training. Old Fort Standish at Plymouth harbor is of such historic interest, that although it is not needed for national defense, will undoubtedly be retained.

One of the important forts in Boston harbor defense is Fort Strong, now used by the coast artillery and as a vocational training school and an educational institution for the 1st Corps Area. More than 100 men are attending the training school.

Fort Winthrop is now used as a public park but its location is admirably suited for anti-air craft guns and future defense.

Taken all in all, there is now much to be said for the preservation of Massachusetts forts and reservations, although the matter is being fully discussed, New England is not likely to suffer much through proposed abandonment or transfer.

HONOR MADAME CURIE

Pres. Harding Pays Tribute to Scientist and Presents
Gram of Radium

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A gram of radium, purchased by the contributions of thousands of American women, was presented by President Harding late yesterday afternoon to Mme. Curie, the prominent Polish scientist, as a token of the nation's appreciation of her accomplishments and as an earnest expression of American interest in the advancement of science and humanitarianism.

At the same time the president expressed a fervent hope that the scientific principles of radio activity established by Mme. Curie in her research work which led to her discovery of radium, might be found to dominate also the relations of mankind in the present world crisis, so that the yearnings and aspirations of the many may radiate a new spirit of service to the souls of chosen leaders.

Formal presentation of the gift to Mme. Curie, who came to this country expressly to receive it, was made at the White House at a ceremony attended by government officials and by a committee of those responsible for raising the purchase fund of $100,000. The radium will be used to continue research work for prevention of disease.

President Harding paid tribute to the personal attainments of the distinguished visitor, to the spirit of womanhood typified by her, and to the national traditions which lie behind her native Poland and her adopted country, the French republic. He asked that she accept the gift, not only as a personal tribute, but as befitting the affection of one great people for another.

The president's address follows: "On behalf of the American nation, I greet and welcome you to our country, in which you will everywhere find the most cordial possible reception. We welcome you as an adopted daughter of France, our earliest supporter among the great nations. We greet you as a native born daughter of Poland, newest ally of the United States, the object of the great nation's sympathy and affection. In you we see the representative of Poland restored and reinstated to its rightful place, of France valiantly maintained in the high estate which has over her been its right."

"We greet you as foremost among scientists in the age of science, a leader among women in the generation which sees woman come tardily into her own. We greet you as an exemplar of liberty's victories in the generation wherein liberty has won her crown of glory. In doing honor to you we testify anew to our pride in the ancient friendships which have bound us to both the country of your adoption and that of your native land."

"It has been your fortune, Mme. Curie, to accomplish an immortal work for humanity. We bring to you the meed of honor which is due to pre-eminence in science, scholarship, research and humanitarianism. But with it all we bring something more. We lay at your feet the testimony of that love which all the generations of men have been wont to bestow upon the noble woman, the unselfish wife, the devoted mother. If, indeed, these simpler and commoner relations of life could not keep you from great attainments in the realms of science and intellect, it is also true that the zeal, ambition and unswerving purpose of a lofty career could not stir you from splendidly doing all the plain but worthy tasks which fall to every woman's lot."

"A number of years ago a reader of one of your earlier works on radio-active substance noted the observation that there was much divergence of opinion as to whether the energy of radio-active substances is created within those substances themselves or is gathered to them from outside sources and then diffused from them. The question suggested an answer which is doubtless hopelessly unscientific. I have liked to believe in an analogy between the spiritual and the physical world. I have been very sure that which I may call the radio-active soul, or spirit, intellect, will it what you choose—must first gather to itself from its surroundings, the power that it afterwards radiates in beneficence to those near it. I believe it the sum of many inspirations, borne in on great souls which enables them to warm, to stimulate, to radiate, to illumine and serve those about them."

"Let me press the analogy a little farther. The world today is appealing to its statesmen, its religious, its humanitarian and its scientific leaders for solution of appalling problems. I want to hope that the power and universality of that appeal will inspire strong, devout, consecrated men and women to seek out the solution and in the light of their wisdom, to carry it to all mankind. I have faith to believe that precisely that will happen; and in your own career of achievement, I find heartening justification for my faith."

"In testimony of the affection of the American people, of their confidence in your scientific work and of their earnest wish that your genius and energy may receive all encouragement to carry forward your efforts for the advance of science and conquest of disease, I have been commissioned to present to you this little phial of radium. To you we owe our knowledge and possession of it, and so to you we give it, confident that in your possession it will be the means further to unlock the fascinating secrets of nature, to widen the field of useful knowledge, to alleviate suffering among the children of man. It betokens the affection of one great people for another."

THE MEDICAL BATHS

The "Medical Baths" is a popular name for a scientific physiotherapy establishment for the treatment of disorders and ailments by physical modalities, hydrotherapy, electrotherapy (violet ray), vibration, massage and gymnastics. We have made a careful study of physiotherapy in every form and with the aid of proper equipment and scientific knowledge are able to carry out more skillfully and with greater effectiveness, all forms of treatment, than was possible with the crude and primitive applications of former times. Physiotherapy is an advanced scientific treatment for acute and chronic diseases. The tendency of the human mind is to be slow in adopting new things and habits. Good things generally have to fight their way into popular favor and physiotherapy is no exception to the rule. The more advanced physicians today are fast realizing the benefit their patients are deriving from these physical treatments. The best doctor has been said to be the one who assists nature help his patients to get well. These treatments are modified in accordance with the requirements of the patients or physicians. Patients unable to visit the "Medical Baths" may arrange for treatment at their homes. All treatments given by appointment only, whether at home or the office, Miss G. V. Follansbee, Room 5, Keith's theatre building. Phone 5122.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN

MEET NEW CHAIRMAN

Arthur Lyman, the new chairman of the democratic state committee, was introduced to the members of the women's wing of the committee at a meeting in the Parker house, Boston, this afternoon. Arrangements for the meeting were made by Miss Gertrude F. Hayes, state organizer and first vice chairman of the committee. The program arranged for the afternoon included an address on "Party Organization" by Mrs. Halsey Wilson of New York, and speeches by Mayor Edward W. Quinn of Cambridge, member of the democratic national committee; Mrs. J. Malcolm Forbes, member of the state committee, and Mrs. Susan W. Fitzgerald, former chairman of the woman's division of the state committee.

WOMEN'S RELIEF CORPS

There was a large attendance at the last regular meeting of B. F. Butler Women's Relief Corps, 75, which was held in Memorial hall, Mrs. Alice Welch, president, occupied the chair and routine business was transacted. Two applications for membership were received and two new members were initiated. The organization voted to decorate the graves of departed members in the various local cemeteries on Saturday afternoon preceding Memorial day and several members have volunteered to do the work. Joseph Denio entertained with a song of his own composition, "The Soldier Boys Are Leaving Town," and he was highly appreciated. Plans for the dinner on Memorial day at which the members of Post 42 will be entertained, were completed and a large turnout of veterans is expected.

RIGHT AND WRONG IN DRESS

CORRECT

INCORRECT

This shows the proper (left) and the improper (right) way to dress. On the right the gray hat (1) and the gray dress (2) only accentuate the sallowness of face, and the light hair (3). The V-neck (4) and the narrow belt (5) and the vertical lines of the fringe (6) that all dresses should have.

NARROW BELTS

Box lines are found on many of the full suits and with these lines invariably there is a narrow belt of leather, self color or contrasting. Note the veil, if you please, the laciness of which is its only excuse for being a veil, for it enhances the throat instead of flaring the face.

BROADWAY ROMEO TELLS HOW HE WON WIVES

Yvonne Davis &amp; J.W. Murray

"Broadway Romeo" has settled down.

John William Murray, well known figure on New York's gay white way, and recently involved in a marital tangle with three beautiful wives, has decided to trust his future happiness to Wife No. 1—Yvonne Davis, now appearing in movie pictures.

Murray made his appearance recently in San Francisco and the tale came ahead of him that he was fleeing the wrath of three wives. Yvonne Davis, No. 1, Elizabeth Dougherty, war worker and nurse, No. 2, and Anita May Southwick, Broadway stage star, No. 3.

Murray, it is claimed, had not taken the trouble to properly separate from either of them before marrying the others. However, he was provided with a first class alibi and, rushing to Los Angeles, staged a reconciliation with the first wife of his choice.

"I always choose poor girls on whom to lavish my affections," he explained, in relating how he won three wives. "I passed up women of wealth and beauty and culture to devote myself entirely to lonesome ones. It makes a big hit with a girl if she thinks you are passing up all this for her in my case all three women were lonely."

"But for that matter," he adds, "Women do the proposing. Every woman is born a past master in the art of roping a man."

WATCH THE ICE BOX

Look your refrigerator through carefully every day. One dish of tainted food can spoil several others.

When bits of foods are saved they should be used in combination with other ingredients and not saved just to fill the refrigerator and spoil. There is no point in saving a few stalks of asparagus for three days and then throwing them out perhaps after they have upset the whole ice box.

Menu For Tomorrow

BREAKFAST—Lemon juice, spinach with poached eggs on toast, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Cream of tomato soup, croquettes, pineapple pie, cocoa.

DINNER—Creamed dried beef, baked potatoes, corn croquettes, cabbage and pimiento salad, toasted crackers and cheese, coffee.

My Own Recipes

Cabbage offers minerals and adds pliancy to the meal. The cheese makes up for a light meat course.

Pineapple Pie

One cup grated pineapple, ½ cup sugar, 1 orange (grated rind and juice), 1-16 teaspoonful salt, 1 egg, 1 dessert spoon flour.

Mix sugar, flour, salt and yolk of egg to a smooth paste. Add rind and juice of orange and pineapple. Cook over a slow fire, stirring constantly till thick. Turn into a baked pie shell. Cover with meringue made by beating the egg white till stiff and dry with 2 tablespoons sugar and 1 tablespoon water. Brown in a moderate oven.

Cabbage and Pimiento Salad

Two cups shredded cabbage, 1 teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, dash celery pepper, dash onion pepper, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 4 tablespoons oil, 1 pimiento.

Put cabbage in mixing bowl and crush with wooden potato masher. Add dry ingredients and mix thoroughly. Pour over vinegar and mix. Add oil and mix. Arrange on plates and add strips of pimiento.

FOR BLACKHEADS

If blackheads are your worry a powder made of two ounces each of corn or wheat starch, powdered borax and almond meal will help. After washing the face with hot water at night, rub in a quantity of the powder and then rinse out with hot water.

Perfect Shoulders and Arms

Nothing equals the beautiful, soft, peachy white appearance Cream renders to the shoulders and arms. Will not rub off. Far superior to powders.

FOR GRADUATES

Marguerites are fitting indeed as the festive touch on the frock for the graduate. They may be embroidered in white or are very effective in a delicate color against the white organdie background. Widths of line tucks are a pleasing touch. The gown is worn by Lila Lee, Paramount star.

DID YOU KNOW—

That you can lengthen the life of your enamel saucepans if you put them in water and bring the water to boiling point before they are used?

That the child who drinks a generous quantity of milk stands a better chance of having good teeth, because teeth need the lime in milk?

That onion juice allowed to remain on the spot for a time and then washed off will remove rust from metal?

OFF THE FACE, IS THE WORD

The off the face slant has a grip on feminine headwear which is due to last through the winter it seems.

This lovely chapeau, worn so charmingly by Betty Carpenter of Paramount Pictures, is of rough soft straw with

ARTIST IN STYLES

Even Balance of Material Destroys Natural Lines

When you invade the shops with a new coat, suit or gown in mind, beware of the even balance of material. For therein, says Miss Evelyn Hansen of Chicago Art Institute, is the greatest fault of the American woman so far as her dress is concerned.

This is especially true since the advent of the short skirt and the long, loose blouse.

An absolutely even balance of material will completely destroy the natural line of the figure.

A dress heavy with self color fringe is equally bad for the slender figure. The many "down" lines emphasize the slowness and increase the effect of height.

In the frock with the black taffeta bottom and the henna crepe de chine top is the correct balance of line, color and material, according to Miss Hansen. The dark collar and wide, loose dark sash over the long blouse line gives the necessary accent and breaks the line in the correct proportion.

As for color, Miss Hansen warns the gray-haired women of the danger in blue.

"Blue," says she, "heightens the sallow effect. Blue is a color, especially in its lighter tones, which should be worn only by youth when there is much warm color in face and hair."

So far as color is concerned, all women, says Miss Hansen, belong in one of three classes—the tan, pink or Bulgarian type. The tan type of woman should dress in her own colors, soft tans, creams and browns. The pink type can venture into the field of light blue, pinks, mulberry, practically anything which is not a red-purple.

STOUT WOMEN

Should Wear—The V-neck line. Long chains with long links. Square or pointed ornaments. Hats which have height and have an uneven brim line.

Should Not Wear—Round necks. Short necklaces. Hats with round drooping lines. Small round turned-up hats.

THIN WOMEN

Should Wear—Round neck lines. Trimming with circular tendency. Wide and roll brim hats. Wide sashes.

Should Not Wear—The V-neck line. Vertical trimming. Hats with round drooping lines. Narrow belt effects.

JUNE BEAUTY

IS NATURAL

June is on the way! And juggling along her wealth of roses, with, incidentally, a touch of tan.

June is the month which should mark the end of the indoor manufacture of beauty and the beginning of the brand made chiefly by sun and air. Whether you are 15 or 40, in the summer it is wise to dispense with massage and heavy creams and give nature her opportunity. For just as your mind needs change and diversion, so does your hair and your skin. Wash your face in cold water in the morning. Then if you are going out, shopping or for sport, dust it lightly with a fine rice powder. Don't rub it in. Puff it on lightly. For rubbing powder is continually will soon result in an oily skin.

When you come home cleanse your face with a wash cloth dampened in moderate water, put on a very thin layer of cold cream and on top of that plenty of sweet smelling astringent.

And remember that whenever you want to wash your face with soap, cold cream is first, leaving the soap on for about five minutes and then wash it while the cream is still on.

SPORT COATS

For sport coats the three-quarter length is gaining over the longer model. These are most often fashioned of tweed.

MRS. NELLIE WOODSFORD SPEAKS TO MOTHERS

East Boston—At 23 Lameon st., Mrs. Nellie Woodford and her children now "live happy and grateful" to Dr. True's Elixir. Mrs. Woodford says: "My bowels were out of order and my breath bad. I had terrible headaches and it seemed I had suffered years before your Dr. True's Elixir was brought to me. After a short time I was myself again, my bowels were all right and I'm full of gratitude." "It may interest you to know also that once since my youngest child was terribly sick and it was a serious case. We all have your Elixir to thank for relieving her stomach worms."

Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, has done wonders for children and grown-ups since 1851. Pleasant to take, mild in action.—Adv.

BANNER YEAR FOR HOME CANNING

This promises to be a banner year for home preserving and canning. In the first place, it seems certain now that there will be fair crops of the most popular fruits, although early newspaper reports from fruit-growing centres were a little discouraging.

Almost as important as the fruit supply is the amount of sugar on hand. This year there is a plentiful supply on the market and at prices below those of the last few years. Another feature of the situation is that most canning factories will not be in operation this year. Small wonder, therefore, that housewives the country over are planning to "put up" more fruit this year than they have since before the war.

The determination of housewives to make this a big year for home fruit canning is already reflected by the sale of preserving and canning supplies. Department stores report a considerable demand for jars, rubbers, paraffin and like equipment.

During the last few years when home economies have become fashionable through necessity, women have realized more than ever that a full preserve shelf means housekeeping money saved. They know that preserves take the place of more expensive foods and have a high nutritive value besides.

PICTURE CHARACTERS OF PILGRIM STORY

The children of the Lexington avenue training school pictured the stirring events of the days of the Mayflower and the Pilgrims in a pageant on the school grounds this afternoon. Most of the leading characters, who landed on Plymouth rock and started to open a pathway through the wilderness for liberty, had a part in the performance. After the entertainment the Parent Teachers' association connected with the school held a sale of books, household articles and delicacies.

TO SHAPE SALAD

Your ice cream spoon will make an excellent salad mold. Put the salad in, packing it loosely so the fruit or vegetables will not be crushed and then turn it out on the plate.

MISS DORIS L. HOWARD

ed by an academic procession including trustees, faculty, and seniors in cap and gown, with Miss Eleanor C. Donak, associate professor of mathematics, acting as chief marshal. Greetings were extended to President Woolley by Rev. Henry A. Stinson of New York City, for the trustees, Dr. N. Nellson, professor of history and political science, for the faculty. Mrs. Lena Aldrich Schuster of East Douglass, Mass., vice president of the National Alumnae association for the alumnae, and Miss Mary E. Manson, '21, of Greenburg, Mass., president of the student government association, for the student body.

After President Woolley's reply to these greetings, the choir sang a commemorative ode in Latin, the words of which were written by Dr. Margaret C. Waltes, associate professor of Latin, and the music by Albert N. Tucker, associate professor of music, and addresses on "The Liberal College" were made by President William Allan Nelson of Smith college, Dean Marion Park of Simmons college, and Professor John Erskine of the department of English literature at Columbia University.

Luncheon was served in Mead hall for the trustees and college. Miss Doris L. Howard, '22 of 4, Barton avenue this city, took part as one of the court ladies in the scene four.

THIS IS NEW

Paris shops are teaching women to walk. When women began to reinvent their fashions and say they loved them but couldn't walk in them the managers decided something should be done about it. So now, in the smart shops, there are dancing teachers who teach the woman who buys a new gown how to walk in it.

VEGETABLES

Wife of Chicago Millionaire Charged With Robbing Half a Dozen Homes

Police Estimate Value of Articles Said to Have Been Stolen at $20,000

CHICAGO, May 21.—Mrs. Joseph S. Hill, wife of a millionaire banker and investment broker, was under arrest today, charged with robbing half a dozen homes where she had obtained employment as a maid. A large number of articles found in her home were identified, the police said, by families who had been robbed. They ranged from gilded canary cages to silverware, lamps, jewelry and china. The police said Mrs. Hill expressed little surprise when they came to arrest her at her home.

The license number of an automobile in which a large quantity of goods was carried away from the home of H. Miller by their newly employed maid a few days ago was traced to Mrs. Hill. Police estimated the value of articles she was alleged to have stolen at $20,000.

Mrs. Hill is 35 years old and the mother of four children. Accompanying her to the police station, her husband said he could not understand his wife's peculiar actions and had no explanation for her behavior. She bought the furniture and other articles from auction sales. He said she had a personal spending allowance of $300 a month and often received additional sums.

Police declared that pawn tickets showed she had disposed of some of the articles she is charged with taking. The setting of a ring which had contained a $1500 diamond was identified by one woman who had employed her as maid. Four women identified her as the maid they had employed. To each one she had given a different name and high class references.

WILD RUNAWAY BUT NO DAMAGE DONE

What might be called a record was established this morning by a horse owned by Samuel Rostler, proprietor of Rostler's market in Branch street, when the animal after running away, covered a distance of nearly a mile without doing any damage.

The horse, hitched to a delivery

Haverhill Building Workers Accept Cut

HAVERHILL, May 21.—A wage scale calling for a 10 per cent. reduction was agreed to today by the carpenters, electricians, painters and sheet metal workers after several weeks of negotiations with the masters, who sought a 20 per cent. cut. The old scale was $1 an hour. The new wage is effective at once. The $1 an hour scale for plumbers and fitters will continue until July 1. The bricklayers, stone masons, plasterers, cement finishers and hod carriers will continue wage conferences with the contractors and, if unable to agree, will submit the question to a local arbitration board.

Believe One Killed In Battle On Ship

PORTLAND, Me., May 21.—James Walker, 45, colored, and member of the crew of the schooner Mary W. Barrett, is missing and is believed to have been killed and thrown overboard when a gang of more than a dozen white men descended upon the craft early today and attacked five negro sailors after they had been driven from their bunks to the deck at the point of a revolver. A desperate fight took place on deck and the negroes were badly beaten up while one of them barely saved himself from being hurled into the schooner's hold. When the encounter was over, Walker could not be found, and as soon as the schooner has discharged more of her cargo of coal, she will be moved away from the wharf to permit search for the man's body by the officials.

Many Signers for Petitions

have been placed in stores and other places, it is stated. Other petitions that have been placed with the labor unions are still being signed and no estimate is made of the number of signatures that have been obtained. The number of signatures required to force the measure before the municipal council, and possibly before the voters, is slightly less than 3000. Members of the committee state that they are confident that they will have 5000 names ready for presentation to the city clerk as required by law, by the last of next week.

Representatives of the former employees of the Gas Light company, who are now striking against a proposed change in a working agreement made with them by the company, said today that they had received an intimation over a month ago that their employer intended to force an open shop on the men who were 100 per cent. unionized. They claimed that the statement of C. P. Prichard, superintendent of the plant, yesterday that it is the intention of the company in the future to run an open shop bears out their contention.

Members of the strikers' committee today asserted that the company had jumped the price of gas from $1.30 per thousand cubic feet to $1.70 since the scale of wages paid previously to the strike was established.

In a statement the men appealed to citizens to get behind them in their move for a municipal gas plant as the only, practical method of bringing down the price of gas. The claim is made that the cost of making gas has very largely decreased as a result of a reduction in the price of practically all of the commodities used in its production. The men quote from a statement from the Consolidated Gas company of New York, announcing a reduction from $1.50 to $1.25 in the price of their product, that it is now possible to purchase the crude oil used by gas companies for six cents instead of over 12 cents a gallon.

The workers, it was stated by members of the strikers' committee, intend to make "Cheaper Gas for the People" their slogan in the campaign to bring about the establishment of a municipal plant.

A wagon, standing in front of the store in Branch street at about 10 o'clock, when a little boy struck it across the legs with a whip. The horse started at breakneck speed through the street and continued its wild race through Middlesex street and across Central street into Green street, dodging around electric cars and other vehicles.

The frightened horse was finally brought to a stop when the rig collided with an automobile truck. No damage was caused, however, and on one was injured, although on many occasions in the course of its wild run the animal narrowly escaped striking pedestrians.

Mill Men Optimistic

as near to their full capacity as at present, and there is a fair prospect that some of the establishments now on part time will add to their running schedules. It is reported that one of the mills, now running nearly full time, has recently received a large order for blankets.

In the woolen mills the business outlook is brighter than for several months past. A considerable part of the looms in local plants are running. There are said to be a few breaks in the clouds as regards the knitting mills.

Most of the shoe shops are now fairly well supplied with orders. There is said to be a very good demand for the lower-priced grades of footwear.

Summing up the situation it may be said that the outlook is that none of the employers who desire to take vacations this summer are likely to have to forego their outings on account of a rush of work, and neither is there likely to be any considerable addition to the number of unemployed workers.

WILL ORGANIZE DRIVE

A meeting of the presidents of the various French organizations, of this city will be held at St. Joseph's college in Merrimack street tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The meeting is being called for the purpose of organizing a committee in this city for the drive for funds for the Mt. St. Charles College of Woonsocket, R. I., which was started some time ago. The general chairman of the drive is Mr. Joseph Lusier, editor of La Justice of Holyoke, while Lawyer J. H. Guillet of this city is a member of the general committee.

Many Interested Spectators View Knockout High School Drill on the South Common

BUTTS' MANUAL EXERCISES IN HIGH SCHOOL ELIMINATION DRILL ON SOUTH COMMON

The annual elimination or "knock-out" drill of the boys' regiment of the Lowell high school which took place on the South common yesterday afternoon gave a large number of interested spectators an insight into the exercises which will form part of the high school field day program at Spaulding park next Friday afternoon.

The elimination drill was held under a blazing sun and the various maneuvers which the young soldiers were called upon to go through brought perspiration to many a brow, but not a man gave up or showed any signs of quitting until his part of the program was finished.

The six companies of the regiment each went through a required program of movements under the direction of three officers from Camp Devens who acted in the role of Judges. When the competition had ended it was found that three best drilled companies were: Co. A, Capt. Ernest Anderson; Co. B, Capt. William Shea and Co. C, Capt. Allan McKenzie.

Supervising the drill were Major Colby T. Fitzgerald, military instructor at the high school, and James F. Conway, faculty director of the regiment.

The individual prize drill elimination brought out a large squad of contestants and the following members of the regiment were finally selected to take part in the individual competition on field day:

Sgt. Foster Browning, Corp. Norman Macenlum, Sgt. Robert Hall, Sgt. Ernest Craig, Sgt. Bertram Bryant, Sgt. Ralph Jenkins, Corp. Arthur Pare, Sgt. Daniel Hanson, Corp. Donald Payne, Sgt. Maj. James Bussby, Corp. George Garvey, Corp. Clinton Howe, Sgt. Joseph Bussby, Corp. James Mansour, Corp. Arthur McQuade.

Next Monday further preparations for field day will be held. Freshmen boys will report at the South common at 8 o'clock and members of the regiment at 8:15. Freshmen girls will report in the main hall at 8 and the girls in the first and second battalions will report in the annex at 8:30.

DEATHS

MCCARTON—Mrs. Bridget Lacey McCarton died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Margaret V. Conley, 21 Leroy street. # AUCTION SALE — OF THE —

A. W. DOWS & CO., DRUG STORE, 236 MERRIMACK ST.

CORNER OF SHATTUCK ST., LOWELL, MASS., THURSDAY, MAY 20, 1921, COMMENCING AT 10 A. M.

A. W. Dows & Co., having been leased out of this store, formerly the Carleton & Hovey drug store, purchased by A. W. Dows & Co. and conducted as a branch store for the past few years, and it being necessary to vacate June 1, I have been instructed to sell at public auction, without limit, all the store fixtures, consisting in part, of the following:

A very attractive soda fountain made by the Symonds & Poor Co., paragon style, that cost over $5000. The fountain has marble front, is 20 feet long, has the latest style syrup and fruit containers, wash trays, cooling tanks—all nickel plated; the back of fountain has large plate-glass mirror, having enclosed, curved glass cabinets full height on each side which stand on a marble base and have ample closets. This soda fountain is of the latest design and will appeal to anyone wanting a first-class, up-to-the-minute fountain. It is as good as new.

Hot soda urn with all fittings, (new); one five-foot silent salesman cigar showcase; 2 1-ft. 8 in. silent salesman candy showcases; 3 5-ft. 7 in. silent salesman showcases for toilet articles; 1 9-ft. silent salesman display showcase; 1 6-ft. silent salesman counter showcase; 1 wall case 30 ft. long with glass front and having 114 drawers and 10 closets; 1 wall case which is 7 ft. long and has 3 glass doors and 18 drawers; 1 wall case 21 ft. long with glass case and 11 closets; 1 wall case 9 ft. long with 3 glass doors and 5 closets; 1 wall case 8 ft. long with shelving and 8 closets; 1 National Cash Register that registers to $9.99; 1 National Combination Cash Register for soda fountain and cigar counter; druggist's counter scales; candy scales; clock; paper holders; medium-sized combination safe; 4-drawer card index case; 5 ft. sponge case; 2 ft. prescription counter; 30 drawer cabinet with 24 in. drawers; American carbonator with electric motor attached; ceiling electric fans; 5 ft. roll top desk, electric fixtures; ice crushing machine; ice chest; 2 combination ice cream tables and chairs; oak settee; awnings; electric signs, and other fixtures necessary to conduct a store of this kind.

When A. W. Dows & Co. took over this drug store, no expense was spared to make it a very attractive store, and the fixtures are of the best, and as good as new. It will be to your advantage to attend this sale, as everything will be sold to the highest bidder, for cash.

Per order, A. W. DOWS & CO.

Garbed in Old Clothes, Lowell Tech Men March Through the Streets Bound for "Upstream Day" Festivities

BAND HEADS THE PROCESSION

Students and Alumni, Together With Faculty March to Depot

Special Train Carries Them to Scene of Big Sporting Events

One of the most novel parades seen in Lowell in many days took place this morning, when a line of several hundred Lowell Textile school alumni, instructors, and undergraduates marched from the grounds of the institution to the Middlesex street station, arrayed in old clothes of every description, and bound for the Martin Luther club grounds, where "Upstream Day" festivities were held. Promptly at 10:30 a. m. the time scheduled for the start of the procession, the United States Cartridge company band struck up a lively march air, and the column swung into Moody street. Following the music came the members of the alumni body and faculty, wearing felt skull caps striped with the school colors of crimson and black. Then a color guard bearing the American flag marched, and the undergraduates brought up the rear. Aged khaki trousers, strange hats scrawled with mysterious legends, and odd and antique wearing apparel of divers sorts, gave evidence of the fact that the affair was not of the "full dress" variety. In fact, it was specified in the preliminary announcement of the event that the most venerable attire of each student should be worn, as the

CLEAN SWEEP FOR U. S. GOLFERS

HOVLAKE, England, May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—American golfers, who are to contest for the British amateur championship beginning Monday next, made a clean sweep in the foursomes arranged as part of a preliminary series of matches with British players today. All four foursomes were won by American pairs. Charles W. Evans and Robert T. Jones defeated George O. Simpson and J. L. C. Jenkins, 3 and 2.

Francis Outimet and Jesse Guilford defeated Cyril Tolley and F. W. Holderness, 3 and 2.

Dr. Paul Hunter and J. Wood Platt defeated R. H. De Montmorency and Roger Wethered, one up.

W. C. Fowner, Jr., and Frederick J. Wright defeated C. C. Aspiner and T. D. Armour, 4 and 2.

Individual matches were played this afternoon.

CONDITION IS STILL SERIOUS

Commissioner Salmon Not Yet Off Dangerous List at St. John's Hospital

Chauffeur of Wamesit Accident Car Arraigned in Police Court Today

The condition of Commissioner John F. Salmon, who was seriously injured in Thursday evening's auto crash in Wamesit, remains today about the same as yesterday with little improvement noted, according to a report given out at St. John's hospital this afternoon. His condition is still considered serious.

Wilfred J. Achin, the driver of the touring car which was smashed in the accident, was arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this morning on a charge of manslaughter. His case was continued to June 2 in order that an inquest report may be made in the interim.

Achin pleaded not guilty to the charge and was bailed in the sum of $2000 which was furnished by Representative Henry Achin. Anthony G. Kelley, the Tewksbury officer who arrested the defendant and who is the complainant in the charge, was recognized in the usual sum.

Commissioner Salmon was today passing through the critical period of his injuries. If he succeeds in passing through this evening, it is believed his chances for recovery will be very favorable.

The condition of the other victims of the accident was considerably improved today and it was expected that Miss Corinne Perreault, who had a few contusions of the head, will be discharged before evening. Mrs. Wilfred Cognate, wife of the man who

ALCOHOLIC CONTENT WAS ILLEGAL

Martin Sopol, charged with bringing two kegs of beer into Lowell with a horse and wagon, was fined $100. He was arrested by Bracon officers before he crossed the line. At a previous hearing, the question was raised as to whether the beverage actually contained over one per cent. of alcohol, the state legal limit. At conference was taken to today, and an analysis was made by state chemists. This revealed the fact that one of the barrels held liquid with a four per cent. alcoholic content, while that of the other was three per cent. Sopol declared himself unable to pay at once, being out of work, but said he would try to raise the money if given time. A week's suspension of sentence was then granted by Judge Enright, in view of the defendant having a wife and family.

RIGHT AND WRONG IN DRESS

This shows the proper (left) and the improper (right) way to dress. On the right the gray hat (1) and the gray dress (2) only accentuate the awkwardness of face, and the light hair (3). The V-neck (4) and the narrow belt (5) with the vertical lines of the fringe trimming (6) emphasize the thinness of the body. The figure on the left uses a rounded collar (1) of a dark material setting off the light complexion. The broad belt (2) gives the appearance of added weight to the figure while the dress has the correct balance (3) that all dresses should have.

IS NATURAL

June is on the way! And juggling along her wealth of roses, with, incidentally, a touch of tan. June is the month which should mark the end of the indoor manufacture of beauty and the beginning of the brand made chiefly by sun and air. Whether you are 15 or 40, in the summer it is wise to dispense with massage and heavy creams and give nature for opportunity. For just as your mind needs change and diversion, so does your hair and your skin. Wash your face in cold water in the morning. Then if you are going out, shopping or for sport, dust it lightly with a fine rice powder. Don't rub it in! Pluff it on lightly. For rubbing powder in continually will soon result in an oily skin. When you come home cleanse your face with a wash cloth dampened in moderate water, put on a very thin layer of cold cream and on top of that plenty of sweet smelling astringent. And remember, that whenever you want to wash your face with soap, cold-cream it first, leaving the cream on for about five minutes and then wash it while the cream is still on.

SPORT COATS

For sport coats the three-quarter length is gaining over the longer model. These are most often fashioned of tweed.

MRS. NELLIE WOODSFORD SPEAKS TO MOTHERS

East Boston.—At 23 Lamson st., Mrs. Nellie Woodsford and her children now "live happy and grateful" to Dr. True's Elixir. Mrs. Woodsford says: "My bowels were out of order and my breath bad. I had terrible headaches and it seemed I had suffered years before your Dr. True's Elixir was brought to me. After a short time I was myself again, my bowels were all right and I'm full of gratitude." "It may interest you to know also that once since my youngest child was terribly sick and it was a serious case. We all have your Elixir to thank for relieving her stomach worms."

Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, has done wonders for children and grown-ups since 1851. Pleasant to take, mild in action.—Adv.

BANNER YEAR FOR HOME CANNING

This promises to be a banner year for home preserving and canning. In the first place, it seems certain now that there will be fair crops of the most popular fruits, although early newspaper reports from fruit-growing centres were a little discouraging. Almost as important as the fruit supply is the amount of sugar on hand. This year there is a plentiful supply on the market, and at prices below those of the last few years. Another feature of the situation is that most canning factories will not be in operation this year. Small wonder, therefore, that housewives the country over are planning to "put up" more fruit this year than they have since before the war. The determination of housewives to make this a big year for home fruit canning is already reflected by the sale of preserving and canning supplies. Department stores report a considerable demand for jars, rubbers, paraffin and like equipment. During the last few years when home canning has become fashionable through necessity, women have realized more than ever that a full preserve shelf means housekeeping money saved. They know that preserves take the place of more expensive foods and have a high nutritive value besides.

PICTURE CHARACTERS OF PILGRIM STORY

The children of the Lexington avenue training school pictured the striking events of the days of the Mayflower and the Pilgrims in a pageant on the school grounds this afternoon. Most of the leading characters who landed on Plymouth rock and started to open a pathway through the wilderness for liberty, had a part in the performance. After the entertainment the Parent Teachers' association connected with the school held a sale of books, household articles and delicacies.

NARROW BELTS

Box lines are found on many of the fall suits and with these lines invariably there is a narrow belt of leather, self color or contrasting. Not the belt, if you please, the lachness of which is its only excuse for being a belt, for it encircles the throat instead of flanking the face.

MOUNT HOLYOKE COLLEGE

Lowell Girl Takes Part in Celebration in Honor of College Head

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass., May 21.—An elaborate celebration attended by more than 2000 alumni and guests marked the 20th anniversary of Miss Mary E. Woolley's inauguration as president of Mount Holyoke college. This morning at 10:30 o'clock, commemorative exercises were held in the Chapin auditorium. In the afternoon a pageant arranged from the first book of Spenser's "Faerie Queene," in which about 300 students took part, was given on the Pageant Field, under the direction of Virginia Tanner of Boston, well known producer of pageants. Last evening the "Electra" of Euripides was presented in the Chapin auditorium, with Edith Wynne Mathison in the title role and a cast chosen from her drama students and the seniors at the Bennett school, Millbrook, N. Y. The morning exercises were preceded.

MISS DORIS L. HOWARD

ed by an academic procession including trustees, faculty, and seniors in cap and gown, with Miss Eleanor C. Wood, associate professor of mathematics, acting as chief marshal. Greetings were extended to President Woolley by Rev. Henry A. Stimson of New York City, for the trustees, Dr. N. Nelson, professor of history and political science, for the faculty, Mrs. Lena Aldrich Schuster of East Hingham, Mass., vice president of the National Alumnae association for the alumnae, and Miss Mary E. Manson, 21, of Greenbush, Mass., president of the student government association, for the student body. After President Woolley's reply to these greetings, the choir sang a commemorative ode in Latin, the words of which were written by Dr. Margaret C. Waiter, associate professor of Latin, and the music by Albert M. Tucker, associate professor of music, and addresses on "The Liberal College" were made by President William Allan Neilson of Smith college, Dean Marion Park of Simmons college, and Professor John E. Lawrence of the department of English literature at Columbia University. Luncheon was served in Mead hall for the trustees and college. Miss Doris L. Howard, 22 of 1 Darton avenue this city, took part as one of the court ladies in the scene four.

THIS IS NEW
Dance shops are teaching women to walk! With women learn to return their beautiful gowns and say they loved them but couldn't walk in them the managers decided something should be done about it. So now in the smart shops, there are dancing teachers who teach the women who buy a new gown how to walk in it.

BROADWAY ROMEO TELLS HOW HE WON WIVES

Yvonne Davis &amp; J.W. Murray

"Broadway Romeo" has settled down. John William Murray, well known figure on New York's gay white way, and recently involved in a marital tangle with three beautiful wives, has decided to trust his future happiness to Wife No. 1—Yvonne Davis, now appearing in movie pictures. Murray made his appearance recently in San Francisco and the tale came ahead of him that he was fleeing the wrath of three wives: Yvonne Davis, No. 1; Elizabeth Dougherty, war worker and nurse, No. 2; and Anita May Southwick, Broadway stage star, No. 3. Murray, it is claimed, had not taken the trouble to properly separate from either of them before marrying the others. However, he was provided with a first class alibi and, rushing to Los Angeles, staged a reconciliation with the first wife of his choice. "I always choose poor girls on whom to lavish my affections," he explained, in relating how he won three wives. "I passed up women of wealth and beauty and culture to devote myself entirely to lonesome ones. It makes a big hit with a girl if she thinks you are passing up all this for her. In my case all three women were lonely."

WATCH THE ICE BOX
Look your refrigerator through carefully every day. One dish of tainted food can spoil several others. When bits of foods are saved they should be used in combination with other ingredients and not saved just to fill the refrigerator and spoil. There is no point in saving a few stalks of asparagus for the days and then throwing them out perhaps after they have upset the whole ice box.

LUNCHEON—Cream of tomato soup, croissants, pineapple pie, cocoa.
DINNER—Creamed dried beef, baked potatoes, corn croquettes, cabbage and pimento salad, toasted crackers and cheese, coffee.

My Own Recipes
Cabbage offers minerals and adds pliancy to the meal. The cheese makes up for a light meat course.
Pineapple Pie
One cup grated pineapple, ½ cup sugar, 1 orange (grated rind and juice), 1-15 teaspoonful salt, 1 egg, 1 dessert spoon flour.
Mix sugar, flour, salt and yolk of egg to a smooth paste. Add rind and juice of orange and pineapple. Cook over a slow fire, stirring constantly till thick. Turn into a baked pie shell. Cover with meringue made by beating the egg white till stiff and dry with 2 tablespoons sugar and 1 tablespoon water. Brown in a moderate oven.

Cabbage and Pimento Salad
Two cups shredded cabbage, 1 teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, dash celery pepper, dash onion pepper, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 4 tablespoons oil, 1 pimento.
Put cabbage in mixing bowl and crush with wooden potato masher. Add dry ingredients and mix thoroughly. Pour over vinegar and mix. Add oil and mix. Arrange on plates and add strips of pimentos.

FOR GRADUATES

DID YOU KNOW—

That you can lengthen the life of your enamel saucepans if you put them in water and bring the water to boiling point before they are used? That the child who drinks a generous quantity of milk stands a better chance of having good teeth, because teeth need the lime in milk? That onion juice allowed to remain on the spot for a time and then washed off will remove rust from metal?

OFF THE FACE, IS THE WORD

The off the face slant has a grip on feminine headwear which is due to last through the winter it seems. This lovely chapeau, worn so charmingly by Betty Carpenter of Paramount Pictures, is of rough soft straw with wide bands of orange ribbon which circle the crown and meet at the sides in streamers of fringe. The brim is bound in orange ribbon. Note the buttons at the cuff of her short sleeves, and the cut of the sleeve itself is worthy of a second look.

Even Balance of Material Destroys Natural Lines

When you invade the shops with a new coat, suit or gown in mind, beware of the even balance of material. For therein, says Miss Evelyn Hansen of Chicago Art Institute, is the greatest fault of the American woman so far as her dress is concerned. This is especially true since the advent of the short skirt and the long, loose blouse. An absolutely even balance of material will completely destroy the natural line of the figure. A dress heavy with self color fringe is equally bad for the slender figure, the many "down" lines emphasize the slenderness and increase the effect of height. In the frock with the black taffeta bottom and the henna crepe de chine top is the correct balance of line, color and material, according to Miss Hansen. The dark collar and wide, loose dark sash over the long blouse line gives the necessary accent and breaks the line in the correct proportion. As for color, Miss Hansen warns the gray-haired women of the danger in blue. "Blue," says she, "heightens the sallowness effect. Blue is a color, especially in its lighter tones, which should be worn only by youth when there is much warm color in face and hair. So far as color is concerned, all women, says Miss Hansen, belong in one of three classes—the tan, pink or Bulgarian type. The tan type of woman should dress in her own colors, soft tans, creams and browns. The pink type can venture into the field of light blues, pinks, nutberry, practically anything which is not a red-purple.

The General Manager
Robert R. Sleeper, '00, president of the Lowell Textile school alumni association, is to be credited with engineering the general arrangements for the outing. Assigning to various committees their special duties, he kept an eye on all the phases of the preparations, and is credited by those interested in the success of the day, to have had a large share in effecting this result. It is stated that E. Heinz, the vice president of the association, and a member of the class of 1905, is in the line of planning "Upstream Day," to be held with Arthur A. Stewart, '00, who is secretary-treasurer of the general body. The general entertainment committee included the following members of the alumni: E. B. Allen, '11, A. J. Hennigan, '08, R. W. '04, J. F. Dewey, '04, H. P. '08, and the directors, Boyd, '06, and George A. William, '05. A student committee which co-operates with the alumni officials in the general management of plans was organized by S. S. Smith, '06. Several outings were held prior to today, but the alumni and student representatives in the course of the these details was perfected for the "big day."

Jack and Georges Mentally Primed for Title Bout

BY JOHNNY KILBANE Featherweight Champion Both Dempsey and Carpentier will be in the best possible shape mentally for the Jersey battle July 2.

But when the show is over, if my judgment is correct, 25 per cent of the mental perfection of one of these fighters or the other will be gone. This will be due to a knockout.

My own experience in the ring has been that a knockout gives a fighter the same kind of "unconscious fear" that a person once rescued from falling off a high building has when he ventures close to the edge a second time.

Always on His Mind It's always on his mind—the sensation of that stinging wallop to the chin that laid him low, and in his efforts to guard against a repetition of that unpleasant sensation, he loses the take-a-chance spirit that has brought him a big victory.

Many a day both principals will be in the best of mental shape for the Jersey bout because they won't be bothered by the K. O. sensation. Dempsey hasn't hit the floor since Jim Flynn knocked him out in the first round in 1917 and his confidence has been boosted accordingly in the time since by a score of knockouts, including a return fight with Flynn that ended with the big Frenchman dropping in the first.

Carpentier is even better in this respect than is Dempsey for he's been almost a dozen years since the Frenchman has been floored for the count. Gloria, back in 1909, was the last man to drop the challenger.

It's true that Georges Carpentier has lost several fights since that time, but he was always standing up fighting at the end of each round and this kind of defeat is not disheartening to a man. It makes a better fighter out of him, if anything, for he determines he'll regain his position—and he usually does in the second try.

Georges Carpentier At His Training Camp

BY ALICE ROHE MANHASSET, L. I., May 21.—Is it that a man may not "rester tranquille" in his own home?

"Mais non"—that is, it is not—when the man happens to be Georges Carpentier and his home is also his quarters for training for his fight with Jack Dempsey.

It was interesting to visit the Beau Brummel of the prize ring "chez lui" to meet him in the very heart of his new American home. For Georges is delighted with Manhasset and his tranquil farmhouse.

I met Carpentier surrounded by a bodyguard composed of Francois Descamps, his manager; Capt. Thierry Malet, his American representative; Gus Wilson, his trainer; and Paul Journee, his sparring partner.

"It is good to be here—but I chose this place because I thought it was so far away—and you see," Carpentier pointed to the endless parade of autos, many of which stopped curiously.

And Georges said it in American—good American, too.

Speak American

Even Francois Descamps, who with Carpentier had been able in the past to retire behind a barrier of "Je ne comprends pas," is speaking American this season.

"A delightful place this for a home," repeated Georges. "Such splendid air—a great place for a training camp. And what a place for a little Jacqueline and Madame."

Georges smiled indulgently while Manager Descamps threw up his hands in protest.

"Jamais jamais! Here it is all for—the business—no women—no nothing—Madame Carpentier, she stay at home in Paris with the so beautiful baby—where she belong—here it is work, work, work!"

Georges Reads

"But what about that load of books—your real lot?" I asked.

"Mais oui—Yes—certainly," said Carpentier. "I must read."

"What kind of books?"

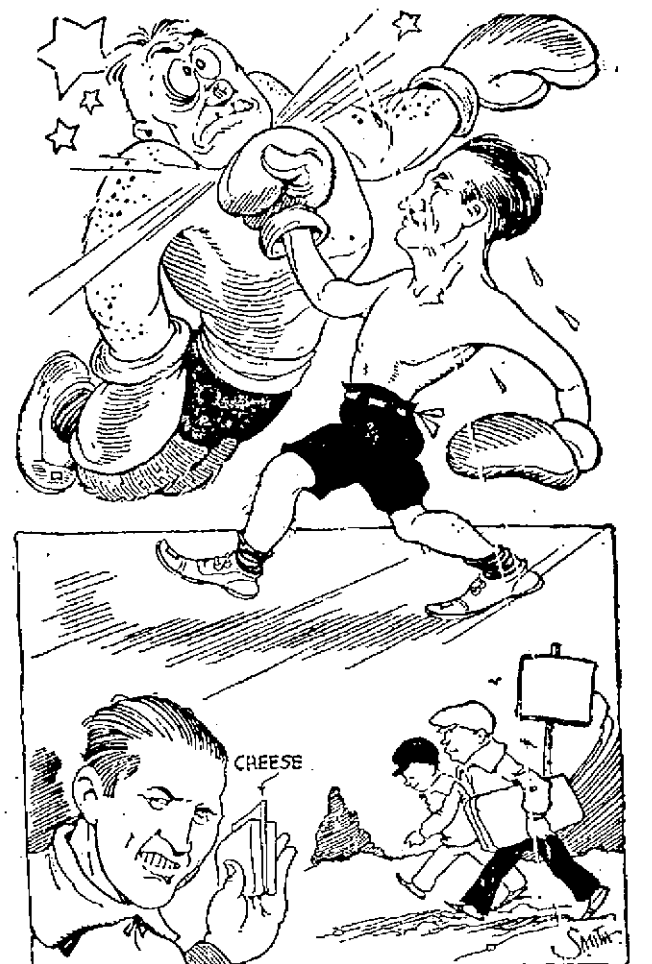

Descamps again came to the rescue. "Classics—all classics—no exciting romances—what you say novels—jambalays!"

Even in his literature Carpentier must "rester tranquille."

Carpentier Fights Longest Fight at Age of 14

IN THE EARLY DAYS CARPENTIER KNOCKED OFF MANY MUCH HEAVIER FIGHTERS, BOUGHT CRACKERS AND CHEESE WITH THE PROCEEDS OF ONE BOUT, AND DID A LOT OF MIKING

By HAL COCHRAN Georges Carpentier has come to the United States from France to fight Jack Dempsey for the heavy-weight title less known than an fighter who ever went into a world championship fight. Hal Cochran, in this story of Carpentier's life, written for The Sun, tells of the struggles of the one-time mine boy rising to the light-heavy-weight championship of the world.

Got Cheese Money

In spite of defeat, in the 18-round go, there was a bright side for Carpentier and Descamps. Georges drew down about $8 for his share of the proceeds and this came in handy for crackers and cheese. Little money rattled in their jeans in those days. They were going from camp to camp on foot, picking up grub change as they went along.

In the closing days of that year Carpentier won a six-round battle with Lepine, a much-touted boxer, and fought 6 and 20-round draws with Legrand, another fighter who stood high in the circles.

He had now passed the 15-year mark and remarkable development had taken place. His weight held him in the newweight class, however.

Early in 1905 Georges turned the tables on his previous two-time opponent, getting a decision over Salinan in 10 rounds. Shortly after this he was matched with Gloria, the demon of the day in France. For five rounds Carpentier looked a winner. Then a sudden blow was slipped over and Georges went down and out. It was the first time he had taken the count.

String of Knockouts

In the following days Carpentier knocked out Lampin in 8 rounds, Wetnick in 1 round; Dorgeville in 11; and Lampin in 7. And he won from Legrand in 13; Achaine in 10; Chevalier in 6; and 20-round draws with Legrand, another fighter who stood high in the circles.

He then grew into the bantam-weight class, towards the close of 1905, and fought a 20-round draw with Paul Tili. Tili had beaten Gloria, who knocked Georges out and, anxious to down Tili, Carpentier was matched with him again.

(The next story carries Carpentier through many victories in the featherweight and lightweight divisions.)

Three Ring Experts May Name Heavy Champ

Tex Rickard, promoter of the Dempsey-Carpentier title match, at Jersey City, July 2, plans to name a winner in the battle, in spite of the fact that the New Jersey law prohibits a referee's decision.

His plan is simple. He will pick three judges who, in case both fighters are on their feet at the end of the 12 rounds, will decide who had the best of the argument. Rickard expects Dempsey and Carpentier to agree to this plan and says wagers on the fight can be paid according to the decision handed down.

The Big Three

He has already practically decided on his trio of judges.

Jim Corbett, former heavyweight champion of the world.

Jim Jeffries, also a former heavyweight champ.

Lord Londale, foremost follower of boxing in England.

Rickard feels that Jersey officials cannot object to this plan. He feels certain that some decision will be necessary in order to settle wagers.

The contest is, first of all, a sporting proposition and as such is likely to be the largest betting occasion in the history of the sport.

Interesting sidelight

Lord Londale has been invited to come from England to the bout as Rickard's guest, and so has Jeffries. Corbett, who is in America, has accepted a similar invitation.

An interesting sidelight to this plan is the fact that two of the judges who may sit outside the ring, have met on two occasions on the inside of the ropes.

On May 11, 1909, Jim Jeffries fought Corbett at Coney Island and knocked him out in the 12th round. They fought again, on Aug. 14, 1909, at San Francisco and Jeffries repeated the K. O. in the 10th round.

Won and Lost

Corbett became heavyweight champ when he defeated John L. Sullivan, at New Orleans, Sept. 7, 1892, in the 11th round. The title passed on when Bob Fitzsimmons licked Corbett, March 11, 1897, at Carson City, Nev., in the 14th round.

Jeffries took the crown from Fitzsimmons in 1909 by knocking him in 11 rounds at Coney Island. In 1905 he returned after having twice trimmed Corbett. In 1910 he attempted a comeback and lost his title to Jack Johnson, July 4, at Reno, Nev., in 15 rounds.

CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

New England Intercollegiate Games Held Today—New Records Expected

CAMBRIDGE, May 21.—Preliminaries passed, the New England intercollegiate track and field championships came up for their annual decision today. To the 100 athletes who proved their right to advanced competition in the trials of yesterday were added the units of fields in the water and mile runs as the aggregation out of which would come in 14 events the individual titleholders of the year and the points to determine the winning college.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology, on the grounds of which the games were held, was well on the way to repeating recent successes at these meetings with 23 qualifiers, as many as both its nearest opponents, Brown and Williams, together. Boston college, seeking to add New England laurels to those gained at the eastern intercollegiate a week ago, was favored with the ability of more prospective high scoring individuals than either of the latter two colleges. Bowdoin came through strong but without chance to win.

Meat weather favored the games today. New records were considered likely in several events.

Interesting figures in the meeting were the Baker twins, Ray and Nitch, who were the winners of the 200-yard international two-mile race at the Penn relay carnival, was the outstanding runner in that event, and Richard, captain of his team, was an entrant in the mile.

AFTER THE PURCHASE PRICE-DEPENDABILITY

Dodge Brothers have never lost sight of the fact that dependability must be included in the purchase price of their car.

Because of its dependability, the United States Government, officially selected this car without solicitation, for the strenuous service which the battlefields of France demanded.

Dodge Brothers will continue to build their car so well, that it will always be dependable and the purchase price will be as nearly as possible the last expenditure.

World's Model Highway—May Be Built in Indiana

DETROIT, May 21.—The ideal section of highway—a model of beauty and efficiency in highway construction—may be located in northwestern Indiana, about 38 miles south of Chicago. A. F. Bement, vice president and secretary of the Lincoln Highway association, is here with the advice that negotiations are on for the construction of this ideal road on the Lincoln highway between Dyer and Schererville, in Lake county, Indiana.

Suits Requirements

That this spot will finally be selected in all ways seems assured by the fact that it conforms to the specifications demanded by the engineers in charge of the project. These requirements were:

- (1) The section of Lincoln highway must be on an established state highway, where there will be assurance of no change of route in the future.
- (2) It must be as central as possible to the country, easily accessible, where the greatest amount of normal travel will traverse it.
- (3) Its natural conditions must be such as not to make the construction of the ideal section too difficult.
- (4) It must be located where a wide right of way already exists and where the local authorities and organization will co-operate toward its development.

The Indiana state highway commission, reports Bement, has already entered into a contract with the Lincoln Highway association which will provide, if the ideal section is built in Indiana, for a contribution by the state to enable the lengthening of that section to approximately two miles. Costs of the entire project will run far above this figure.

The "Ideal Section"

An idea of the vastness of the undertaking may be had from the following points the technical committee has decided upon including in the construction of the ideal section:

- (1) The ideal section shall be at least 100 feet wide.
- (2) It shall be well lighted.
- (3) Curves shall be eliminated as far as possible; those necessary to have a radius of not less than 1000 feet.
- (4) All grade crossings shall be eliminated.
- (5) Comfort stations, park sites and camp sites are also planned for intervals along the road.
- (6) All wires shall be underground.
- (7) No advertising signs will be allowed, and signs of direction and distance will be uniform.

Experiment in California to Help U. S. Motorists

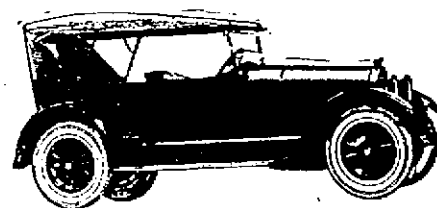

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 21.—Experiments will be made on some of the highways of California to improve roads for motorists throughout the country.

This announcement was made here by A. B. Fletcher, chief engineer of the California highway commission, following his return from a conference in Washington with Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the bureau of public roads. Efforts will be made, especially to correct bad road conditions in the subsoil. Expansion and contraction of the sub-grade cause cracks in the surface and make riding difficult for motorists. This tendency will be overcome, Fletcher says, by neutralizing the colloidal properties of the soil and rendering the sub-grade a suitable base upon which to build the concrete slab.

CHALIFOUX MOTOR COMPANY

The Chalifoux Motor company, the agents of the Willys Knight and the Overland cars, have a corps of capable salesmen ready at all times to demonstrate the worth of these two splendid cars. One of the primary considerations in buying a motor car is that of price plus quality and without considering these two things together no one is doing justice to himself or to the car, for you can get automobiles at all prices but some have only the surface appearance of value and oftentimes deceive the buyer. But the Overland at its price is a car that will always give its full measure of economical service and pleasure.

"Moonshiners" of France are making a substitute for absinthe from parsley. The product is more deadly and powerful than the outlawed liquor.

THE CADILLAC FOUR-PASSENGER PHAETON

There isn't a "Sport Car" in the CADILLAC line, therefore you don't have to take a gambler's chance when you buy a CADILLAC. A lot of people are buying the Four-Passenger, however, because it's the best looking Phaeton they have ever seen.

You don't look lost in it if you want to drive down the street alone, and there is room for three or four more if you want to take them along. It is faster than most people care to drive.

One new Phaeton and one used late model Phaeton are on our salesroom floor. The latter is the only available used car we have ready for immediate delivery. A better investment than a new car selling at same price.

We will have a USED CADILLAC VICTORIA which will be ready for delivery next week.

Tips to Help the Motorist on the Road

Do not follow too closely the vehicle ahead of you or a sudden stop might cause an accident. Keep a safe distance from street cars when they turn a corner. You will better control the car by

PAIGE

A Car With Personality

There is an air of distinction about the New Series "Glenbrook" that you will find in no other moderate priced, five passenger car. That is why it has been adopted by really smart people who will not tolerate the commonplace.

Then, remember, it not only looks but acts the thoroughbred. Under the hood there is a marvelously efficient motor that accelerates from five to twenty five miles per hour in nine seconds flat. This means giant energy for hills and every test of the highway.

Last, but not least, the "Glenbrook" is a rigid Economist. It extracts every atom of power from a gallon of gasoline and turns up surprising mileage on a set of tires. It is a thrill car with a keen sporting personality—a very hard combination to find.

But we ask you to establish these facts for yourself. Take just one ride in the "Glenbrook" and discover what actually lies hidden under the hood. It will prove a revelation, we believe, and a liberal education in strictly modern engineering.

THREE-DAY TOURS

How to Be Sure of a Pleasant Week-End

Week-ends this summer will be especially popular for touring, since three such holidays will be extended over Monday. They are Memorial day, July 4 and Labor day.

The man whose pleasures will most likely not be marred by mishaps on the road will be he who is fully prepared for every emergency. Every bolt on the machine should be tightened. The gasoline and vacuum tanks should be drained of all foreign matter, and the gas line blown out. If the oil hasn't been drained from the crank case, and a fresh supply put in, this should be done, for gasoline is bound to seep through and weaken it. Test the fan belt for tightness. Clean out the radiator. See that the wheels are tight and properly aligned. Look over your tires and tubes, and see that they are properly inflated.

The ignition system is another important part of the car to overhaul. The battery solution might be brought up to proper level by the addition of pure, distilled water. The battery terminals should be scraped clean and tightened. The tool kit should not lack anything that might be of use in emergencies. The extra equipment should include tubes, tire shoes, tube patches, cement, a fan belt, a tire distributor, tire tube valves, one or two headlight and tail-light bulbs, a strip of fuse wire, some adhesive tape, an extra brush for the timing device, a low rope and your tire chains—also an emergency quart or two of gasoline in a light can.

HAS WONDERFUL ENGINE
Many people, especially younger ones who buy automobiles, are firm believers in the Paige because of its wonderful engine which is capable of power on climb and speed on the coast. As everyone knows that the Paige car has broken all records on the race track when it covered a mile at the rate of 102.8 miles an hour, no one

Police Clean Out Lawrence Saloon

LAWRENCE, May 21.—In raids yesterday afternoon the police arrested Michael O'Smaller and Thomas Rooney, both at 104 Lawrence street, and John Marcella at 7 Short street, all charged with illegally keeping liquor with intent to sell. O'Smaller is said to be proprietor of the place in which he was arrested.

The police visited the O'Smaller place twice, finding no contraband the first time, but on the second visit, three hours later, they seized a bottle of alleged moonshine in Rooney's possession. Rooney said O'Smaller gave it to him when he saw the officers coming. The police cleaned out the saloon of all its furnishings, including a 30-foot mahogany bar.

disputed the fact that the Paige is the unquestioned stock car speed champion of the world, and in addition is considered the most important engineering development of the age. Let the Paige Motor Car Company of Lowell tell through Billy Cawley and Ernest Perry, take you for a demonstration and judge for yourself and you will find that the Paige is the car that lives up to its reputation and not on it.

SCOUTS' WORK

A very interesting exhibition of the work of the Chelmsford Girl Scouts was given last night in L.O.G.F. hall, Centre village, and the affair was largely attended. Thirty-five members of the organization, commanded by Capt. Esther Dane, went through various evolutions of their work and this part of the program was highly appreciated. Mrs. Harry Prescott Graves of the Girl Scout council, presented pins to Mildred Wells and Phyllis Scoboria, who passed their tenderfoot tests and were admitted as members of the troop.

Entertainment numbers were given by Scouts Julia Warren, Phyllis Scoboria, Esther Perham, Madeline Lupton. "The Taming of Horrors," a four-act farce, was given, those taking part being Florence Ellis, Marie Scoboria, Margaret Robbins, Wilma Perkins, Alice Wilson, Esther Thayer, Lillian Petrie, Helen Reid, Eleanor Parkhurst, Evelyn Boyd, Barbara Parkhurst, Phyllis Scoboria, Mildred Wells, Ruth Jeffs, Mary C. Burn and Gertrude Jewett.

LEGION'S "POPPY DAY" COMMITTEE

The local American Legion posts provided the theme for a charming cantata given last evening as the feature number in the annual concert of the Girls' Glee club and orchestra of the normal school. The entertainment, directed by Inez Field, head of the school music department, was enjoyed by a large audience in the auditorium.

Carl Busch composed the music for "Paul's Plute," which added soundness to the rippling poem of Elizabeth Barrett Browning. The cantata was assisted by Herbert Wellington Smith, baritone, of Boston, and George Laurent, flutist, of the Boston Symphony orchestra. The cantata was followed by instrumental numbers followed by the pursuit of the nymph Syrinx, who was miraculously transformed into vegetation when she prayed to the too-insistent although eternal wood-piper. "What was he doing, the god Pan?" inquired the poetess, and what he actually was doing furnishes the motif of the piece.

Following the cantata there were selections by the glee club, the orchestra, and Messrs. Smith and Laurent. Mammy's "Song of Sunrise" by the glee singers, opened the program, followed by "The Three Brides" by the orchestra. The "Melodie" of Sarasate, "Pavane" Op. 114, No. 5, by Fauré, "Mignon," by Schumann, and Englemann's "Eternal Spring." The artists were: Madeline Shaker, first violin; Annie O'Connor, violin; Helen Reid, piano; Ward, cello; Estelle Coffey, harp; and Marion Brightman, piano.

The following group was sung by Mr. Smith, whose wife acted as his accompanist: "The Sea," by MacDowell; McGill's "Duna, and Densmore"; "I Must Go Down to the Sea Again." He entered this nautical group with the "Hazy Song."

Mr. Laurent's solo were: "Widow's Romance," "Doppels," "Fascinating Song," and the "Valse of Chopin." His accompanist was Mrs. Ella Reilly Toye.

The glee club comprises the following: soprano, Grace Seed, Marie Sullivan and Ruth Walker; alto, Alice Rodell, Theresa Delaney, Ruth Leary, Anna Norton, Carmel Rose, Helen Ryan and Katherine Wrenn; second alto, Laura Dixon, Charlotte Kemp, Gladys Kennedy, Margaret Riley, Frances McGinn, Helen Quinn and Madeline Shaker. Pianists, Christine McPherson and Eleanor Sullivan.

DIED IN HOLYOKE
The Lowell police have been requested to notify Patrick Callahan, a stone-cutter believed to be in this city that the funeral of his sister, Mary Callahan, will take place in Holyoke, Monday, May 23. Word was sent by James T. Hoban, undertaker, who is in charge of the obsequies.

IN NORTH CHELMSFORD
The Bachelor Four of North Chelmsford conducted a successful dance in the North village town hall last evening. There was a large attendance and the program was very enjoyable. Those responsible for the success of the event were Gregory Larkin, Lee Larkin, Steve Holland and John Connors.

HELD INFORMAL DANCE

Enjoyable Party Under Auspices of Lowell Post of American Legion

Several hundred couples attended the informal dancing party held last evening in Associate hall under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion, and the affair resulted in both a financial and social success. It was stated by the members of the committee in charge. Dancing continued until midnight. The general welfare fund of the local organization will benefit from the sale of tickets.

Not only practically the entire membership of Lowell legionnaires were in attendance, but also large numbers of the younger set of the city.

The plans for the occasion were under the general direction of Commander James J. Powers, who acted as general manager. The assistant general manager was Stephen C. Garrity, senior vice commander of the Lowell body. Adjutant Robert Rutledge was floor director, while the assistant floor director was James J. Hogan. James Cullen was chief of aids, and was assisted by a staff of aides selected from the membership of the post. The reception committee was headed by John F. McArdle, chairman, and also comprised the following members: James H. Jones, Thomas M. Gordon, Daniel F. Brennan, and John E. Roane, Jr. The junior vice commander of the post, John B. McDermott, officiated as treasurer. Others active on the entertainment committee were Joseph M. Dineen, treasurer of the Lowell branch, and Thomas M. Gargan. These officers were elected at a meeting held by the Legion body early in the week at the Y.M.C.A. building, where final preparations for the dance were completed.

MILL CLUB'S FIRST MINSTREL AND DANCE

Exceptionally good singers, clever comedians and dancers of great ability have been discovered within the walls of the Massachusetts Cotton mills, and these entertainers performed in a creditable manner last evening, when the Massachusetts Association, a branch of the Massachusetts Industrial club, conducted its first minstrel and dance. The affair, which was attended by over 500 people, mostly mill employees, was held in the spacious quarters of the club in one of the mill buildings.

It was an evening of enjoyment for both entertainers and spectators, for the former were well satisfied with the manner in which the performance was conducted, while the latter were enthralled with the elaborate program given. Everything went along without the slightest hitch and for two hours the actors kept their audience in a happy mood. Present as special guests of the organization were Agent William A. Mitchell and numerous over-seers and second hands of the mill.

A special stage had been erected in a corner of the hall by mill employees, and it was upon this elevation that the company was located when the curtains went up. Thomas Grouke, one of the directors of the minstrel, acted as interconductor and his work was very commendable. The endmen and women were Aleck Drouin, Miss Smith, M. Harrington, Charles Mathewson, Frank Jelly and Miss Powell, and all acquitted themselves in a very appreciable manner.

The opening numbers were "Bright Eyes," "Rose of My Heart," "Whispering" and "Ohio" by the entire company. Then there was a solo by James Beignan, and he was forced to respond to an encore. "The Land of Old Black Joe," an old song, was cleverly sung by Aleck Drouin, while Miss Powell was very pleasing in her rendition of "Lonesome, That's All." Burns and Reppan were very pleasing in their duets, while Laura Garrison brought down the house with "Call Me Back, Dear Old Pal." An end song, "Cause I'm Missing Mammy's Kiss," was delightfully sung by Miss Smith and Miss Powell. The solo by E. Cunningham was enjoyable as was the end song, "Dixie Lane" by M. Harrington. "Nobody's Rose" was the selection rendered by Leona McIntyre, and as well did she sing that she was cheered.

"I'm a Good Man so Hard to Fight" was well rendered by Charles Mathewson.

One of the feature numbers on the program was the dancing by McGrath and Walker, two young men who gave a very difficult and well rendered clog dance. Frank Jelly sang an end song, entitled "Rebecca," and the program was brought to a close with the chorus, "Margie."

At the close of the entertainment the chais were removed from the hall floor and general dancing was started and continued till a seasonable hour.

The directors of the minstrel were: William McGrath and Thomas Grouke, while the committee in charge was composed of Mrs. Sadie Reardon, chairman; Anthony Booth, James Brooks, Alfred Benoit, John Twohey, Thomas Grouke, Lilla Booth, Helen Quinn, Mary Powell and Laura Garrison.

The chorus was composed of the following: Margaret Quinn, Mary T. Quinn, Kittie Quinn, Margaret Knowles, Bessie McCaffrey, Mary Cunningham, W. Worsnip, Edith Matley, Agnes Plunkett, Mabel Claire, Gayford Hesser, William Mullarkey, Alfred Benoit, James Brooks, Alfred Bussiere and John Twohey.

Lift Limit on Whiskey Prescriptions

WASHINGTON, May 21.—New regulations have been prepared which will enable physicians prescribing whiskey for medical purposes to write as many prescriptions as they consider necessary, prohibition officials said last night.

Under existing regulations, physicians are limited to 100 whiskey prescriptions over a period of 90 days.

The new regulations, officials said, were ready for consideration by the new commissioner of internal revenue. The nomination of David S. Blair of Winston-Salem, N. C., as commissioner is awaiting confirmation by the senate.

Seeks to Retain "Dry" Agents

BOSTON, May 21.—Final effort to retain many federal prohibition enforcement agents in New England who were ordered suspended at midnight last night until July 1, due to a deficit in the national appropriation for the enforcement of the Volstead act, was made by William J. McCarthy, supervising prohibition enforcement agent for New England with Commissioner Kramer at Washington last night.

Regardless of the number of agents suspended, New England will see no "open season" for liquor running, according to Agent McCarthy, who cites the co-operation he has been receiving throughout his district.

Girl Trained From Infancy For Career in Photoplays

MARY ASTOR, AT 16 SHE'S PLAYING IN THE MOVIES. HER MOTHER TRAINED HER FROM INFANCY FOR A SCREEN CAREER. THEATRE PG-GIRL TRAINED

By JAMES W. DEAN
Most movie actresses graduated from the stage, beauty contests or artists' studios.

Not so with Mary Astor. Mary is only 16 now, but her mother has been training her from infancy for a career in photoplays.

Mary's mother had some experience as an actress and as a professional reader. Her father is professor in a Chicago high school.

As a result of the mother's training the girl has signed a contract with Paramount. She is being given only small parts, as she and her mother plan for her to get a thorough experience before she attempts a feature part.

She has dark red hair and brown eyes. Despite the praise and attention her beauty has received, she remains as demure as the schoolgirl she is.

If Mary Astor rises to stardom she will probably be the first movie star who owes her fame entirely to a mother's training and a mother's ambition for a daughter to be starred in pictures.

German Film Banned
Artists and critics who saw "The Cabinet of Caligari" praised it as one of the finest things ever projected on the screen. It is a futuristic picture.

"White and Unmarried"
The title of Tom Melghan's next release doesn't mean much. "White and Unmarried" is the inscription on his passport. Hence the title.

Tom gets the passport for Europe after he tires of a crook's life. He then makes a good haul.

On the last week's "Dorothea," daughter of his last victim. He acts as her big brother and guide in Paris. She falls in love with a questionable character and marries him. Tom falls in love with a dance hall entertainer. He marries her, but not until he whips a gang of Apaches and rescues her from kidnappers.

Just so things will be happy for all, he kills Dorothea's husband in the night with the Apaches. Dorothea believes it's "good riddance to bad rubbish." So there!

THE FAIRYMAN'S PLAN

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
"Now we're talking!" said Woolly Wart-Hog solemnly to Nancy and Nick and Flippety-Flap. "You wish to take Tag Tiger away, and we certainly wish to be rid of him. That's why we are having this meeting."

"Oh!" beamed the fairyman. "Then perhaps you have thought of a plan?" "No, we haven't," said the warthog shaking his head. "That's the trouble."

"He's the snoopest thing!" declared the mongoose suddenly, peeping out of the doorway again to make sure that their enemy had not discovered their hiding place. "He's worse 'n a snake!"

"And the hungriest!" declared the little gazelle.

"And the fiercest!" added the ante-lope.

"And the flightiest!" growled the leopard.

"And the sulkiest!" went on the mongoose.

"And the greediest!" said someone else.

"I see that Mr. Tiger is about as popular hereabouts as a spider at a little girl's tea party," remarked Flippety-Flap smiling.

"I'm not certain what a little girl is," answered the warthog, never dreaming that Nancy was one. "and I don't know what a tea party is, either, but if you mean that that old vagabond, Tag Tiger, isn't liked round here, you have made a pretty good guess. Why, there isn't a family that hasn't lost some of its members some time or other through him, or in him, I should say."

"You don't know how to handle him!" said Flippety-Flap. "You ought to keep him in a cage like we do. But then! how are we ever going to get him? Let me think. Oh, I have it! Are there any pepper trees growing around here?"

"Yes," nodded the warthog. "There's a whole bunch of them up on the hill."

"Fine!" declared Flippety-Flap, winking at Nick. Then he took a telephone out of one of his shoes. And a coffee mill out of the other.

Plumbers Accept Cut, Strike Ends

WORCESTER, May 21.—The building trades strike, started in Worcester April 1 in protest against a 20 per cent. cut in pay, was practically ended yesterday when at a conference between plumbers and employers the former agreed to return to work at 90c an hour, a reduction of 10c. Some of the plumbers went back to work this morning and others will return Monday.

The plumbers are the last of the big trade unions to accept a reduction. The others have accepted cuts of 12½c and 15c an hour.

Threat To Blow Up College

WORCESTER, May 21.—A threat to blow up the Assumption college in Greendale, contained in a letter to the president of the college under date of May 14, is being investigated by the Worcester police. The letter, post-marked in Worcester, says: "Having still a bit of humanity left in us we want to advise you that on May 17 your college will be blown up." Our bombs are set to explode between the hours of 8 a. m. and 10 p. m.

"Enemies of the Roman Catholics."

"We are the same ones who blew up the church in Fall River."

all members present except Commissioner Salmon.
Commissioner Marchand drew the following jurors to serve at the superior court session now being held at Cambridge. They are to report Tuesday, May 31, at 10 a. m.:
Thos. F. Garvey, 72 Lillie ave., cigar-maker.
James Gookin, 74 Huntington st., furniture dealer.
Thos. F. Cuff, 13 Agawam st., dentist.
Daniel Foye, 195 B st., dealer.

Percy H. Moody, 44 Florence ave., electrician.
Caleb Birmingham, 58 Agawam st., blacksmith.

The petition of W. L. Hanson for a gasoline and garage license at Westford and Wheeler streets; Avila Sawyer for a garage and gasoline license at 972 Middlesex street and William Brien, a garage license at 149-60 Grand st. were referred for hearings June 7.
The petition of the Scannell Roller Works, Frank Cheney and others for a street light at Tanner and Hyacinth streets was referred to Commissioner Murphy.

Commissioner Murphy favored the petition for a sewer in Westchester street. The accompanying order was adopted. The estimated cost is $1510.
The petition of John Curran and others for a sidewalk in West Fourth street and a petition signed by 20 residents of Hoyt avenue for a street light in that street were ordered to remain in the city clerk's office for seven days.

The quarterly report of the license commission was read by its title and placed on file.
Elections for one carload of white clipped oats, one carload of Portland cement and one carload of sand-struck brick for the use of the street department were approved.

Screens for Hospital
Mayor Thompson was granted authority to enter into a contract with the J. B. Goodwin Co. for the furnishing of copper screening for the backs of the isolation hospital at a sum not to exceed $650 per spick. The emergency clause was attached to the vote. The mayor explained that the patients at the hospital would be subjected to considerable annoyance if the buildings were not screened. He said that there is some swampy land in the vicinity of the hospital where mosquitoes breed.

$25,000 for Sewers
Commissioner Murphy's order to borrow $25,000 for sewer construction, which had been properly advertised, was brought up for action. The commissioner explained that this order was customary at this time of the year and was to carry on part of the season's program. The order was unanimously adopted.

ORDERS FLAG AT HALF STAFF

Pres. Harding Also Calls for Funeral Salute in Honor of Chief Justice

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The whole nation, as represented by its government, joined today in paying last honors to its late chief justice, Edward Douglass White. By order of the president, all activities in the executive departments were suspended for the funeral, set for 10 o'clock, and will remain suspended all day. The senate stood adjourned until Monday and all courts of the city were in recess. The funeral, private by request of the family, was arranged in no sense as an official occasion, but the position the chief justice held in the affairs of the country made it impossible to eliminate what amounted to official mourning.

Among those to attend, besides President Harding, were Justice White's associates on the supreme bench as honorary pall bearers; Vice President Coolidge; committees from the senate and house and the full delegation in congress from the jurist's native state, Louisiana, as well as the cabinet members, with the exception of attorney General Daugherty. Mr. Daugherty was called to Ohio last night by illness in his family, and designated as his representative, Col. Guy D. Goff, assistant to the attorney general, and Solicitor General William L. Filerson, ranking legal officer in the absence of the attorney general.

Funeral arrangements provided for a solemn high requiem mass at St. Anthony's church following ceremonies at the family home and interment in Oak Hill cemetery, Georgetown.

Simultaneously with the hour of the funeral, President Harding ordered that the American flag, wherever flown, be half-masted and that a funeral salute of 21 guns be fired at American military and naval stations throughout the world.

Girls Help in Sallies' Drive

be given boxes to go out on the street and gather funds for the Sallies. They had been gathered together by Miss Lillian Smith, girls' work secretary of the Young Women's Christian association.

Some of the girls were little tots; others were older, but from the tiniest to the tallest they were quickly supplied with the brand new crimson-lined boxes. To the breast of each one was attached one of the neat white satin badges that are an insignia for the drive workers.

No sooner had the young misses been equipped for their campaign for cash than they started in on the work of coaxing dimes, quarters and dollars out of the pockets of passersby. They did not even wait to leave the chamber's rooms before starting their collecting.

The young women were not by any means the only applicants for boxes and supplies of tags. Many others turned up during the morning and were permitted to have a part in the drive. Among others were representatives of the Girls' club, the Paint and Powder club and other organizations.

The Salvation Army lassies were early on their job of collecting coin. From Boston came three young women to help on the drive. They were Captain Nellie Rowe, Captain Schofield and Captain Stella Young, "the doughnut girl" who helped to make life easier for the boys in the battle areas of France. These three made an early start for the Textile school grounds, and as the crowds gathered to witness the starting of the "Up-Stream days" parade, they were given an enthusiastic reception and funds flowed in a liberal stream into the boxes.

The collectors on the streets were given a cordial reception as they button-holed passersby. Ten thousand tags had been provided for the day. The supply of these in the chamber's rooms had been exhausted before 11 o'clock this morning and a rush order was sent to the printers for more. Nearly 100 boxes were out on the street.

At noon a gathering of drive workers was held in the chamber rooms at which enthusiastic reports were made on the progress of the campaign.

TERRIBLE CASE OF ECZEMA

Prominent Veterinary of Dover Suffered Tortures for Twelve Years

Dover, N. H.

"In 1900, I began to be troubled with Eczema. It started on my face and gradually spread. The second summer, I was so badly afflicted I had to lay off work. I would keep my hands tied up at night to prevent digging into my flesh while asleep. I spent hundreds of dollars in seeking relief, I would go for several months without trouble and then the Eczema would break out again and I would be in for a siege of suffering. My hands, especially across the knuckles, would be so puffed and swollen I could not do any obstetrical work or operations.

It was about three months ago I chanced to read an ad. of 'Fruit-a-tives' about a person being cured of Weeping Eczema by using this remedy and 'Sootha Salva'. I bought both and in about a week, noticed an improvement. I have now used two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and one of 'Sootha Salva' and am entirely free of Eczema. My flesh is clear and smooth and I am that gratified with the result that I cannot proclaim too loudly the merits of these remedies."

Wild Scenes of Thursday

Last Night

Ten Persons Injured, Two

Seriously—Many Trampled Upon—Cars Wrecked

ALBANY, N. Y., May 21.—Trolley service was resumed at the usual hour today after a night of disorders attended upon the trolley strike called nearly four months ago. Little pieces of broken glass from the windows of cars bombarded with missiles by the crowds that filled the streets downtown were the only visible reminders of the scenes of last night.

At least 10 persons were injured, two of them seriously, in the disorders. The wild scenes Thursday night in the heart of the business district were re-enacted after nightfall. Crowds congregated in the business section and attacked the cars, which since early in February have been operated by imported crews.

In the disorders last night, trolleys were again partly wrecked, some were destroyed by fire, and the crowds that threw by persons in the crowds shattered the windows of the cars, passengers were hit by missiles, some persons were trampled upon and struck when the police charged the crowds, and police officers themselves were targets for flying stones.

Revolvers were brought into play by some of the attacking parties, the police say. They reported that in Broadway shots were fired from the roofs of buildings. The police were forced to draw their revolvers to disperse the crowds. Near the state capitol, where last night's rioting began, later spreading to the business district, one policeman who was trying to disperse a crowd of about 600 men and boys who stoned a car, fired a shot and Garry Bohl was wounded in the leg.

Howard W. Slade, a passenger on a car stoned as it was approaching the state capitol, suffered a fractured skull.

The authorities attribute the disorders to their campaign to drive the motor buses, which have been competing with the street cars, from the thoroughfares.

MAYOR'S EFFORTS ARE APPRECIATED

Mayor Perry D. Thompson has received a very complimentary letter from Rev. William Devlin, S. J., president of Boston college, expressing the gratitude of that institution for the excellent record made by this city in the recent H. C. building fund drive here. The letter is as follows:

My Dear Mayor Thompson: I can hardly thank you in words for the part you have taken in the Lowell building fund drive. You have done for us in Lowell what I assure you that all of us at Boston college fully appreciate your efforts.

For this opportunity to thank you in my own name and in the name of every member of our faculty for your very generous co-operation.

Very gratefully yours,
WILLIAM DEVLIN, S. J.,
President of Boston college.

Lincoln Brothers' Circus

Lincoln Brothers' circus which will play here May 23, is conceded by veteran showmen to be one of the finest and best equipped circuses on the road today. Further, according to these reports, the show has as one of its outstanding features some of the most perfectly trained ponies and horses ever exhibited with any circus. There are handsome grayhorses, black and white spotted ponies, beautiful pure white Arabian ponies, perfectly matched and equally handsome cream colored ones. Trained bears, bucking mules that no one can ride and many other acts do not constitute the entire program by any means. Among the many daring feats performed by skilled athletes are those of the tight rope, horizontal bars, flying perch and the high swinging wire. Clowns, riders and jugglers of all kinds help to swell the circus program to one twice the length of the average circus performance.

A big grand tree street parade will be given at noon, moving over the principal streets to be followed by a big tree air exhibition on the show grounds two performances will be given at 2 p. m. and at 8 p. m. The doors will be thrown open an hour earlier in order to give all an opportunity of visiting the menagerie tent before the big show starts. A half hour concert will be rendered before each performance starts by the famous Lincoln show band and these two features, the concert and visit to the menagerie tent will be well worth while coming a half hour earlier to enjoy before the big show starts. Doors will be thrown open at 1 p. m. and again at 7 p. m.

burns about his body, while William H. Burke of House 11, was struck on the head by some bricks and has but slight chance for recovery. Ezekiel Moses, driver for Chief A. D. Butler, and Bert McGowan were also sent to the hospital with injuries to the head.

The blaze, which is believed to have been of incendiary origin, caused a short circuit when it started in the basement and this set the school bell to ringing. A man awakened by the noise telephoned to the fire department and the first bell alarm was followed by a general calling out all the apparatus in the city. A new wing to the building, erected in 1913, was damaged comparatively little, and this principally by water, but nothing was saved from the contents of the old structure, which included a library of more than 3000 volumes. This is the second school building burned in Portland within a few weeks.

friend died just before the wrath of the people manifested itself in a startling manner of revolt. The fate of this extraordinary character is quite as engrossing as her rise had been and her prayer for only one more moment of life when she was doomed comes as a most striking climax. The picture gives an inner glimpse into the court of Louis XV., king of France, and follows the history of that period with amazing detail.

Supporting the picture, "Passion" for the first three days of the week is a Charlie Chaplin feature "Easy Street" also a continuation of "The Son of Tarzan" and the Fox news.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday the Rialto is having a double feature bill including Mary Miles Minter in "All Souls' Eve" also "Wonderful Sea Story," "A Man There Was," by Henrik Ibsen and introducing Victor Sjöström in the leading role. There will also be an episode of "Fighting Fate," Larry Semon's comedy, "The Hick," and the Fox news.

It is a program equally good as the offering of the first three days and should attract a wide audience.

For the Sunday program the Rialto has Mary Miles Minter in a convincing story "The Pointing Finger," also an attractive story "Evangeline," together with four acts of high class vaudeville.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Sir James M. Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy" Big Feature For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

Lois Wilson in "That Something" and Eugene O'Brien in "Foot and His Money" will be the feature attractions at the Sunday concert at the Merrimack square theatre Sunday.

Both productions represent the best efforts of their respective stars and an excellent surrounding program has also been arranged.

The big features for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be "Sentimental Tommy," a lavish scene adaptation of the famous story by Sir James Barrie, and "Sacred and Profane Love" by William Somerset Maugham.

"Sentimental Tommy" has been produced by John S. Robertson for Paramount with a cast that embraces several of the best players of stage and screen. This picture is said to possess much heart interest and Barrie charm.

Garth Hughes, who is seen in the title role, is a young Welshman, who came to America in 1911 with an English company and has since displayed such marked talent that he is the country's leading juvenile actor.

As a leading juvenile of the country, he has been cast in one of the most important roles of his career in "Caliban," which was staged at the City College stadium, New York, for the Shakespeare Tercentenary celebration. He is now Metro and was loaned to Paramount.

May McAvoy, who plays Grizel, is a leading young actress of the screen having scored in "The Sign of the Cross" and "The Truth About Illusions." Mabel Taliaferro as "The Patient Lady" is a stage and screen star of wide reputation.

George Fawcett as Dr. McQueen, Kate Davenport, who is a ner relative of the Barrymores and Drews; Malcolm Brainerd, who for four years with E. H. Sothern, and Alfred Brainerd, one of the sterling lights of the stage.

"Sacred and Profane Love" the big forms the second feature of the first part of the week, doubtless will exercise a decided appeal to all players who have a love for strong drama. The excellent features "Sacred and Profane Love" is William Somerset Maugham's production adapted from the play and novel by Arnold Bennett and is one of the greatest stories of modern literature. Miss Ferguson has the star role and she is supported by Conrad Nagel, Thomas Holding and other prominent players. Miss Ferguson wears some of her most lavish gowns in this production.

A comedy and the International News will round out the bill. Next Monday evening, Lieut. Lott of the A.E.F. aero squadron will fly over Lowell and will drop 100 passes admitting the bearer to the Merrimack square theatre. Watch for him!

THE LOWELL SUN SATURDAY MAY 21 1921
BY STANLEY
SECY. WEEKS TALKS OF FORTS AND RESERVATIONS TO SUN WRITER
Some That Are Useless to Be Transferred to Other Departments or to Outside Organizations—Over Thirty in Massachusetts

(Special to The Sun)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—Widespread reports that have been sent out to the effect that Secretary of War Weeks had recommended the sale or abandonment of many forts and reservations of historic interest scattered throughout New England, are without foundation. To be sure, a few such government possessions will be listed as desirable to be transferred or sold, but no wholesale reduction will be made in the number now existing.

A talk with Secretary of War Weeks and also with the chairman of the sub-committee of the military committee having in charge the investigation of such possessions shows conclusively that the purpose is merely to reduce the expenses of the war department by doing away with such possessions as are of no present or prospective military value. The general plan is to retain all that are likely to be of value to the war department, but turn over to some other government activity, or outside organization, such as are no longer of value for military purposes. This covers the general plan but exceptions may be made when the cost of retaining such sites is slight and their historic value great.

The question of retaining or abandoning forts and military reservations does not rest alone in the hands of the secretary of war. He may recommend, but it is congress that authorizes action. Some time ago congress authorized the military committee of the house to have an inventory taken of all the military possessions in the United States. The 1st corps area is now completed and the committee will report at an early date. It is the purpose of that committee to recommend the retention of all such possessions as have present or future military value, and it is their purpose to advise the transfer to other branches of the government such as are desirable for government uses, or to sell such possessions to outside or educational associations. Already the public health service has taken over three such posts in the west, and many are now being used for vocational training in connection with their original purposes. The war department does not want the expense, or to be charged with the care of useless materials. It is quite probable patriotic societies or towns and cities can obtain historic sites or buildings, when they are to be disposed of, by the war department is in full sympathy with the preservation of such sites, but wants to rid itself of the burden of considering them a part of the military defense of the country.

Secretary Weeks Talks to Sun
In an interview today with The Sun correspondent, Secretary of War John W. Weeks of Massachusetts said: "I am in entire sympathy with the idea of preserving valuable historic sites, but I do not believe they should be retained by the war department as part of the system of defense." In a number of instances the D.A.R.'s have secured sites that were to be sold or transferred and down in Maine one old reservation is not being utilized to advantage as a school for farming.

Forts and Reservations
Of the forts and reservations in Massachusetts only a very small number are likely to come under abandonment.

HONOR MADAME CURIE

Pres. Harding Pays Tribute
to Scientist and Presents
Gram of Radium

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A gram of radium, purchased by the contributions of thousands of American women, was presented by President Harding late yesterday afternoon to Mme. Curie, the prominent Polish scientist, as a token of the nation's appreciation of her accomplishments and as an earnest expression of American interest in the advancement of science and humanitarianism.

At the same time the president expressed a fervent hope that the scientific principle of radio activity established by Mme. Curie in the research work which led to her discovery of radium, might be found to dominate also the relations of mankind in the present world crisis, so that the yearnings and aspirations of the many may radiate a new spirit of service to the souls of chosen leaders.

Formal presentation of the gift to Mme. Curie, who came to this country expressly to receive it, was made at the White House at a ceremony attended by government officials and by a committee of those responsible for raising the purchase fund of $100,000. The radium will be used to continue research work for prevention of disease.

President Harding paid tribute to the personal attainments of the distinguished visitor, to the spirit of womanhood typified by her, and to the national traditions which he behind her native Poland and her adopted country, the French republic. He asked that she accept the gift, not only as a personal tribute, but as betokening the affection of one great people for another.

The president's address follows: "On behalf of the American nation, I greet and welcome you to our country, in which you will everywhere find the most cordial possible reception. We welcome you as an adopted daughter of France, our earliest supporter among the great nations. We greet you as a native born daughter of Poland, newest, as it is also among the oldest, of the great nations, and always bound by ties of closest sympathy to our own republic. In you we see the representative of Poland restored and reinstated to its rightful place, of France valiantly maintained in the high estate which has ever been its right."

"We greet you as foremost among scientists in the age of science, as leader among women in the generation which sees woman come tardily into her own. We greet you as an exemplar of liberty's victories in the generation wherein liberty has won her crown of glory. In doing honor to you we testify anew to our pride in the ancient friendships which have bound us to both the country of your adoption and that of your nativity. "It has been your fortune, Mme. Curie, to accomplish an immortal work for humanity. We bring to you the mood of honor which is due to pre-eminence in science, scholarship, research and humanitarianism. With it all we bring something more. We lay at your feet the testimony of that love which all the generations of men have been wont to bestow upon the noble woman, the unselfish wife, the devoted mother. If, indeed, these simpler and commoner relations of life could not keep you from great attainments in the realms of science and intellect, it is also true that the zeal, ambition and unswerving purpose of a lofty career could not bar you from splendidly doing all the plain but worthy tasks which fall to every woman's lot."

"A number of years ago a reader of one of your early works on radio-active substance noted the observation that there was much divergence of opinion as to whether the energy of radio-active substances is created within these substances themselves or is gathered to them from outside sources and then diffused from them. The question suggested an answer which I had liked to believe in an analogy between the spiritual and the physical world. I have been very sure that which I may call the radio-active soul, or spirit, or intellect—call it what you choose—must first gather to itself from its surroundings, the power that it afterwards radiates. In beneficence to the world, I believe it the sum of many inspirations, born in on great souls which enables them to warm, to stimulate, to radiate, to illumine and serve those about them. "Let me press the analogy a little farther. The world today is appealing to its scientists, its sociologists, its humanitarians and its religious leaders for solution of pressing problems. I want to hope that the power and universality of that appeal will inspire strong, devout, consecrated men and women to seek out the solution and, in the light of their wisdom, to carry it to all mankind. I have faith to believe that precisely that will happen, and in your own career of fine achievement, I find heartening justification for my faith. "In testimony of the affection of the American people, of their confidence in your scientific work and of their earnest wish that your genius and energy may receive all encouragement to carry forward your efforts for the advance of science and conquest of disease, I have been commissioned to present to you this little phial of radium. To you we owe our knowledge and possession of it, and so to you we give it, confident that in your possession it will be the means further to unveil the fascinating secrets of nature, to widen the field of useful knowledge, to alleviate suffering among the children of men. It betokens the affection of one great people for another."

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN MEET NEW CHAIRMAN

Arthur Lyman, the new chairman of the democratic state committee, was introduced to the members of the women's wing of the committee at a meeting in the Parker house, Boston, this afternoon. Arrangements for the meeting were made by Miss Gertrude F. Hayes, state organizer and first vice chairman of the committee. The program arranged for the afternoon included an address on "Early Organization" by Mrs. Halsey Wilson of New York, and speeches by Mayor Edward W. Quinn of Cambridge, member of the democratic national committee; Mrs. J. Malcolm Forbes, member of the state committee, and Mrs. Susan W. Fitzgerald, former chairman of the woman's division of the state committee.

WOMEN'S RELIEF CORPS

There was a large attendance at the last regular meeting of B. V. Butler Women's Relief Corps, 15, which was held in Memorial hall, Mrs. Alice Welch, president, occupied the chair and routine business was transacted. Two applications for membership were received and two new members were initiated. The organization voted to decorate the graves of departed members in the various local cemeteries on Saturday afternoon preceding Memorial day and several members have volunteered to do the work. Joseph Denio entertained with a song of his own composition, "The Soldier Boys Are Leaving Town" and he was highly appreciated. Plans for the dinner on Memorial day at which the members of Post 42 will be entertained, were completed and a large turnout of veterans is expected.

Explains High Cost of R. R. Operation

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Elimination of piecework during government control and the imposition of labor union rules "requiring two men to do what one man did before" are chief factors in the increased cost of railroad operations, A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central, testified today before a senate investigating committee.

To Bar Publication of Slacker Lists

WASHINGTON, May 20.—A bill directing the war department to suspend publication of slacker lists pending further investigation as to their correctness was introduced today by Senator Stanley, democrat, Kentucky.

BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DISPATCHES

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Ambassador Harvey's participation in the question brought before the supreme council will be confined to those in which the United States is involved, and on the Silesian problem he will act only as an observer, it was authoritatively declared again today by administration officials.

the shipping board's passenger steamship, Panhandle State, which was beached last night to prevent destruction by fire, was mainly confined to the engine and boiler room, fire department officials said today. An investigation as to the cause of fire was begun today.

NEW YORK, May 20.—The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co. today deferred action on the regular semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent, due at this time. It was stated the postponement was due to unsettled conditions.

BOSTON, May 20.—The house of representatives adjourned after a brief session today as a mark of respect for the late Chief Justice White. An order expressing the sorrow of the body for his death was adopted by a rising vote.

WATERBURY, Conn., May 20.—The will of Amelia C. Benedict, disposing of an estate valued at $400,000 was admitted to probate here today. The bequests included $10,000 to Smith college.

NEW LONDON, Conn., May 20.—Submersibles stationed at the United States submarine base here, have established new records in target practice, it was learned today, surpassing all records made during 1920. Three-inch naval guns are being used on the "R" type boats, said to be the first American submarines to carry deck guns.

Murder Charge Against Girl Dropped

FARMINGTON, Mo., May 20.—A first degree murder charge against Mrs. John Parsons, 13 years old, in connection with the death of her six-year-old step-daughter, Lilly, was dismissed by the court today. A charge of fourth degree manslaughter immediately was filed against the child wife. The court explained he dismissed the charge because of the girl's juvenility. The date for the trial on the manslaughter charge has not been set. Mrs. Parsons previously had said the shooting was accidental. John Parsons, 10, the slain girl's brother, testified at the inquest that his stepmother shot the girl when she objected to having her hair combed.

RICH WOMAN POSED AS MAID

Wife of Chicago Millionaire Charged With Robbing Half a Dozen Homes

Police Estimate Value of Articles Said to Have Been Stolen at $20,000

CHICAGO, May 21.—Mrs. Joseph S. Heil, wife of a millionaire banker and investment broker, was under arrest today, charged with robbing half a dozen homes where she had obtained employment as a maid. A large number of articles found in her home were identified, the police said, by families who had been robbed. They ranged from gilded canary cages to silverware, lamps, jewelry and chinaware. The police said Mrs. Heil expressed little surprise when they came to arrest her at her home.

The license number of an automobile in which a large quantity of goods was carried away from the home of M. Miller by their newly employed "maid" a few days ago, was traced to Mrs. Heil. Police estimated the value of articles she was alleged to have stolen at $20,000.

Mrs. Heil is 35 years old and the mother of four children. Accompanying her to the police station, her husband said he could not understand his wife's peculiar actions and had accepted her explanations that she bought the furniture and other articles from auction sales. He said she had a personal spending allowance of $300 a month and often received additional sums.

Police declared that pawn tickets showed she had disposed of some of the articles she is charged with taking. The setting of a ring which had contained a $1500 diamond was identified by one woman who had employed her as maid. Four women identified her as the maid they had employed. To each one she had given a different name and high class references.

WILD RUNAWAY BUT NO DAMAGE DONE

What might be called a record was established this morning by a horse owned by Samuel Rostler, proprietor of Rostler's market in Branch street, when the animal after running away, covered a distance of nearly a mile without doing any damage.

The horse, hitched to a delivery

have been placed in stores and other places, it is stated. Other petitions that have been placed with the labor unions are still being signed and no estimate is made of the number of signatures that have been obtained. The number of signatures required to force the measure before the municipal council, and possibly before the voters, is slightly less than 3000. Members of the committee state that they are confident that they will have 5000 names ready for presentation to the city clerk as required by law, by the last of next week.

Representatives of the former employees of the Gas Light company, who are now striking against a proposed change in a working agreement made with them by the company, said today that they had received an intimation over a month ago that their employer intended to force an open shop on the men who were 100 per cent. unionized. They claimed that the statement of C. P. Prichard, superintendent of the plant, yesterday that it is the intention of the company in the future to run an open shop bears out their contention.

Members of the strikers' committee today asserted that the company had jumped the price of gas from $1.30 per thousand cubic feet to $1.70 since the scale of wages paid previous to the strike was established.

In a statement the men appealed to citizens to get behind them in their move for a municipal gas plant as the only practical method of bringing down the price of gas. The claim is made that the cost of making gas has very largely decreased as a result of a reduction in the price of practically all of the commodities used in its production. The men quote from a statement from the Consolidated Gas company of New York, announcing a reduction from $1.50 to $1.25 in the price of their product, that it is now possible to purchase the crude oil used by gas companies for six cents instead of over 12 cents a gallon.

A wagon, was standing in front of the store in Branch street at about 5 o'clock, when a little boy struck it across the legs with a whip. The horse started at breakneck speed through the street and continued its wild race through Middlesex street and across Central street into Green street, dodging around electric cars and other vehicles.

The frightened horse was finally brought to a stop when the rig collided with an automobile truck. No damage was caused, however, and on one was injured, although on many occasions in the course of its wild run the animal narrowly escaped striking pedestrians.

Haverhill Building Workers Accept Cut

HAVERHILL, May 21.—A wage scale calling for a 10 per cent. reduction was agreed to today by the carpenters, electricians, painters and sheet metal workers after several weeks of negotiations with the masters, who sought a 20 per cent. cut. The old scale was $1 an hour. The new wage is effective at once. The $1 an hour scale for plumbers and fitters will continue until July 1. The bricklayers, stone masons, plasterers, cement finishers and hod carriers will continue wage conferences with the contractors and, if unable to agree, will submit the question to a local arbitration board.

Believe One Killed In Battle On Ship

PORTLAND, Me., May 21.—James Walker, 45, colored, and member of the crew of the schooner Mary W. Barrett, is missing and is believed to have been killed and thrown overboard when a gang of more than a dozen white men descended upon the craft early today and attacked five negro sailors after they had been driven from their bunks to the deck at the point of a revolver. A desperate fight took place on deck and the negroes were badly beaten up while one of them barely saved himself from being buried into the schooner's hold. When the encounter was over, Walker could not be found, and as soon as the schooner had discharged more of her cargo of coal, she will be moved away from the wharf to permit search for the man's body by the officials.

Many Interested Spectators View Knockout High School Drill on the South Common

The annual elimination or "knock-out" drill of the boys' regiment of the Lowell high school which took place on the South common yesterday afternoon gave a large number of interested spectators an insight into the exercises which will form part of the high school field day program at Spaulding park next Friday afternoon.

The elimination drill was held under a blazing sun and the various maneuvers which the young soldiers were called upon to go through brought perspiration to many a brow, but not a man gave up or showed any signs of quitting until his part of the program was finished.

The six companies of the regiment each went through a required program of movements under the discerning eyes of three officers from Camp Devens who acted in the role of judges. When the competition had ended it was found that three best drilled companies were: Co. A, Capt. Ernest Anderson; Co. B, Capt. William Shea and Co. P, Capt. Allen McKenney.

Supervising the drill were Major Colby T. Kittredge, military instructor at the high school, and James P. Conway, faculty director of the regiment.

The individual prize drill elimination brought out a large squad of contestants and the following members of the regiment were finally selected to take part in the final competition on field day:

Sergeant Foster Browning, Corp. Norman Macculum, Sergeant Robert Hall, Sergeant Ernest Craig, Sergeant Bourman Bryant, Sergeant Ralph Jenkins, Corp. Arthur Pats, Sergeant Daniel Hanson, Corp. Donald Payne, Sergeant Maj. James Russ, Corp. George Garvey, Corp. Clinton Howe, Sergeant Joseph Busby, Corp. James Mansour, Corp. Arthur McKenney.

Next Monday further preparations for field day will be held. Freshmen boys will report at the South common at 8 o'clock and members of the regiment at 8:15. Freshman girls will report in the main hall at 8 and the girls in the first and second battalions will report in the annex at 8:30.

A. W. DOWS & CO., DRUG STORE, 236 MERRIMACK ST.

CORNER OF SHATTUCK ST., LOWELL, MASS., THURSDAY, MAY 26, 1921, COMMENCING AT 10 A. M.

A. W. Dows & Co., having been leased out of this store, formerly the Carleton & Hovey Drug store, purchased by A. W. Dows & Co., and conducted as a branch store for the past few years, and it being necessary to vacate June 1, I have been instructed to sell at public auction, without limit, all the store fixtures, consisting in part, of the following:

A very attractive soda fountain made by the Symonds & Poor Co. paragon style, that cost over $5000. The fountain has marble front, is 20 feet long, has the latest style syrup and fruit containers, wash trays, cooling tanks—all nickel plated; the back of fountain has large plate-glass mirror, having enclosed, curved glass cabinets full height on each side, which stand on a marble base and have ample closets. This soda fountain is of the latest design and will appeal to anyone wanting a first-class, up-to-the-minute fountain. It is as good as new.

Hot soda urn with all fittings, (new); one five-foot silent salesman cigar showcase; 2 7-ft. 3 in. silent salesman candy showcases; 3 5-ft. 7 in. silent salesman showcases for toilet articles; 1 9-ft. silent salesman display showcase; 1 6-ft. silent salesman counter showcase; 1 wall case 30 ft. long with glass front and having 114 drawers and 16 closets; 1 wall case which is 7 ft. long and has 3 glass doors and 18 drawers; 1 wall case 21 ft. long with clear case and 11 closets; 1 wall case 9 ft. long which has 9 doors and 5 closets; 1 wall case 8 ft. long with shelving and 5 closets; 1 National Cash Register that registers to $9.99; 1 National Combination Cash Register for soda fountain and cigar counters; 1 register counter scales; candy scales; clock; paper holders; medium-sized combination safe; 4-drawer card index case; 5 ft. sponge case; 9 ft. prescription counter; 50 drawer cabinet with 24 in. drawers; American carbonator with electric motor attached; ceiling electric fans; 5 ft. roll top desk, electric fixtures; ice crushing machine; ice chest; 2 electric signs, and other fixtures necessary to conduct a store of this kind.

When A. W. Dows & Co. look over this drug store, no expense was spared to make it a very attractive store, and the fixtures are of the best, and as good as new. It will be to your advantage to attend this sale, as everything will be sold to the highest bidder, for cash.

Per order, A. W. DOWS & CO.

The First Vital Organs That Food Touches

are teeth. If food isn't thoroughly ground by these important organs, your stomach will be required to do more than its natural function, and what follows but stomach troubles.

Nature built your teeth of the most durable material and all your duty is to keep them free from fermenting particles of food, which is the first stage of decay.

One reason my operations create a pleasure as permanent as real teeth—patients easily see the good results that follow when teeth are restored properly.
